Chennai Corporation develops trial model for drains to let rain water flow into Chitrakulam

By Our Staff Reporter

To let rainwater collected from storm water drain (SWD) to flow into temple tank or other water storage areas, Chennai Corporation is planning to develop an efficient SWD system.

On a trial basis, a part of this SWD network has been built on Mosque Street near Chitrakulam zone.

The civic body has used German technology for this project.

The model involves a grass bed, and two layers of pebbles (big and small), to filter the flowing water.

Says Vivekanandan, AE of ward 124, "Beneath the pebbles, a pipe has been laid connecting this SWD facility at Mosque Street to the Chitrakulam tank. Many local streets including Kesavaperumal West Street, Mandaveli Lane, Nallappan Street, Chitrakulam West Street and Kesava Perumal South Street are connected to the network."

So whenever it rains, he says, the excess run-off water from these streets will be led to Chitrakulam tank. Based on the success of this model, Chennai Corporation is set to replicate the same in other parts of the city.

COMMUNITY

CELEBRATING WOMEN

1. CSI St. Thomas English Church in San Thome had an all-women team of organists to provide music for last Sunday's service.

The team was led by Anila Manoharan (the church organist, seated second from right in the photo), playing the 152-year-old pipe organ during Matins – the morning worship service.

Recently restored, this single manual Thomas Robson pipe organ, dated 1868, is the second oldest in Chennai city.

- Report by Fabiola Jacob

2. A free kolam and mehndi workshop was organised for the women of R. A. Puram last weekend at the Corporation Park at 7th Main Road, R. A. Puram. This was a R. A. Puram Residents Association (RAPRA) event. The session was conducted by a resident, Lalitha Ramesh and kolam exponent Dr. Gayathri Sankaranarayanan was present too. The two hour workshop will continue this weekend. It will be held on Saturday (March 14) from 1 to 3 p.m. To register contact 9841030040.

3. Two dozen women, some teens, some home makers and some professionals were at the Boufuuukai Isshinryu Karate School in Mandaveli on March 7 to master a few skills that may come in handy if they were teased on the road or attacked on a badly-lit street. Skills of simple self-defence.

The participants spent about an hour learning the basics. Regular karate classes for men and women are held at this place which is headed by Shihan A. R. Sundar.

At 26, R. K. Mutt Road, Mandaveli (above Canara Bank). Call 9840018628.

4. NAC Jewellers, a leading jewellery retailer headquartered in Mylapore celebrated Women's Day on March 7 and 8 at its premises on North Mada Street.

On March 7, NAC organised a self-defence workshop for its women employees – they were taught basic steps. On March 8, the store organised a women's safety awareness programme in which Mylapore police station based sub-inspector Manikaselvi and head constable Sasi Rekha participated. They briefed the staff about safety measures that are available for women in the Kavalan App.

All the 40 women employees downloaded the App during the event. This App alerts local police to dangers or attempts to commit a crime as soon as its user activates it.

5. At Ragamalika Apartments at Mandaveli, all the women got together on Sunday last to celebrate women and a senior's 60th birthday. Lalitha was overwhelmed when a cake was cut for her. Later, games were arranged for the women. For the seniors there, the experience was nostalgic. For many of them it was a trip down memory lane.

6. For the women of Rani Meyammai Towers at M. R. C. Nagar, last Sunday morning started with a walkathon. In the afternoon, talks were held on skin care and women's health. Later, a fun and dance fusion workout session was organised.

The day ended with children hosting a food bazaar with healthy treats that the women could indulge in. The proceeds from the sale were donated to Maha Meru Old Age Home.

Free WiFi launched inside Nageswara Rao Park, Luz

By Our Staff Reporter

Now, you can access WiFi free inside Nageswara Rao Park in Luz.

This facility was launched last week by Chennai Corporation in association with ACT Fibernet, the service provider as part of the Smart City Project.

Commissioner of the civic body, G. Prakash, Mylapore MLA, R. Nataraj and ACT officials were present at this launch.

The project envisages providing many WiFi hot spots in prominent public spaces across the city. You can log in via ACT on your smartphone and access data, download files and communicate. ACT says some 250 users can log in in one spot at 20Mbps speed for 45 minutes. Existing ACT users can also make use of the facility. ACT is headquartered in Bengaluru and its local office is at TVH Belicia Towers ( Tower 1) in MRC Nagar.

Corona virus: surgical masks are in demand

By Our Staff Reporter

Following the outbreak of Corona virus in India, local medical shop owners in Mylapore say surgical face masks are in demand.

