SANSKRIT CLASSES AT RAMAKRISHNA MUTT

Sanskrita Bharathi is a non profit movement dedicated to the propagation and revival of Sanskrit as a spoken language. In this connection, Sanskrita Bharathi and Ramakrishna Mutt have got together to conduct Sanskrit classes at R K Mutt's Mylapore premises. The special feature of these classes is that Sanskrit is taught through the medium of Sanskrit only. The course is open to all.

For youngsters, it helps them to understand Indian culture, learn a new language. It unlocks the key to vast wealth of knowledge in every field that rishis left behind, be it medicine, astronomy, science, yoga, meditation to name a few. For elders too, it helps them to bring Sanskrit into the family again.

The study of Sanskrit helps to improve mental agility and helps build peace and togetherness in society, say Sanskrita Bharathi organisers. Classes are held on three days a week, at R K Mutt premises in Mylapore in the evenings. It comprises of two levels, each for a duration of one year. Certificates will be awarded by the Ramakrishna Mutt at the end of the year. For further details, contact 24621110, 9095669300

Luz Circle: new roadway created

By Madhan Kumar

Traffic flow from Royapettah High Road to Luz Church Road is now routed to a newly created pathway due to Chennai Metro work at Luz Circle, which is to be a major rail intersection.

Buses, cars, and two-wheelers on the R. H. Road side will now take a pathway that curves alongside the string of shops (now shut down) from Nehru News Mart end to Sukha Nivas and The Mylapore Club end, to drive into Luz Church Road.

Previously, vehicles used a pathway alongside the Navashakthi Vinayaka Temple. The pathway remains 'one way'.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

< The year was 1962. I came to Madras to stay longer - as a student in the great institution called Stella Maris College in Cathedral Road, Madras.

I was all of sixteen years when I stepped into the college campus and into the hostel block. If I recall correctly, it was called Our Lady's Hostel. I had a steel trunk and a bedroll (which was also called a hold-all) which my brother had helped to carry to the campus. Those days, the sophomores or freshmen were called juniors. We were four or more in one room in the hostel, setting the stage for group living, respectful interaction and very importantly, fostering connections and empathy

These are lines extracted from a 1000-word article that Chandra Janakiraman has shared with us. From her present perch in Coimbatore.

Here is another extract, from Allan D' Souza of Mandavelipakkam. He shared this last week.

< I have been a resident of East Circular Road (off San Thome High Road) for the past 71 years. The road is 40 ft. wide and people on morning walks would circle around it - and that's why I assume it came to be named East Circular Road - though the road itself is absolutely straight!

My dad purchased a three-ground plot here in 1954. At that time, there were no major building contractors and the house was built by a maistry and his workers - all the wood-work for the house was done by a carpenter who lived in a shed at the rear of the plot. We moved in during 1955...

At that time there were only three houses on East Circular Road and our house was the second.

What you read here are just two extracts from some 13 articles were are re-reading now.

For Madras Day season 2026, Mylapore Times has launched the 'To Madras With Love' project - we are asking longtime residents of different parts of this city to jot down details of their childhood, school and college days in the 1940s/ 50s/ 60s . . . Our aim is to collate the social histories of the people of the city.

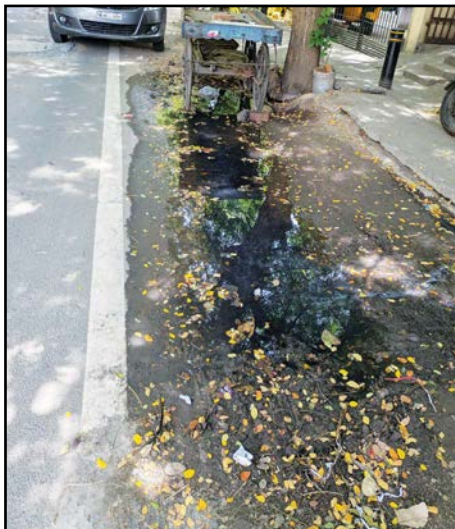

Just now, we would like to hear from people who used to reside in Ennore and Tiruvottiyur, from Anna Nagar and Valasaravakkam, from Nanganallur and Pallikaranai.

Hopefully, all these stories will go into the first of many books over the years. To share your story, please e-mail - vincentjottings@gmail.com. Tell us in three lines what your story is and we can start from there!

Metrowater: sewage leak pollutes Dr. Ranga Road

For nearly three months, sewage has been flowing from a pipeline serving a private residence next to the Adiga Manor apartments.

This pollutes the area and is unhealthy. Since the Metrowater office is located on the opposite side, we wondered why the issue was being ignored. Unofficially, we are told there is some dispute regarding repairs of the sewer line in that residence. But now that this issue affects the public, can Metrowater address it firmly?

Plea to CMDA: stop reclassifying plots in residential areas

This is about the Reclassification notifications issued by Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority (CMDA) for reclassification of land use from one zone to another. The applicants routinely seek reclassification of prime residential zones to other land use such as commercial, institutional, etc.

