Connect with MLA online: lodge issues that affect you

By Baskar Seshadri

The Mylapore MLA, P. Venkataramanan of the TVK party, who is also a state minister for food and civil supplies has unveiled a QR code, a website link and a WhatsApp contact which can be used by people of the Mylapore constituency to log in complaints / issues related to sewage, drainage, drinking water, power supply and bad roads.

This follows the chief minister's advice to MLAs to facilitate easy communication for people in each constituency.

If you scan the QR code, you land on a page where in three simple steps, you can post the issue you wish to raise.

You can also log in at www.tvkmylapore.in
The WhatsApp number to use for the same purpose is 90877 73694.

PRE-MONSOON CIVIC WORK IS ON

Workers engaged by Chennai Corporation are carrying out pre-monsoon season civic work across Mylapore zone. On Friday, a team was at work on P. S. Sivaswami Salai - which is a flood-prone zone. Muck and debris found along-side pavements and near outlets of drains was cleared. Elsewhere, workers have been clearing muck in stormwater drains. If similar work has not been carried out in your area, call GCC's local unit office.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

It was a Madras summer morning. Must have been late June or early July, 2004. Writer-editor Sashi Nair and I had an appointment with S. Muthiah, well-known chronicler and story-teller of our city at his residence off Vijayaraghava Road in T. Nagar.

Muthiah had, off and on, talked about the idea of a day to celebrate the city. The idea became a worm inside me. And having gained some experience in curating and hosting the Mylapore Festival, with the support of Sundaram Finance, I was ready to apply it to another project.

It didn't take us much time to flesh out the Madras Day idea. Host a few events at one venue, get committed groups involved and create some buzz about the concept. Muthiah suggested August 22 as the day. The date did not matter, giving life to the idea did.

August 22 of 2004 remains fresh in my memory. The first event, at the crack of dawn, was a Fort St. George Walk, led by scholar-academic Dr. S. Suresh, who asked me if he should be dressed in 18th century Englishman's attire! Some 40-plus people took part in that Walk.

Sashi and I then hopped across to Rajaji Hall (the Banqueting Hall in colonial times) off Anna Salai (Mount Road) - this was the venue for the events we had scheduled for that day. It was my patience and determination which convinced the government staff to let us hire this unique space.

That morning, we hosted a dozen-plus school teams - they displayed their models of landmarks of the city. A contest was built into the idea. We also hosted a few collectors of coins, currency and postage materials to hold an exhibition. And post lunch, we hosted a Madras Quiz. The finale was a talk - but by then, we had some interesting people around us and they were invited to share their stories of the city. We had intended to close by 6 p.m. But there was so much josh in that hall late evening, that it was past 9 p.m. when we said goodbye.

Madras Day was planned to be a people's event. Everything is voluntary. Events and acts executed without seeking state or corporate support. Largely, the Day has remained that way though it has taken different avatars. And events are now held through August.

As I continue to promote Madras Day, my efforts in recent times have been to motivate and support community groups, campus bodies and others to curate localised theme events and get neighbourhoods involved. IIT-Madras choses to showcase its campus and histories. Kasimedu/Royapuram seniors lead a Walk in their backyard. The trustees of Ranade Library - Srinivasa Sastri Hall in Mylapore provide their spaces free of charge for events.

There is more to be done. Be part of it.

Check practice of residents placing potted plants by street side

The practice of placing flower pots and other forms of fancy barricades on the streetside outside apartments and commercial blocks has increased manifold on many streets in Abiramapuram. Vehicle owners are inconvenienced - they do not get space to park. This practice is illegal - and goes on despite a court ruling to the effect that such encroachments are illegal. It is high time that GCC comes down heavily on this practice and imposes a fine on the violators. GCC should also consider, similar to what is proposed now in Bengaluru, charging an annual fee for parking on the roads and encourage citizens to use public transport as much as possible.

The recently-introduced 'One Way' traffic system due to Chennai Metro project in Mandaveli - allowing flow from South Canal Bank Road towards Venkatakrishna Road is creating traffic jams in this narrow path. Many motorists ignore the 'No Entry' sign at the western end of this path. Violations must be checked.

