Chennai Metro: trees on Marina lawns transplanted to QMC campus

By Our Staff Reporter

Chennai Metro has transplanted all the full-grown trees that were on the lawns of the Marina around Gandhi statue and planted them in the Queen Mary’s College campus.

The beachfront area is being developed as a station for the two rail lines in Phase 2 of the Chennai Metro project. The area south of the statue was barricaded and the trees carefully lifted out and transplanted.

Each tree was labelled by the CMRL contractor and these trees can be seen alongside the north boundary of the college campus.

B. Tech topper Praveen Venkatesh: three golds at IIT

By Kanaka Cadambi

R. A. Puram resident, Praveen Venkatesh, topped the B. Tech course at IIT Gandhinagar, Gujarat, with three gold medals to his name. He won the Institute gold medal for the highest CPI in electrical engineering, the Director’s gold medal for outstanding overall performance amongst all the B. Tech students and one for outstanding performance in indoor sports (table tennis). According to Praveen, it was only after Class 9 that he took his studies seriously. There was no looking back after that. He performed brilliantly in the tenth class and Board exams, and was among the toppers in JEE.

Praveen’s father, Venkatesh Rajagopal, joint general manager at L&T, initiated him into table tennis by enrolling him at the Ransa Sports Club in R A Puram.

He impressed in TT too, leading the IIT-GN team to many a victory. Praveen says he will be doing a master’s course in robotics at Carnegie Mellon University.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Walks help us discover our city better. Get closer.

And for this Madras Day 2022 season the past Sunday, I was on two Walks. I led one, and joined another. Devoting three hours to the first in Vepery-Purusai and four hours to the inner zones of Royapettah and Triplicane.

Both had something in common, something I have cared to encourage. Collaboration and immersion.

Walks are generally led by 'know-all' people. And most take people to landmarks and spaces where these once stood. Getting into campuses, home and religious spaces can be a task - one must negotiate private-public spaces and guests must respect that space.

The germ for my AngloIndian Memories of Vepery-Purusai came from some chatter on the Madras Anglos social media page. People had been gushing about Doveton Cafe, of my old pal, now an Aussie, Brian Laul sitting in a corner of the garden scribbling away! I called for people to help me curate a Walk. 75-year-old Eva Fonceca, born and brought up in the shadow of the Doveton Clock Tower, volunteered. We did a recce and Eva was there, despite a swollen leg, offering us stories from her auto.

Along the way that Sunday morning, the owner of a once-famed nook for patties, ice creams and cakes chipped in with his yarns and a woman whose family ran a chicken meat shop in the local market, offered to show us around when she stopped to listen in, as I spoke on Silver Stars Hotel and Roxy Cinema.

This is indeed collaboration. Makes people proud of the city and allows more voices. This is how these events must be.

Later that day, we were at Thousand Lights Mosque, a tour curated by friend Kombai Anwar. We spent over four hours of it - Pulicat expert, architect Xavier Benedict (he is hosting a Pulicat tour this Madras Day season) stayed on till midnight to watch the panja-bearers do the fire walk in Royapettah's inner streets.

Anwar got the community leaders help us immerse in local Shia history, culture and life as they carted us by van to many places. We entered homes to see the special space for prayer and the panjas (families do not mind designing small rooms for themselves but must have a large space for prayer), we were offered tea and cool drinks and we dropped into many ausher-khanas, places where the Muharram religious events are held and which turn into community spaces the rest of the year.

One host whisked me away to the cooking space, to help us understand that it is 'all-vegetarian' during Muharram. I met the chief cook, the king of biryani, saw the cooks making ghee rice and dal-cha in wood-fired handis and got to know that Bonda-Biryani was a Muharram special (don't ask me for the recipe!).

My best Sunday evening immersion was at Chella Vinayakar Koil Street in Triplicane where a three-day mela goes on in the open while people seek graces at the panja tent - once Muharram is over, the image of a massive lord Vinayaka is set up - co-existence in peace.

