Ecumenical Palm Sunday

By Our Edit Team

Members of St Thomas Cathedral Basilica, St. Thomas CSI Tamil Church and St. Thomas CSI English Church, took part in the annual ecumenical Palm Sunday procession held last Sunday morning (April 13).

This service is held in connection with the Lenten season observed in churches.

The communities met at the campus of St. Raphael's Girls Hr. Sec. School off Kutchery Road. The priests of the three churches which are all located off San Thome High Road, were present. Palms were blessed and distributed.

The priests then led the community in a procession from the school campus. The people walked towards San Thome High Road and then headed to their own churches for the Palm Sunday services.

This procession symbolically marks events in the life of Jesus before the days leading to his condemnation and death. It is also the start of Holy Week in the church calendar which ends with Easter this Sunday.

VINCENT'S JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

It is that time of the year when I launch our Journalism Training programme for neighbourhood teens. The Mylapore Times newspaper has hosted it for over 25 years now and its contours have changed.

With each school education Board having its own examinations and study schedule, hosting a proper 'Basics of Journalism & Writing' camp at our office has been frustrating; so I dropped the plan earlier this year and wanted to sit back and dig into mangoes and jackfruit.

Then came a call from a teen and I revived the programme; hosting it online and over phone, one-on-one, for just 10 days.

The first of the eight who have signed up checked in one recent morning, saying it was an auspicious day!

My focus is sharing tips on the basics. Basics which serve everybody well in any academic and professional path.

We started with 'Mapping The Neighbourhood' exercise that morning. And I assigned the young girl from a Mylapore school a soft assignment - New Year celebrations at homes in her backyard.

It will get challenging ahead - tag the local MLA and observe what he does day in and day out, jump into the police inspector's jeep on Kutchery Road and chat with him as he does the local rounds, walk with the Urbaser Sumeet staff as they clean our streets and understand their lives and write on the patterns of urban waste and behaviour . . . and yes, do take a close look at the jackfruits from Panruti sold in the hawker markets of Mylapore and Mandaveli!

Knowing your neighbourhood has to be one of the subjects that schools must include as part of even an extra-curricular calendar.

Our backyards are 'live labs' where the old and the modern co-exists, where real life of all kinds can be felt, observed and recorded.

Walking in public spaces, recording sights, sounds and words, observing and interviewing people, negotiating tough and trying circumstances . . . are some of the essential and key skills that young people need to learn. I believe journalism offers all this and much more.

There are times when I imagine a scenario where a dozen young people of Mylapore, who study in schools and colleges, take time out and record neighbourhood events and life. Be it on and off the Marina, in the narrow lanes of Mandavelipakkam or inside Pallakumaniyam nagar.

These stories and pictures would present different facets of life which often go unrecorded, un-reported. Like this story that one of our passionate readers shared - of a family of girls who took over the idiyappam business that was managed by their father who passed away. Girls who balance this food business as well as studies.

New gyms in park need trainer, regulations

The new gymnasium at Nageswara Rao Park with its equipment and décor is a valuable addition to the neighbourhood. However, curious children often enter the gym and are seen handling heavy weights and operating machines without supervision, risking injury. The rubber flooring also requires careful maintenance to avoid damage, and clear footwear guidelines are needed. A full-time gym supervisor is essential to ensure proper upkeep and safe equipment use. GCC has provided this public facility, and it's our collective responsibility to maintain it.

'Rude' act at footwear counter at temple

I went to Sri Kapaleswarar Temple on April 12 and placed my slippers on the free counter outside the temple. While collecting back my slippers, one of the counter staff took my token and returned my slippers so forcefully that they hit my face. I asked the man to be careful, especially with senior citizens like me and this led to a war of words. I complained to the temple office: a staff 'enquired' and went away. I request the temple officers to ask the staff here to be mindful.

Thank you, Police

I wish to congratulate and thank the entire police force of Mylapore and outside who did a good job at the recent Pan-guni festival in Mylapore. They understood the problems of the public and were very polite in handling testing situations.