In respect of reclassification of land use from residential to other zones, the residents seek to know as to why the applicant wants reclassification in the first place? How does such a change in the land use improve the living conditions of the neighborhood residents? The answer is not far to seek. Except, of course, boosting their own business interests further, the change in the land use will not bring about any change but disaster to the area and its residents. For the benefits of a single individual land-owner, it will be unjust to overlook the predicament of the residents who have been living in the locality for decades. To accede to the reclassification request, would amount to CMDA committing disservice to the residents.

Though the CMDA publishes the reclassification notifications in select newspapers, besides in its own website, these often go unnoticed by the residents with the result that they get to know of the change in the land use in their own neighbourhood only when the reclassification is effected. Thus, the residents lose the opportunity to raise their voice against the reclassification. The frequent, mindless reclassification of residential to other zones has led to many colonies losing its residential tag. Any further ruthless reclassification of residential areas will be requiem for the residential localities.

We request CMDA not to give consent to the reclassification of residential zones in the larger interest of the neighborhood residents.

- V. S. Jayaraman

A Mandaveli community makes a senior’s 90th birthday a red-letter day

By Our Edit Team

Imagine celebrating your birthday in a formal manner when you are 90 years old. Janaki-ammal is a resident of Rag-amalika Apartments in Thiruvengadam Street, Mandaveli and she says she has never celebrated her birthday as such. But the senior women of this community decided to make her 90th birthday a red-letter day. The community hall was decorated, music floated around, Janaki spoke at length of her wonderful life and a cake was cut for the occasion. Then followed high tea. Janaki-ammal became very emotional with this celebration, said organiser Kalyani Muralidharan.

Small, old Murugan Temple comes back to life

By Baskar Seshadri

Not many Mylaporeans may be aware of Kuzhanthai Muthukumaraswamy Temple located off Dr. Ranga Road, Mylapore.

The kumbhabishekam of this fairly old temple held recently has now brought it some attention and there is a steady stream of people visiting it.

Managed by the state's HR & CE department, this temple remained in neglect for a long time.

The purohit told us that the temple was built by a zamindar couple which was childless and the duo later handed it over to the care of the managers of the famed Sri Murugan Temple in Vadapalani. Situated on a two ground property, this quiet space has beautiful naval pazham, vilva and badam trees.

But this temple, set at the far end of a 'dead-end' lane off Dr Ranga Road (on the side closer to C. P. Ramaswamy Road), was hardly patronised at one point in time.

A few years ago, a purohit was appointed and he has brought the place alive with the daily rituals. Last year, re-construction of the temple was started and the kumbhabishekam was performed on June 26.

Swaminathan is now the officer in charge of the temple; at 80560 85739.

Mumbai NGO supports tailoring skills classes at this school

By Our Edit Team

Music, drawing and tailoring are part of the education for students of Class 6 to 10 at Lady Sivaswami Ayyar Girls School, Mylapore. The girls learn the basic skills which set off career ideas in some of them.

Recently, the tailoring section has come alive after a Mumbai-based NGO called Samta Foundation provided 17 sewing machines and all the accessories needed for the tailoring classes here.

This gift has opened up the tailoring section at the school because it allows students to have better accessories and to use the sewing machines easily once they pick up the skills.

"The donation by Samta allows us to train our students better," said Ezhilarasi, the tailoring class teacher who travels from Veppampattu in Thiruvallur district daily, a journey of over two hours.

About 25 to 30 girls of each class attend tailoring classes in the school.

"We teach them the very basics and those who have had some sewing experience get on to the machines first," says Ezhilarasi.

The girls may not graduate to stitch bags and blouses at the end of the year but for those who dream of running a tailoring service in their neighbourhood, these classes are a great starting point.

Hawkers 'take over' old bus shelter in Alwarpet. Commuters sweat. They ask MTC to set up new bus stop

By Baskar Seshadri

The MTC bus stand at Sri Anjaneyar Koil near M Ct M School on Luz Church Road has been 'taken over' by hawkers who sell flowers and puja articles to people who visit the temple. This is a brick-mortar, old shelter, which is now a place for hawkers to stock materials and for vagabonds to rest.

Bus commuters are forced to wait for buses in the sun and they say that they find it inconvenient. Since MTC buses stop close to the barricaded zone of Chennai Metro work site (where a station will come up) commuters now wait for buses near the school gate. They need a new bus shelter at this point.

Many daily wage workers, maids and office staff use this bus stop and with the daytime temperature as high as 40 degrees, these commuters are forced to sweat it out.

Commuters want MTC to set up a new bus shelter. CMRL has often failed to follow up on providing such core facilities which state agencies must set up following the long-drawn Chennai Metro project.

It needed persistent pleas and e-mails by activists to get facilities like better bus shelters and seating at the 'new' bus stops in Mylapore and Mandaveli which were shifted to spots on the 'diverted' bus routes.