TANGEDCO billing; appeal to CM

We are happy that the present Tamil Nadu government under chief minister C. Joseph Vijay is bringing a lot of reforms and thus bringing much relief to common man. I earnestly appeal to the chief minister to bring back the system of generating and charging monthly electricity consumption charges for domestic consumers by TANGEDCO with immediate effect. This will be a great relief to the common man.

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times 1997 onwards. This week, we focus on April 1997.

Mylapore doctor awarded two gold medals (April 12, 1997)

Dr. C. J. Hemalatha, an assistant surgeon at a government Primary Health Centre, bagged two gold medals at the seventh convocation of the Tamilnadu Dr. MGR Medical University.

This Abhiramapuram resident did her MBBS at the Madras Medical College and her MD at the Kilpauk Medical College.

In addition to receiving her MD degree certificate, Hemalatha bagged the Dr. (Mrs.) Sengupta Gold Medal and the Esther Sargason Lazarus Gold Medal. She also got two Dr. A. L. Mudaliar prize awards. Her father is a chartered accountant and so is her elder sister. Her younger sister is a lawyer. Hemalatha was a topper at Rosary Matriculation School, where she did her schooling.

Residents oppose construction on playground (April 26, 1997)

Chandrika Shanmugam, ward Councillor of Division 148, made a plea to the city's mayor for the construction of a kalyana mandapam and a Primary Health Centre (PHC) on a playground at one end of South Canal Bank Road in

R A Puram. The councillor said that the ground was big enough to accommodate both buildings and that the mandapam could be a good source of income for the Corporation. However, residents of this area oppose the plan - they are against the idea of a marriage hall coming up on the playground. The playground is used by local area children and students of nearby Chennai Corporation schools.

Natya Ratna title for guru Sarasa (April 19, 1997)

conferred the title Natya Ratna on renowned Bharatanatyam guru and Mandaveli resident K. J. Sarasa recently.

The function took place at the Mavalankar Auditorium.

Sarasa was chosen for pursuing the Vazhuvoor style of classical dance. This is Sarasa's 50th year in dance. She resides at 3, Rani Annadurai Street, Mandaveli.

Prayers for peace (April 5, 1997)

The Vedanta Desika Devasthanam in Mylapore is the venue for a special pooja for peace in the world; prayers began on March 2 and will continue till April 19.

The poojai is being conducted at the Chakrathazhwar sannidhi.

Thirumanjam will be at 9 a.m. or 5 p.m. While thirumanjam is offered at the Perumal sannidhi in the mornings, it is held in the evenings at the Chakrathazhwar sannidhi.

Finale of Panniru Thirumurai festival

The Rain Gods let the rain fall steadily and pleasantly in and around Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple, Mylapore on Sunday evening (August 23) even as the annual Panniru Thirumurai festival featured the finale.

The rain was welcome but the priests of the temple chose to shorten the Sunday evening rituals. In the morning, the Panniru Thirumurai was taken out in a procession on the elephant vahanam. In the evening, abhishekam was performed for the four Saivite saints – Thirug-nana-sambandar, Thirunavukkarasar (Appar), Sundarar and Manickavasagar – and they were taken out in a symbolic procession inside the temple since the rain remained steady - the tradition is to have the procession through the Mada Streets.

The festival started on August 11 and the focus was on the recitation of the Tamil sacred hymns written by Saivite saints in praise of lord Shiva.

Every evening, an odhuvar recited and sang a particular Thirumurai and this was followed by 'sorpozhivu' (discourse).

Queen Mary's College celebrates Madras Day

By Our Edit Team

The Department of Historical Studies, Queen Mary's College celebrated Madras Day on August 24.

Inter-departmental competitions including a quiz and Pictionary were held. Dr. N. Kalaivani, college principal, graced the formal event and distributed the prizes.

Antiques collector John Moses who is based in Kilpauk Garden and is known for his unique collection of cycles and oil lamps, displayed a small selection of his antiques which were used in the colonial times in the Madras presidency - clocks and oil lamps, watches and pens, toys and cameras and household utilities.

A few girls displayed old coins and household items of the past.

The programme was co-ordinated by Dr. M. Raziya Parvin, head of the department.

Over one hundred people participated in the 'avani avittam' ritual of changing of the sacred thread, hosted at Kalyan Nagar Association premises in Mandavelipakkam on August 27 morning. To accommodate the large number of people who had registered here, the ritual was held in two batches; one early and one late morning.