Students seem keen about heritage

Historian Dr. Madhusudhanan Kalaichelvan delivered an interesting lecture at the Tagore auditorium, R A Puram on April 12 on the theme - 'Are we missing something? Sindhu Saraswathi and Tamil Culture'. He put forth all aspects of the Keeladi excavations near Madurai and its connection to the Indus Valley civilisation. The event was well attended with almost a third of the audience being high school students. History seems to be coming to the fore as a popular choice once again among students.

Rewind Mylapore : eye donation remembered

The 'Mylapore Rewind' column is worth reading and takes us back to our good, old days. In the August 1996 edition of Mylapore Times, there was a report about my son Shankar who was, as a schoolboy, motivated about eye donation. Shankar is 44 years now and we remember the motivation that the news report gave all of us. As of today, we have been instrumental in arranging for the donation of 26 pairs of eyes.

Christians began the Holy Week in the religious calendar last Sunday - this is the last leg of the Lenten season of prayer, penance and reflection that leads to services in churches that recall the condemnation and death of Jesus.

Last Sunday (April 13), the community of CSI St Luke's Church on R. K. Mutt Road took out a procession in which scenes that relate to the Holy Week were staged. The members of the church gathered at their old church in Mandaveli and went in a procession to the church near the BSNL office in R. K. Nagar.

Inner Wheel Club of MRC Nagar officially installed

By Our Edit Team

The Inner Wheel Club of MRC Nagar was officially installed last weekend at a special ceremony led by district chairman Fathima Nasira who also served as the chief guest. Sushma Ramaswamy was installed as president, and Kavitha Thiagarajan as secretary, along with other office bearers by District ESO PDC Usha Saraogi and the other members of the club.

The event was held at the Rani Meyyammai Towers' club house in MRC Nagar.

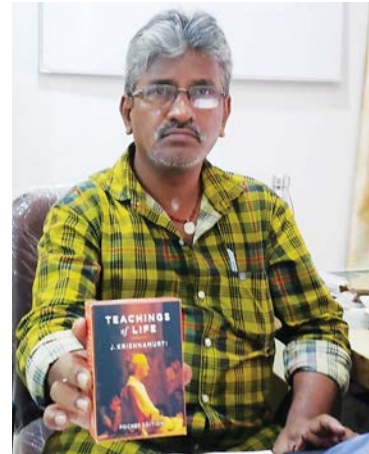

The club marked the occasion with a donation of a chemoport machine to support a child battling cancer.

The team said that many community projects are in the pipeline and they will be discussed at the next meeting - these include education, environment/sustainability and healthcare camps.

TORTOISES IN TEMPLE TANK

Three tortoises were seen sunning themselves on the steps of the tank of Sri Kapali Temple last week. While one swam away when it spotted people looking at the trio from the pavement side off R. K. Mutt Road, the other two stood still.

How did tortoises get into the temple tank?

A probable answer could be that like fish and frogs, these may have been forced down the drains that guide rainwater into the tank.

ARUBATHUMOOVAR SNAPSHOTS

Thousands of people packed into the mada streets around Sri Kapali Temple, Mylapore on April 10 afternoon to take part in the famed arubathumooval procession of the nayanmars and the gods as part of the temple's annual Panguni festival.

East Mada Street was packed to the pavements, in stores and beyond as the procession began after 3.30 p.m.

It was an extremely hot, stuffy afternoon and people were fighting off sweat, looking for volunteers who offered freely, water, buttermilk or juice.

The procession took time to stop, let people pray and make offerings and receive flowers; so when it took the turn into R. K. Mutt Road, it was well past 6.30 p.m. By then, R. K. Mutt Road was packed with hundreds of people, with thick streams of people walking up and down Venkatesa Agraharam Street.

Hundreds of hawkers took over the sides of North Mada Street and R K Mutt Road's north side to create a hawking zone. For people, shopping was part of their evening out. There were at least four groups of lord Shiva bhaktas who played music on their instruments in the procession and kept rousing the people alongside; many girls and women were in these music troupes.