R. A. Puram residents and Urbaser discuss waste clearance issues

By Our Edit Team

Members of R A Puram Residents Association (RAPRA) had a meeting with Anthony Manimaran, zonal head of Urbaser Sumeet and his team to improve their garbage clearance services in the area.

Dr R. Chandrasekaran, president of RAPRA presented a petition to Anthony listing out issues to be addressed.

Some key issues were discussed at this meet and phone numbers of senior Urbaser staff in the R A Puram area were shared.

Urbaser officials have requested residents to segregate the waste at source and hand them over to his collector as wet, dry and hazardous waste. Every day, sanitary waste will be collected in a separate bin.

On a few days this past week, the sea off the Marina was rough and tall waves pushed the shoreline which advanced a lot. This made fishermen who reside off Sirpi Singaravelar Salai (Loop Road) to drag the parked boats further inwards to a much safer place. One could also witness sea erosion taking place here.

WHY ARE THESE CIVIC PROJECTS LIMPING IN LUZ, ALWARPET ?

By Our Edit Team

It is not just the Nageswara Rao Park project which seems to be in a semi-comatose phase in Mylapore zone. At least three civic projects for the community are all lying in various phases of execution.

Take what used to be a GCC community hall next to the rear gate of Nageswara Rao Park. Some 75% of the work seems to have been completed on the construction of a new hall. But in recent times, work-pace seems to be crawling. This is supposed to be a well-fitted, large community hall meant to serve for social functions.

Take the large wedding and community hall in Alwarpet, off C. P. Ramaswamy Road. The project is almost completed but the last leg has been dragging for some months now. Local area councillor M. Saraswathy (CPI-M) said that there is some debate about the installation of lifts here and this issue seems to be the main cause of the project's delay.

Take another GCC project, located in the shadow of this wedding hall in the same area. In the plot between Amma Unavagam and GCC complex. This new block is said to be for daycare and skills training centre for disabled children. While the shell of the building is done, it has not been fitted this far.

These projects fall under ward 123 of zone 9 of GCC (Teynampet) zone. Councillor Saraswathy said queries to engineers overseeing these projects do not elicit a formal, complete response.

Church in San Thome being re-constructed

By Our Edit team

The 168 year old CSI St. Thomas Tamil Church in San Thome is being re-constructed. A major portion of the church on San Thome High Road has been demolished but the facade has been retained in order to merge it with the new structure.

“We are rebuilding the church step-by-step to retain its old features and are guided in this project by the CSI Diocese,” said Rev.

B. Devaprasad.

Antique furniture, the altar and many accessories used for religious services have been put away for safe-keeping to be used when the new church gets built.

The project has received a fund of Rs.1.44 crores from the state government and fifty percent of it has been paid as advance.

Meanwhile, church services are now held at the chapel inside the campus of CSI School for the Deaf in San Thome.

MINISTRIES IN SAN THOME

- English and Tamil ministries were active in the San Thome zone since the early 19th century. To serve the Anglican residents of San Thome and Adyar zones.
- Rev. Robert Carver raised the St. Thomas English Church in 1842.
- As the Tamil-speaking congregation grew, Rev. A.R. Symonds, secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel (SPG), bought an old Wesleyan chapel originally used by Rev. Carver for the Tamil congregation and set up an independent church for the Tamil speakers.
- Early services in the chapel were led by Eurasian clergymen: later, this transitioned to full-time Indian pastors.

Evolution of Tank of Sri Kapali Temple

By Parantharami Mani

The tank of Sri Kapali Temple has been witness to histories since the 17th century. It plays an integral part in the life and festivals of the temple.

It was on the banks that significant, charming rituals themed on Thiruganasambandar were carried out during the recent Panguni festival. And in early February, large crowds sat on all sides on the steps to watch the colourful teppam festival.

Here is a Rewind on the history of the tank and the steps -

- The Nattu Mudaliars who were dharmakarthas of the temple were instrumental in developing the temple in the 18th century.

- Legend has it that there was a kuttai-like water body to the west of the temple. There were rough-cut, improvised steps on all sides.

- This land was owned by the Nawab of Arcot. It was donated to the temple by Mohammed Ali Wallajah, the then Nawab

- The nirazhi mandapam seen in the centre of the tank must be over 200 years old - it can be seen in an 1851 photograph of Frederick Fiebig.

- The construction of the steps of the tank started in 1910 when Pammal Sambanda Mudaliar was dharmakartha and this work was completed in 1925.

- The Triplicane Sivanadiyar Thirukootam, a group of 36 Saivite devotees were major contributors for the construction.

- Other major philanthropists to this project include Thandarai Vaidyasalai family (who donated adhikara nandi in 1917), Munusamy Gramani of Karaneeswarar Koil Lane, Chellathammal of Thiruvadamaruthur and a few more.

- The names of all donors are inscribed on the inside walls of the temple tank. Some survive and can be seen today.

- Up to 1980, people bathed and washed clothes in the tank. This was later stopped and the tank was fenced on all sides.