Work on at breakneck speed in Nageswara Rao Park

By Our Edit Team

Work is on at breakneck speed in Nageswara Rao Park, Luz. Men and machines are all over this campus that still has a bald look.

In the first round, lorry loads of paver blocks were unloaded and dozens of workers went about laying the path for walking. But at many points, the path is as narrow as two feet and at others, runs into trees.

In the next round, loads of grass mats were unloaded and within hours, they were plastered on earth mounds around trees and lamp posts.

In the third round, hundreds of plants and saplings were unloaded. These will be planted across the park to 'green' it.

We learn that costs for this project have been revised - from Rs.1210 lakhs to Rs.849 lakhs approx. and some features in the design have been stripped off.

GCC is yet to explain why this project had a seizure, why budgets were revised and what its current plans are.

The Mylapore MLA also does not seem to be keen about this project. This was the feeling gathered after his meeting with some civic activists who discussed the issue at his office.

We learn informally that the grand design at the rear for an inter-activity zone for which metal beams and pillars were erected may be abandoned. Park users say that the metal skeleton should be dismantled and removed - because rusting beams pose dangers.

'Silappadikaram' themed dance-theatre show. On August 30

By Our Edit Team

Classical dancer - actor - scholar Dr. Swarnamalya is presenting her interpretation of Madhavi in the Tamil epic, 'Silappadikaram' in a dance-theatre production to be staged at Narada Gana Sabha auditorium, Alwarpet on August 30 evening, 6.30 p.m. onwards.

The show is titled - Nammai Marandara Maam Marakkamattom'. It is a period production featuring music and dance and drama.

In her note, Swarnamalya, who has conceptualised and directs this dance-drama says - 'At the heart of 'Nammai Marandara Naam Marakkamattom' stands Madhavi, the accomplished courtesan, musician, and danseuse, whose life embodies the sophistication of the Tamil performing arts and the complex intersections of love, duty, artistic excellence, and renunciation.

A Legend of Mylapore passes away.

Venkatesan of Ell Vee & Co.

By Our Edit Team

Two generations of Mylaporeans must have known the shop called Ell Vee & Co., located on Kutchery Road.

Generations of the 1950s, 60s, 70s and 80s must have, at some point in their lives, shopped at this store or heard about it.

Ell Vee & Co. was a leading store for the best pens you could ever possess and use in school, college or at the workplace in this city.

The man behind this well-known store was V. S. Venkatesan. He passed away on August 6 at his on Kutchery Road, opposite the now-demolished Raja Kalyana Mantapam.

Since the family were devotees of the Kanchi Periyava, it sought the sage's advice on a name accessible in the south zone of the city and the choice of pens was big. Plus, Venkatesan was a genial salesman. His business grew after many small, medium and big companies became late chief ministers M. Karunanidhi and M. G. Ramachandran. "They would ask for my dad when they needed a new pen," recalls son Nagarajan. He said that the DMK leader asked for a specific model of pen and his father made one from ebonite.

In time, even as Indian brand pens came to be produced and sold, Venkatesan hired artisans to make his own brand of pens.

In 1999, Venkatesan chose to close down the business. And later moved to Bengaluru, to be with his son. His daughter K. Karpagam resides in south Chennai.

Contact - V. V. Nagarajan / 9886400355 his clients. He delivered their needs from the 200 sq ft store in Mylapore.

His salesmanship and after-sales service won him hundreds of loyal clients. And he also arranged for his clients' pens to be repaired.

Ell Vee's biggest customers were students. Many treated their pens as lucky charms - teens/youth who passed exams and scored well shared their success with Venkatesan.

Nagarajan says that there were some students who would come to the shop on the eve of exams, to fill their pens with ink provided free at Ell Vee "because they believed it brought them good luck!"

Ell Vee also had VIP clients. The late India president R. Venkataraman and son's residence in Bengaluru. He was 93.

Venkatesan was a widely-known person - not only in Mylapore but across the city. Not just because he was an expert on foreign and Indian pens but because his style of business, with school and college students as well as with working people, for whom the pen was an essential in that era, was warm and endearing.

