VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

I was introduced to the December Season after we launched the Mylapore Times in 1994. Our weekly newspaper had to report on the Season. And over the early years, there was a lot to write about this unique, privately-boasted festival of classical music and dance concerts. When we realised that the Season deserved better coverage than just reviews and announcements, we expanded, first with an independent website and now, with a micro site.

The 'Season' provides us the opportunity to listen to musicians and watch dancers on stage, the kind this city is known for. I seem to have found my own ways to soak in. I am not very particular about choosing which concert to go to. The other day, at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, long after the festival was launched by the state's governor, I sat down to listen to violinists A. Kanyakumari and Embar Kannan.

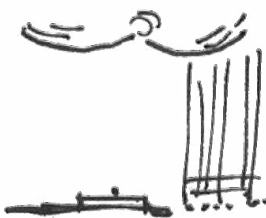

I take some time to choose my place in a hall because I like to listen or watch from a spot that makes the experience worthwhile. Often though, because of the nature of our work, I cannot enjoy a full concert. I have noticed that there are some rasikas who also have their favourite spots in an auditorium and once they settle down, they slip into a world of their own.

Of late, I have been encouraging friends who are not the kutcheri-going type but listen to music, to attend concerts hosted by sabhas. One of them prefers instrumental music. Another told me that she would enjoy music concerts where most of the songs are sung in Tamil. And a third asked me why the hall was packed with people in their 70s.

As we look around us, from the fringe of the 'Season', you may have noticed that different strands of cultural events are being hosted in December in the recent past. And the hosts or curators are not sabhas.

We also notice that even music and dance concerts are visualised differently and are now being held in small spaces which either host stand-up comedies and theatre or talks and book launches. These events are publicised differently to a different audience.

So, while the Mylapore zone continues to be the heart of the Season, venues in other city neighbourhoods are hosting their own events. But because the spotlights are still turned on Mylapore, many of us are unaware of the cultural developments that are slowly taking place in our city.

Mylapore at monsoon time

The photos shot by Madhan Kumar during the monsoon of areas around Sri Kapali Temple and posted on Mylapore Times website and social media platforms evokes many memories for people like me who once resided in this area for many years.

Mylapore looks different in the rain. The images of hawkers at their stalls, people headed to the temple and the Mada Streets in the rain are vivid.

- K. R. Rajasekaran

On Mylapore Gymkhana Club . . .

In Vincent D' Souza's 'Jottings' column last week (Nov.29 issue) there was a mention of Mandaveli Sports Club. That place was called Mylapore Gymkhana Club. It was located on Mandaveli Street and many youngsters played indoor games there and some went on to win titles and awards.

- Baskar Seshadri

Make C. P. Ramaswamy Road 'two-way'

Now that the flyover at Alwarpet has been made two-way, it is imperative that C P Ramaswamy Road which can also handle traffic be made two-way.

There is no Chennai Metro work taking place anywhere near this stretch of road and the smaller, inner roads of Alwarpet bear the brunt of this 'one-way' system causing congestion in all these small streets.

Will the Traffic Police pay urgent attention to this appeal?

- Hemalatha Mohan

On Chitrakulam . . .

● It is wonderful to see the Chitrakulam is now filled with rainwater. Chitrakulam North Street was where I lived for five years 55 years ago and I have great memories of this place.

- Radha Mohan

● I lived on East Mada Street for more than 10 years.

It was then rare to see water levels high in the Chitrakulam tank.

- B. Sadagopan

● Many times in the past, I have seen Chitrakulam filled with water at monsoon time. Once, the water flooded the streets around it.

If memory serves me right, previously there were no steps all around the tank. They were built later.

- J. Madhavan

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times, 1996 onwards. This week, we focus on May, 1996

Large-scale renovation of Sri Kapali Temple: for maha-kumbhabhishekam (May 18, 1996)

Large-scale repair, renovation and painting work is going on at Sri Kapaleswara Temple where the maha-kumbhabhishekam is to be held on June 6. For months now, a large group of workers have been undertaking the job. The vimanas and the gopurams, including the tall raja-gopuram, are being cleaned and painted. Sthapati M. S. Sivaprakasam of Srirangam, a Kalaimamani awardee of the state, is overseeing the work here. He said that over 100 skilled people have been working here the past eight months. The officer in charge said that the budget for the renovation is about Rs.50 lakhs and many devotees had made donations. The madapalli, sacred temple kitchen, will see extensive repairs. It was in 1982 that the last maha-kumbhabhishekam here was held.