Said Jayanthi, a medical shop owner at Mandaveli, "People started buying the two-ply face masks (green coloured surgical masks) soon after the virus began spreading in China. The demand increased after it broke out in India."

She said demand is mostly from people visiting foreign countries.

"We are out of stock now. Even the supply is scarce," she said. Three medical shop owners in South Mada Street, Mylapore said the surgical masks were out of stock at their shops last week. They confirmed that the demand has been high.

The Apollo Pharmacy here sells the N-95 masks, used for protection against the virus.

A staff here said that all N95 masks they had stocked had sold out.

India reported its first Corona virus case at Kerala in February, this year. Currently, it has been reported at many places, including Kerala, Delhi, Agra, Telangana and Jaipur.

Corona virus: local churches issue guidelines

By Our Staff Reporter

Churches under the Madras-Mylapore Catholic diocese have been given some guidelines to follow in the wake of the spread of the corona virus.

This follows similar guidelines issued elsewhere in India's churches like in Mumbai.

At Sunday Mass, at San Thome Cathedral the priest asked people not to hold each others' hands when the prayer and sign of peace was said but to merely acknowledge it with folded hands.

Elsewhere, priests are requesting the faithful to receive Holy Communion on their tongues and not accept it in their hands and then consume it and for holy water fonts in churches to be kept dry instead of filling it daily because its use by church-goers can lead to infection if used by virus-affected people.

The Muslim community, mostly women have been staging a sit-in protest near Jumma Masjid on Kutchery Road, protesting against the CAA and NRC. It began last Friday.

Calling it 'Chennai Mylai Shaheen Bagh', the protesters shout slogans, hold up placards and listen to leaders address them. Said a woman who was protesting here, "This is an indefinite protest. We will stop only when the Tamil Nadu Government passes a resolution against the CAA, NRC and NPR and takes a stand for us."

Mylapore police have been deployed at the protest site.

Electric golf carts to ferry people on mada streets to Sri Kapali Temple

The facility is donated by Sundaram Finance

By Our Staff Reporter

Now, senior Mylaporeans can hop on to an electric golf cart on the Mada Streets and get dropped at the eastern gate of Sri Kapali Temple.

This service, launched on March 12 is funded by Chennai headquartered non-banking finance company, Sundaram Finance which donated two battery-operated golf carts to the temple.

The two vehicles cost over Rs. 12 lakhs. T. T. Srinivasaraghavan, MD, Sundaram Finance presented the two vehicles to HR & CE state minister Sevvoor S. Ramachandran at an event held in front of the Sri Kapali Temple in the presence of Mylapore MLA, R Nataraj.

The six-seater vehicle will operate outside the temple on the four Mada Streets. The two cars will pick up people headed to the temple from the Mada Streets and drop them at the eastern raja gopuram.

The vehicles will also pick up devotees from the gopuram and drop them back at appropriate points on the Mada Streets.

The two battery cars will run between 630am and 12.30pm and in the evening from 4pm to 9pm. The battery will be charged between 12.30pm and 4pm when the temple is closed for darshan. Srinivasaraghavan said, "These vehicles will enable devotees, particularly the elderly and physically challenged to easily access this famous temple."

DISCUSS: Should Mada Streets be made more pedestrian-friendly? Must they be 'Walk Only' zones for a few hours daily? Is the 'One Way' system in force now really working?

A PLAYSCHOOL CELEBRATES ITS SILVER JUBILEE

The Nest has been Uma Narayanan's dream

Uma Narayanan was overjoyed at receiving some guests at the silver jubilee of a play school she runs in CIT Colony, which was celebrated on February 29.

There were men and women in that gathering who had studied here when they were toddlers, moved up in life, married, had children and admitted their children in the very play school they had been to.

These memories are what made the jubilee of The Nest Playschool so special and warm. And made this a special day for Uma, the founder.

Uma's family came to live in this colony in the late 1960s.

expose the toddlers to the play and learn method.

"We don't ask our children to start reading and writing from day one," she says. And so, some mod-day young parents who are keen to get

Uma Narayanan

She loves children, she loved teaching and so Uma went on to teach at Bambino, one of the best such schools in this part of the city. "I found my calling there," she recalls.

Uma worked at Bambino for some 17 years and then charted her own destiny. Nest Playschool was born in the outer yard of the CIT Colony residence in 1995.