Hailing from Mosur, Tamil Nadu, Venkatesan worked at the legendary Gem & Co. store for pens in Broadway in the city, a company started in 1927. His fascination for pens grew here and he mastered the make of the products and the trade.

The duo who launched Gem & Co on NSC Bose Road, did so because high-quality fountain pens were exclusive, expensive foreign imports at the time. So the duo chose to design their own pens and brand them to make pens accessible to Indians. Venkatesan quit Gem to start his own store, Ell Vee & Co., in 1961 for the store - his suggestion bordered on lord Venkateswara of Tirupati. But Venkatesan twisted it with own add-ons and named the store Ellvee.

He started importing pens of all brands - Parker, Pilot, Sheaffer, Waterman and Mont Blanc - and selling them. A city-based agent would process the import. Those were the days when the ink pen was the common writing instrument for study/office use. So families spent quite some money on buying an imported pen. Prices of pens in the 1960s ranged from Rs.110 to Rs.150. Fancy, gold-nib pens cost between Rs.200 and Rs.300. And the city's rich men and women ordered these.

"People used to collect pens those days," recalls Venkatesan's son, V. V. Nagarajan, who would sit in the store after attending P. S. School. The family resided in Nadu Street for many years.

Customers turned to Ell Vee because it was

QMC students take part in Mylapore Walk

By Our Edit Team

30 students of the department of history of Queen Mary's College, Mylapore took part in the Mylapore Heritage Walk organised on August 18 as part of the college's Madras Day celebrations.

Led by K. R. Jambunathan and Sridhar Venkataraman, both Mylaporeans, the students – attending under-grad and postgraduate classes – covered Luz Circle, Buckingham Canal, Mylapore Police Station, India Post heritage space, Venkataramana Ayurveda Hospital, the Jain Temple and Mundagakanni Amman Temple, stopping at traditional shops of jewel-makers and music instrument makers.

Said Jambunathan, "We gave the students a sense of an area that was once a village and remains a village in many parts and is also an integral part of the city of Chennai."

Jambunathan shared with the QMC students of the days when boats brought salt, firewood and vegetables to Mylapore, when keerai was grown in vast areas north of Kutchery Road, of the area where jewellery aacharis lived and worked and of life in local agraharams.

Sridhar, who is known for his Food Walks, also shared anecdotes on Mylapore of the past and of the present.

POOKALAM CONTEST. AUG. 30. IN PARK

Mylapore Times invites you to its Onam - Pookalam Contest at Nageswara Rao Park in Luz. On August 30 - Sunday evening. Teams of two can take part in it - the contest is open to 20 teams. Teams will be given a 3 ft by 3 ft space on a cemented space in the open air, to design the pookalam. They will need to bring the flowers and accessories. The organiser will provide three varieties of flowers at the venue (near the rear gate).

The contest starts at 4.30 pm and is on for an hour. Prizes are for the best five pookalams. The rest will be given gifts. Register now at Mylapore Times at 7305630727.

Obituary

R. Rajalakshmi, 79 years old and a Mylapore resident since 1968, passed away on August 18.

A senior Dakshin Bharat Hindi Prachar Sabha pracharak since the 1980s, she was fondly called 'Hindi teacher' by her students and her friends.

She taught students who studied Hindi in school and people who attended the Prathamik- to-Praveen Hindi courses. She did this for over 40 years, her family said.

She leaves behind her husband K. S. Ramamurthy, sons Sri Ganesh and Ramesh Karur and their families.

The family resides at 21/1, Kesavaperumal South Street (also called Arisikaran Street) Mylapore. Phone: 96770112005

BEAT Choir to celebrate their guru’s service. On Sept.6

By Our Edit Team

Members of the BEAT Choir are presenting a special event at Raga Sudha Hall, Luz on September 6, 4 pm onwards in honour of their guru, Rajarajeswari who is a resident of Velayudha Raja Street in Mandaveli. She will be 75 soon.

For the past four decades, Rajarajeswari has dedicated herself to teaching choir music to members of this choir. She is the principal disciple of late M.B. Srinivasan, a pioneer of choral music in India. She was with MBS Choir before setting up her own team.

At the Sept.6 event, the BEAT choir will perform for about 50 minutes followed by a snappy concert by the Madras MBS Choir.