If you wish to celebrate this city and know it better, come along. All events at www.themadrasday.in

Traffic Police: enforce 'one-way' between Light House and Pattinapakkam at busy times

In the past, in order to ease traffic congestion to and from San Thome High Road, the section between Light House and Pattinapakkam was declared 'one way' for two hours in the morning and two hours in the evening, especially at school and office peak hour times.

Traffic Police deployed at the two points rerouted vehicles via Nochikuppam to reach Foreshore Estate. This had tremendously helped to ease the congestion on the busy schools section of this road.

This rule is less enforced now and often we see the hapless Traffic Police unable to deal with heavy traffic snarls.

But this regulation must be enforced strictly now since schools are functioning full-time.

Suggestion to Nageswara Rao Park manager

At Nageswara Rao Park, water pipes used for watering the plants are frequently laid on the walk area causing great inconvenience to walkers, especially elders and joggers. Can the park maintenance team make sure that the hose pipes are laid alongside the walk paths?

Problems faced by staff at ThiruMylai station

At ThiruMylai railway station, in the parking lot, contractors hire people to work here but they tell me that do not have a washroom closeby. Also, they work under an asbestos sheet roof and though there is a table fan, the staff need better facilities. Can the contractor attend to these needs?

Chaos continues on Kali Varu Street

The mess on Kali Varu Street needs urgent attention. Though it is 'No Entry' from Kutchery Road to Kalvi Varu Street, hardly any motorist respects this rule; so we have grand chaos when this school opens and closes. Added to our woes is the haphazard parking of vehicles on both sides of Kalvi Varu Street which chokes the traffic on the road.

Tributes: 'Erose Tailor' Ahmed

● He used to be my wife's 'family tailor' for many many decades and I had the opportunity to meet him a couple of times. In many ways, he was family away from family. He would go the extra mile with his smiles to truly make that design we wanted without fuss. We will miss him and keep him in our prayers.

- Arun Vasan

● He was my tailor for a long span of time, till I learnt tailoring! A man with a pleasant expression always, with a smile on his face

- Chithra Viswanathan

● A very popular tailor who tailored the school uniforms for the 5 / 6 schools in San Thome. Condolences to the family.

- Carlton Lazaro

● Rest peacefully Uncle Ahmed. Thank you for making us feel so perfect and good in our uniforms

- Priya Krishnaswamy

● He still reminds me of my childhood days, of trying the uniform in his shop.

MY STORY

English > Tamil, Tamil > English. And interest in Ponniyin Selvan

By VARALAKSHMI BHASKARAN

With a post-graduate degree in English and working for a few years in a couple of schools in Chennai city, I started English comprehension classes, chiefly for students whose mother tongue is Tamil and who do not have much support at home.

In my observation, I found that students who were good at mathematical calculations were not doing well in math because they found it tough to comprehend the statement problems which were all in English. Once their English comprehension got enhanced, they started doing well in Mathematics.

Over the years of my teaching experience spanning two decades, I find a major shift now in more students seeking help to learn Tamil than English. Students' exposure to English language is much higher than their exposure to Tamil.

I find students being able to recite 'Thirukural' and 'Naaladiyaar' with such great ease (mainly by listening to the teacher repeatedly reading out in class) but when shown an unseen passage, are unable to read fluently. Sometimes, even reading a single word becomes too tough for them. While giving them ample reading practice, I have also realised the need for audio recordings and supplement my classes with these as well.

Teachers in school are doing an extraordinary job in teaching the language, but with a class strength of more than 30, it is impossible to focus on each student's reading skill in their limited time of 45 minutes per class. Support at home becomes essential. But for non-native speakers of the language and for students with working parents, extra help in the form of Tamil classes becomes necessary.

Interestingly, adults are also expressing a great desire to learn the Tamil language. I have women students who want to learn Tamil, their objective being to read the original version of 'Ponniyin Selvan'!