There were seven admissions and these grew to 50. Uma stuck to what she had experienced as a teacher - their wards on the education highway do raise their eyebrows at Uma's philosophy. "But when we explain the goals, these parents understand and appreciate," she says.

She also encourages the children to play with clay models, beads and stuff. "That is for better eye-hand co-ordination," she says. "All this prepares them for Kindergarten and junior school." Uma hopes admissions could get better. But she is aware that Nest competes with many others around her. With her are three staffers and three assistants.

At the jubilee event, there were three special guests - Shoba Raman, principal, Vidya Mandir, educationist Meena Muthiah and Devila J. Patel, founder of Bambino School.

Uma also released a CD of songs in English and Thamizh for toddlers; written by her and arranged by M. S. Martin.

The Nest is at No.3, 2nd Main Road, CIT Colony, Mylapore. Phone: 24660466.

Jottings

VINCENT D'SOUZA

"I would have been dead 8 years ago but my doctor saved me."

Ezhumalai was taking me home one recent evening. I waved him down in Alwarpet, he was on his way home in Mylapore. But he was willing to take me.

"I got jaundice. I was really sick. I used to drink, drink hard. After that I stopped."

Ezhumalai was born in one of Mylapore's very congested colonies of some 7 blocks of tiny apartments built by the Slum Clearance Board some 30-odd years ago.

"Appa told me I was just 15 days old when a fire ravaged our colony of thatched huts. All was gone but families hung around till the blocks were built."

The area is called Lala Thottam, located opposite the once-famous Kamadhenu Theatre and spread over lands that abut today's Thiru Maiyilai MRTS rail station.

Some 1000 families reside in these blocks, an area where once petty criminals grew up to become goons who knifed people and robbed passersby.

"Those dark days are long past," Ezhumalai tells me. "Almost half the original residents sold off and moved to the suburbs."

But one huge problem stalks this community. Alcoholism.

Not long ago, the men here could access four TASMAL state-run liquor shops that dot the border of the colony. Lawlessness and steady deaths due to alcoholism brought the womenfolk to the streets - to protest.

The local MLA, R. Nataraj, a former Dir-General of Police and AIADMK member has been sympathetic to their cries. His sustained petitions and protests by some local political units led to the closure of two liquor shops.

"They must shut down the other two too," Ezhumalai tells me.

"In my lifetime I must have seen at least one hundred men die of jaundice. They drink and drink, fall ill, rest and go back to drinking again. There are so many widows in our colony."

The state's revenues from sale of liquor is over Rs.25,000 crores. Much of this is made from sale at TASMAL shops.

You need to stand outside the counter of one to observe the brands and types of liquor that is bought. And if you examine each sample closely you aren't sure that all this is indeed the kind of liquor that must be offered on sale. It amazes me that hardly any scientific lab study has been done on the 'cheap' liquors on sale and these results put out in the public domain. Why isn't even a private body which is in the citizens activism space undertaking this?

Ask somebody who works closely in slums and colonies of the poor on the histories of widows. Widows who are 35 and 40. Many of them will tell you they lost their men to alcohol. Cold truths that come up when these women apply for state-given monetary handout.

Vadu maanga season is here!

With the summer season just starting, there are so many concerns and challenges we face and are going to tackle on a daily basis. Be it water availability, or the scorching heat waves.

But one thing that makes my mouth go watery always is the vadu maangai that is usually savoured with curd rice or even sometimes with sambhar rice. The hawkers in the mada streets in Mylapore have already begun selling these in a variety of sizes. It sure is a treat to the eyes, nose and mouth. Wishing you all a happy maavadu season.

Automobiles dumped in C. I. T. Colony

A damaged van is seen lying in 2nd Link Street, C.I.T. Colony, Mylapore, since the last 6 months. Someone we do not know parked this van and vanished. Used liquor bottles and garbage is seen lying under this van.

Also, an old ambulance is seen abandoned at the entrance of 2nd Link Street for quite some time. Some people are seen consuming liquor behind the van.

We request civic officials of our area to arrange to remove these automobiles.

Dress code in temples

I just got back from a tour of Trincomalee in Sri Lanka. There, to enter the lord Shiva temple inside the fort, men must wear a veshti and women of certain age are not allowed to enter.

Veshti is provided for visitors who come without it. All people follow the dress code without any murmur.

Hope visitors to temples in Tamil Nadu follow dress code without questioning it.

- R. Chandrasekaran, Mandaveli

WiFi at park

Providing WiFi at Nageswara Rao Park is a useful service but we hope young people do not sit here, download movies and watch them in groups for hours on end.