The Coffee Day store

New coffee powder vending stores (May 18, 1996)

Two new coffee powder vending stores have opened in the area. Promoted by Amalgamated Bean Coffee Trading Company Ltd., the stores are called Coffee Point and the powder is branded as Coffee Day. Two pure powders and two blended ones are now on offer at these stores, one in Alwarpet - Sindur Towers, 95, Luz Church Road - and one in Mylapore - 36, Venkatesa Agraharam. Price of Peaberry (pure) is Rs.125 / kilo and that of Plantation 'A' is Rs.120 / kilo

Sale at Fountainhead store (May 25, 1996)

The annual summer sale is on at the Fountainhead store on Dr. Radhakrishnan Salai, Mylapore. Besides discounts on books, there are offers on gift, stationery and other products sold here.

Women entrepreneur of Alwarpet (May 25, 1996)

G. Anita of Alwarpet (featured in the Mylapore Times weekly column, 'Women at Work') takes orders for embroidered products. She also takes classes in this line under the banner of Madura Coats and Fevicryl. She is an official tutor of Madurai Coats. She said that since she was not interested in higher studies, she chose craftwork after passing the Plus Two exam. She did courses in needle-work and in fabric painting. Her hand embroidery work on handkerchiefs, table cloths and head-rest covers drew attention and a stream of orders and thus created a steady business. "At least two out of ten inquiries about my work gets me business," she said. Anita is based on TTK Road.

Kartik Fine Arts launches its festival for ‘December season’

By Our Edit Team

Kartik Fine Arts always keeps its date with the monsoon in Chennai on the day it launches its December Season art festival. Though the rain took a break on December 1 evening and cyclone Ditwah weakened, giving artistes, guests and rasikas time to get into Narada Gana Sabha auditorium in time for the event, it began to rain heavily some 30 minutes into the event. It was an evening to award two young artistes at the 51st edition of the art fest. Flutist J. A. Jayant and Bharatanatyam artiste Deepthi Ravichandran, besides others. Besides the chief guest, Singapore-based businessperson Neelamani Muthukumar, there was Sangita Kalanidi-designate, violinist R K Shriran Kumar on stage. He was effusive in his praise for the art and the career of Jayant and of Deepthi, besides that of vocalist S. Suryaprakash, who was also recognised but could not be present since he is currently in Australia. Young violinist Parur M. K. Ananthalakshmi and G. Nagarajan of Chrompet Cultural Academy were also honoured. Senior theatre person Bombay Gnanam, who walked on to the stage to felicitate Deepthi, said that the artiste started her career in the arts as a theatre artiste, made an impact and then performed as a dancer at concerts. And flutist Jayant said that when he sought breaks on concert platforms at a time when instrumental music was largely ignored, sabhas like Kartik welcomed him. Following the awards and launch event, there was a concert by Amritha Murali.

City church choirs perform at Christmas music event at church in Mandaveli

By Juliana Sridhar

Christmas music was in the air at CSI St Luke's Church in Mandaveli on Sunday evening (Nov.30) - the church hosted 'Jinglezzz', its annual ecumenical carols event at the church campus. Due to the rain, the event was delayed.

Teams from CSI churches across the city as well as choirs of two Catholic churches - St. Louis Church in Adyar and Our Lady of Guidance Church in R. A. Puram were invited. Though the latter two were invited the past two years, they marked their presence only this year.

The event commenced with a prayer by the pastor Rev G. Dhanasekaran. The teams which arrived early performed first. Each group sang one or two carols, either in English or Tamil.

Most of the teams were dressed in colour-coordinated outfits and this lent colour to the event.

Despite the rain, a goodly number of people attended this event which ended close to 9 p.m. Each team was presented a memento and each participant was given a small gift.

The event was well organised by the church choir master W. Yudha under the guidance of the pastor and the pastorate committee.

Born on November 7, 1939 in Sattur near Madurai, Moses began his career as a chemist before founding Metal Brites in Chennai, where he pioneered aluminum color anodizing and contributed to projects such as the Ispahani Centre and the erstwhile Madras airport. He studied at St. Peter's in Thanjavur, St. Xavier's in Palayamkottai, and completed his MSc course in chemistry at American College, Madurai. Moses married Brindah Doris Moses in 1966, had three daughters and made their home in San Thome for nearly four decades. At St. Thomas English Church in San Thome, he helped conceptualise a school for underprivileged children and assisted in establishing a prayer altar on the church premises.