Thus, I find myself starting off with English comprehension classes, explaining everything in Tamil and now doing exactly the reverse and explaining all the Tamil texts in English

Panniru Thirumurai festival

By S. Prabhu

The 12-day Panniru Thirumurai festival began on August 9 evening at Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple with Sembanar Koil Mohan Dass presenting a Nagaswaram kutcheri. Othuvars Sathgurunathan and Vageesan then presented Saivite saint poet Thiru Gnana Sambandar’s Thiru Kadaikkaappu, soon after the Pradosham event. Daily in the evening, till August 20, leading Othuvars from across the state will congregate at Sri Kapali Temple and present the sacred verses of Saivite saint poets at 5 pm while at 7 pm every evening there will be a discourse on Panniru Thirumurai by eminent scholars. Thirumurai scholars from Thiruttani, Madurai and Karur among temples in Tamil Nadu will be part of this utsavam.

For the Amman

In Mylapore's inner streets, the Aadi festival holds many different traditions that communities preserve and celebrate.

On August 8, about 100 plus people, mostly women carried 'thee chattis' placed on neem leaves in their hands, in a procession from Mundagakanni Amman Temple to Kolavizhi Amman Temple.

Some had the sides of their mouths pierced, some were in a trance and one transgender had strapped many small pots of fire around her shoulder and set the image of a decorated goddess on her head.

Some endured the boils that popped up in their palms, some danced freely, some chanted.

The procession went through four local streets.

Temple uthsavams theme for Natyarangam's dance fest. Starts with Mylapore's Panguni vizha

By Our Staff Reporter

The annual Utsava Bharatham series of Natyarangam (the dance wing of Narada Gana Sabha) commences on Sunday, Aug.14 at 6:00 pm in Sathguru Gnanananda Hall, TTK Road, Alwarpet.

Every evening, there is a talk and then a dance feature on stage: this year the theme is 'temple festivals'.

The inaugural day features Kapali Arupattu Moovar, a dance production highlighting some of the salient features of the Panguni Utsavam of Sri Kapaleeshwar Temple. (photo of rehearsal)

This 90 mins. production, set to music by Dr. Rajkumar Bharathi, has been choreographed by Jayanthi Subramaniam, director, Kala Darsana, Mylapore.

The performing artists are Jayanthi Subramaniam, G. Narendra, Bilva Raman, Ashwini Viswanathan, Season UK, Shruthipriya R Vignesh, Athul Balu and Maanasa. S.

V. Sriram will talk on the Panguni festival: then follows the dance.

THE FESTIVAL OF DANCE

There will be six group and four solo presentations on the festivals representing some of the temples of Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh. Over 40 dancers, scores of musicians, other artistes and resource persons have worked for close to two years to present the ten-day Uthsava Bharatham. Starts daily at 6 p.m., open to all. Leading dancers on stage.

Three Madras Day events you may want to check out

■ Mylapore Times editor-publisher Vincent D' Souza, with Manavalan and Jothi, residents of coastal north Chennai, will lead a Heritage Tour themed 'Sunken Villages of North Madras' as part of the Madras Day 2022 celebrations. This is on Sunday morning (August 14).

Participants will board a van outside The Mylapore Club, Luz at 6.30 a.m. and head north, to the Kasimedu region.

This tour is by van and walk, to colonies north of Kasimedu which are now under water: sharing stories of their lives and loves of times when the colonies existed pre-1970s.

Tour fee: Rs.250, to be paid in advance by Aug.13, 10 am (WhatsApp 9841049155 to pay or book a seat)

■ City schools can now register for the annual Heritage of Chennai contest being held in Mylapore as part of the Madras Day 2022 celebrations.

Teams study, collate and produce a PP presentation on a subject and this year, the theme is 'Streets';

The shoreline off Kasimedu teams will choose 3/4 local area streets with histories and present them. The teams present their learnings live.

The contest is on Aug.22, Monday at Ranade Library, Luz, 9 am onwards. If your school wishes to sign up, do so by Aug.15. Go to www.themadrasday.in for details. Look for Contests sections.

■ A Quiz on Chennai in Tamil for Tamil medium schools is to be held on Aug. 22, 3 pm inwards at Ranade Library, Luz. Teams of two from a school can take part (Tamil medium only.) Call 24671122 (11 am to 1 pm to register).