Every week, some 22/25 regular members of the choir meet at a hall in T. Nagar to practice for over two hours. Most are retired employees of banks and private offices. Ramasubramanian has been a choir member for over three decades.

Said Nirmala Hariharan, a Mandaveli resident and retired bank officer who has been with the choir for ten years, “Our guru’s dedication is simply awesome. She is on time for practice week after week after week.”

Rajarajeswari also developed and sustained a children’s choir - it folded up some years ago. She takes classes in Carnatic music at her residence and also online - for students living abroad and across India.

In addition to teaching music, Rajarajeswari has composed numerous songs.

Said Nirmala Hariharan, “This event is being held to express our gratitude to our guru for her decades of selfless service. Our choir will present select songs composed by her.”

People keen to join this choir are invited to sign up but they must be prepared to attend practice classes every Sunday.

The Flagship by Asvita's - section of the new gallery

Art salon-style gallery opens in Mylapore

By Our Edit Team

A new space for art has recently opened in Mylapore, off Dr. Radhakrishnan Salai. It is called The Flagship by Ashvita's, a 6500 sq ft. space its promoter Ashvin E. Rajagopalan describes as "the first one of a kind art salon in Chennai where art, conversation and collecting come together."

The space welcomes visitors through a distinctive Gajabrishta-inspired lobby and houses Ashvita's newest White Cube Gallery.

The space has been divided into three / four functions. Firstly, there is the art gallery.

Art by Benitha Perciyal

temporary artist Benitha Perciyal K. works - sculptures in clay, wood and bone, along-side paintings, carved teak books and collected personal archives. This is open till September 30.

Said Rajagopalan, "For there to be great taste in art, there has to be great spaces for art in the city and we believe that our new space is both a design as well as artistic upgrade for the city."

Ashvita's opened in 2002 and has focussed on highlighting the Madras School of art and exhibiting it locally and around the country.

The Flagship gallery is located at Ozone Premia, 2nd floor, 39, Dr. Radhakrishnan Salai, Mylapore. Contact 9840094412 to visit the current exhibition.

Prayer of the Application to the Holy Spirit

Holy Spirit who solves all problems who lights all roads so that I can attain my goal. you who gives me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even and inspite of all material illusion. I want to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine.

The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days the favour requested will be granted even if it may appear difficult. This prayer including these instruction, must be published immediately after the favour is granted without mentioning the favour only your initials should appear at the bottom

Snapshots of Onam celebrations

Festivals can be infectious; their celebration draws people closer, it seems.

And this was evident in this Onam festival in many spots of Mylapore zone - many people who do not hail from Kerala made the effort to design a pookalam, cook the special Onam sadhya meal the best way they could and invited friends to participate. Some women bought and wore the famed Kerala Kasavu sari to blend with the festival.

For many Keralite seniors who reside in the Mylapore zone, even a symbolic celebration was a 'must-do'. Like Lokanayaki of R. A. Puram, a retired teacher of Vidya Mandir.

Designing the pookalam, integral to Onam, brought adults and children to the floor. Many designed themed pookalams.

St. Bede’s Academy hosts science-themed contests for city schools

By Our Edit Team

St.Bede’s Academy Senior Secondary School in San Thome hosted its annual science-themed event for city schools, called Gravity 2026 on August 25.

A host of contests were open to participants from 20 city schools.

The main attraction was the theme-led models that students of each school showcased in the modern auditorium in this campus. Themes presented included AI technology-led utilities, futuristic farming, and urban waste management.

V. G. Santhosham, chairman VGP Group was

St. Bede’s School campus follows the CBSE stream and admits only boys.

It has classes from the Kindergarten to Plus 12 level.

Dr. A Mercy Latha, a senior scientist at AcSIR (Academy of Scientific and Innovative Research) was the chief guest for the opening session. Swarnamughi, CMD of ENEXIO, a power cooling solutions company, was also a guest at this launch.

The day began with a series of simple challenges for junior and mid-level students of participating schools.

guest at the finale - he presented trophies and certificates to the winners. The team of SBOA School and Junior College won the trophy for overall excellence.

Fr. D. J. Sagayaraj, rector of the St.Bede’s community of schools and Fr. Edward, principal of St.Bede’s Academy were present.