Karthigai Deepam

The light, intermittent rain took a break on Thursday evening (December 4) as Karthigai Deepam celebrations began at Sri Kapaleswarar Temple in Mylapore. The grand alankaram of the ambal, of the lord and ambal and of Sri Murugan and his consorts stood out at the far end of the Navaratri mantapam inside the temple. A few hundred people were here. At the end of the deeparadhanai, the procession of the gods began and the palaquins were rested in the 16-pillated mantap in Sannidhi Street in the eastern precinct of the temple zone.

Then, the priests carried the fire to the sokkapanai set up at the far end of the street and lit it up even as over one thousand people prayed, chanted and took photographs. Around the same time, similar rituals went on at Sri Veleeswarar Temple on South Mada Street. The sokkapanai, erected opposite the temple, was later hit.

Advent is a season in the Christian calendar that leads to the celebration of Christmas. November 30 marked the first Sunday of Advent. At the St. Thomas Cathedral in San Thome, the first of four candles located alongside the altar, was lit for the Holy Masses of the day.

Deputy CM honours cyclists for state-wide tour to spread messages on environment

By Our Edit Team

Deputy chief minister Udayanidhi Stalin took part in the finale of a marathon cycling endeavour themed ‘Pasumai Payanam’ held on November 20 at the indoor auditorium of San Thome H. S. School, San Thome. He honoured the youths who had undertaken this marathon cycling tour for a cause.

Archbishop Rev. George Antonysamy and the Mylapore MLA were also present.

For some weeks now, this group of cyclists have been cycling across Tamil Nadu, starting from Kanyakumari, and spreading the message of protecting the environment and enhancing it. They have been joined by youth volunteers on this trip in the many districts the cyclists have traversed.

This project is jointly organised by AICUF, a national body for youth and the TN wing of CRI, a national body representing Catholic religious congregations in India.

Sister Maria Philomi, head of the Bon Secours congregation of nuns and president of TN-CRI said that they were inspired by late pope Francis’ communications on the environment he had shared in his lifetime and launched this project. The Bon Secours nuns manage a few schools in the Mandaveli - Alwarpet zone.

Sundal, kozhukattai and tea / coffee

By Baskar Seshadri

Gowtham Caterers has recently opened a small snacks outlet in Luz Church Road; it is called Srivari Foods and is located near the popular Rangachari Cloth Stores.

The shop offers hot tea and coffee, samosa and a variety of sundal, kozhukottai and herbal tea. Sandwiches are also offered here.

People who work in the offices and stores on and around this road which has been barricaded at the west end for a long time for Chennai Metro work, have found this place a good one to stop for a cup of tea and snacks.

Anuradha and her son Gowtham manage this place, which is open only from 3.30 p.m to 8.30 p.m.

The shop is promoted by Goutham Caterers. Contact number – 99629 99961

HOW TO HEAL YOURSELF. GITA, A CERTIFIED HEALTH COACH, CONSULTS

By Our Edit Team

Gita Jayakumar, a resident of R. A. Puram is a certified health coach and nutrition expert.

She holds training classes and also consults on a one-on-one basis, both online and offline. “My focus is on whole body solutions that cover mental, emotional and spiritual health and well-being,” she says.

Born and brought up in Bangalore, Gita holds a post-graduate degree in life sciences from EIU, Paris. She is pursuing her doctoral study on Feng Shui. Her interest in health and nutrition began some three decades ago and over time, she has specialised in this area.

“Chennai is still warming up to this idea of whole body solutions,” said Gita who consults for clients across the world, online. Over time, word-of-mouth references have increased the number of people who turn to her for advice.

Said Gita, “I have extensive experience in dealing with all sorts of health issues of people. My focus is on helping people understand the power they have within them to heal and transform, to tap and harness that power, and to make use of that power in healing themselves.”

Gita adds that she does not treat the symptom: she treats what’s really causing the problem.

“I am trained in different healing methods that focus on emotions, thoughts, and how they affect physical health. I don’t use medicines or physical treatments. Instead I use techniques that help people’s natural healing ability to kick in. I help people tap into the natural healing power for emotional and mental issues,” adds Gita.

Gita can be reached at gitajayakumar@yahoo.com