Obituary

A senior Bharatanatyam guru longtime and very popular dance teacher at Rosary Matric Girls School, San Thome, Saroja Kameswaran passed away on August 8. Her family said she collapsed in front of her pooja room. She was 79.

Thiruvottriyur-born Saroja was a natural dancer as a child and had danced in movies in her pre- and post-teen years. She was not keen to push herself on the sabha stages for concerts and opted to teach dance at home and at Rosary when she got the job on campus.

Among her gurus was Kameswaran; she got married to him (he passed away a decade-plus ago). The couple taught dance at their residences in Mylapore. But Saroja's first and last love was Rosary School where she taught for over 50 years, remaining on campus even after retiring officially.

She had a way with teaching toddlers and junior school students, her alumnae recalled when the news of her passing spread. The nuns at the school valued her service.

Saroja also ran her own dance school, Mahalakshmi Natyalaya in Mylapore; it was named after her daughter and was located on Bazaar Lane. Here too, she preferred to teach young ones.

Dancer G. Narendra, who was close to the Kameswarans and teaches dance at the Natyalaya, says Saroja used to go to Rosary till about two months ago and stopped when health problems beset her.

Jeth Nagar community body is six: celebrates at comedy show

JERA (Jeth Nagar Residents Association) completed six years of its existence, working for the community in Mandaveli zone.

To mark this milestone recently, JERA joined hands with Crazy Creations, the popular drama company and JERA sponsored 100 tickets for its members and all local area civic authorities for the comedy play of Crazy's titled 'Allaudinum 100-watt

Bulbum' at the Mylapore Fine Arts Club (MFAC).

JERA's team says it 'has never missed an opportunity to celebrate or thank its community and the well-wishers and stake-holders who play a major role in the betterment of Jeth Nagar and ward 126.'

Crazy Creations' Madhu Balaji and Vasu who are part of Jeth Nagar community have supported community-related initiatives and agreed to the idea of tickets for their play.

The programme was attended by Dha Velu, Mylapore MLA, the local Ward councillor Amirdaa Varshini, the GCC Unit 126 AE Sri Gopi, Unit126 AEE Muthiah and a few special guests.

This report had inputs from Ravi Nandyala

Small items can be dumped here between 10 am and 5 pm.

Here are leads given by readers on other E-waste disposal places.

■ Sarita Rao says she could not locate a 'one-stop' disposal solution in the neighbourhood. She currently sends all dry waste (segregated in different bags) including e-waste, cartons, packaging, washed and dried milk packets etc to India Wasted 360 degree Solutions in T. Nagar. Ph: 97517 55522

■ Sridhar Venkataraman says Abdul Basheer picks up broken down geysers, iron boxes, electronics, PCs, etc and will pay if there is something of worth. His shop is on Dr. Ranga Road. Works all days (Sunday post-noon closed). Call 98413 20342.

Pey Azhwar avathara sthalam on Arundel Street in dilapidated state

By S. Prabhu

The Pey Azhwar avathara sthalam on Arundel Street belonging to Sri Madhava Perumal Temple has been in a dilapidated state for quite some time.

Till a few years ago, Pey Azhwar used to make an annual trip to the avathara sthalam on Aippasi Sathayam. Thirumanjanam used to take place there with the Prabhandham members reciting the sacred verses.

In the evening, Pey Azhwar went on a mangalagiri procession around the four big streets.

However, given the dilapidated state, this annual procession has not taken place in the last few years.

While the Pey Azhwar avathara sthalam belonging to Sri Athi Kesava Perumal Temple on the same street has been well-maintained with personnel posted by temple trustee N. C. Sridhar to take care of the nandavanam, the avathara sthalam belonging to Sri Madhava Perumal Temple has been shut out with tall aluminum sheets.

Sadly, one now finds garbage bins at the entrance of this sacred location.

This writer managed to take a few photographs of the dilapidated state of the avathara sthalam from between the aluminum sheets.

With the renovation exercise at the Madhava Perumal Temple complex set to start in Avani (later this month), this is the ideal time for the dilapidated Pey Azhwar Avathara Sthalam to be restored to its glory and for the Aippasi Sathayam utsavam and the procession to be revived.