- Rashmi S., Alwarpet

Film shoots at playgrounds

Refer the report on film shooting at midnight at a Corporation ground on St. Mary's Road. I think the civic body charges crews for renting a playground for shooting. One must check if permission was given. Also, was the power supply got from their own generator set and not from the junction box of TANGEDCO.

First Aid team on Marina did not respond

The nurses/ attendants at the First Aid kiosk located off the Marina service road refused to step outside and help a man who had had an epileptic attack last Sunday morning. They said that the affected person should be brought to the kiosk and they could not come out to help. This is a shame.

- Arthi Ramesh

Luz social history

Refer the Jottings column in last week's issue of Mylapore Times. It will be of interest to know how Kennedy Street/s got this name.

I have seen a visual of the area around Our Lady of Light Church showing a pool of water outside the church, a giant cross mounted on a base near the gate and many trees all around the church. There must have been many water bodies of varying sizes in Luz decades ago.

NGO opens store on East Mada Street

By Dheepthi O. J.

Quirky handicrafts, home decorations, handmade soaps and agarbattis are some of the key products on sale at this new store in Mylapore.

A unit of NGO Sevalaya, SevaMart, recently opened at East Mada Street, Mylapore. Now this store is different. Here is the back story.

For the past 32 years, the NGO now headquartered in Mylapore has been supporting the underprivileged youth, senior citizens, and school dropouts through free education, shelter and employment opportunities.

Now, to expand its services and provide better facilities for their inmates, the NGO is selling products made by this community at the Mylapore store. Spread across 1600 sq. ft., the store also sells cloth bags, bakery items and organic vegetables and greens.

Says V. Muralidharan, founder and managing trustee of Sevalaya, "We provide vocational training to underprivileged youth in tailoring, baking and organic farming, so they can produce these items."

The proceeds from the sale at the store will be used for the NGO's charitable activities. Sevalaya has also collaborated with traditional artisans from Pondicherry and Kanchipuram to sell handicrafts. Says R. Ganesh, associate vice-president of Sevalaya, "We procure the handi craft's base products from traditional artisans. Later the youth at our community college paint and design them.

These are sold at the Mylapore store. This way, we are also able to provide an employment opportunity for these artisans."

You cannot miss the innovative mud pots decorated with intricate mehendi patterns on the display stands here. The store also sells rosewood paintings, kolu dolls, Tiruppur cotton T-shirts. Price of shirts start from Rs.250.

Organic veggies and greens will be available for sale on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Sevalaya's city office is at P. S. Sivaswamy Salai, Mylapore. SevaMart store is at 15/11, East Mada Street. Ph: 7299564411/ 9094766806. Timings :10 a.m. to 9 p.m. On all days.

For doklas, fafdas and khakras. check Ajnabi Mithaai at its Alwarpet address

By Our Staff Reporter

Gujarat's popular doklas, fafdas and khakras are now available at a store on C. P. Ramaswamy Road, Alwarpet.

Ajnabi Mithaai, known for its authentic Gujarati sweets and snacks has recently shifted its shop from T.T.K Road to C. P. Ramaswamy Road, Alwarpet.

It is located in the building that houses Eating Circles restaurant.

Hailing from Gujarat, Jayanthilal Narayanji first opened the shop at Chennai's Sowcarpet in the year 1961.

His son Promise Kumar Vasrani now manages the shop along with his family.

Says Kruthik P. Vasrani, the grand-son of Jayanthilal, "Our savouries like the mixture varieties are very popular.

We have over 100 varieties of snacks – ghatias (butter, masala, bhavanagiri), mixtures (sweet and spicy), khakras (pudina, punjabi, cheese, and whole wheat.)"

The store also has a live cooking counter for stuffed parathas (aloo, gobi) and chaats. Another specialty of Ajnabi Mittai is the special chutney they provide for chaats.

While Kruthik wants to keep the chutney's recipe a secret, he says they follow the recipe of his grandmother Mrudula." All three chutneys – sweet, garlic and spicy – are made under her supervision."

At C. P. Ramaswamy Road. Ph : 95000 28888. Open from 7.30 a.m. to 10.30 p.m.

The gods and goddesses of dozens of temples in this part of the city including those in Mylapore were brought in a procession to the Marina seashore to mark Masi Magam on March 9 morning. The rituals included a symbolic dip of the palanquins that carried the gods in the sea. Hundreds of people who were here for this occasion also had a dip in the sea, a symbolic act to wash away one's sins.
