VINCENT'S JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Tiffin isn't always part of my evenings. But I look to snack. And when I am out on the streets, I catch the whiff of tempting food.

It happened one recent evening when I stepped out to the Hobby Fish Store to buy some fish food. This is among the row of shops which have been suffocated by the expanding barricades of Chennai Metro work in the Adyar zone. "Business is really bad and it will be so for some years," the shopkeeper told me. "We are hanging on because of the location."

This is a story I have heard from many shop-keepers around Luz Circle and on Kutchery Road.

Walking back from the shop, the smell of bajjis being cooked in a push-cart wrapped around me. I had spotted this cart some weeks ago, just off the main road. Now it was near the gate of a mosque, pushed back by work on the Chennai Metro project.

This evening, the push cart had bajjis and vada. It also had meat cutlets and rolls. I may have grabbed a cutlet. But I held back. I am wary of the quality of the oil in such push carts.

Our neighbourhoods have a tradition of food nooks coming alive in the evenings. People swarm around them if the fare is good.

I was introduced to molaga bajjis in school. I was happy with samosas at our favourite Irani restaurant on Mount Road, not far from the office of The Mail, the now defunct evening newspaper. When my school classmates and I walked home, down Harris Road, Pudupet, and some of them halted at Green Cafe for a snack, the others chose to devour molaga bajjis at the push-cart close-by.

Masala vada is my evening time favourite. It is the crunchiness that creates an effect. Thirumala Cutlets in Adyar is a 'must go' nook.

When I am in Mylapore, walking down Ponnambala Vathiyar Street, I stop and stare at the dozens of snack nooks here. The man who sells a variety of sundal from his moped/cycle is now a Instagram star. People even take selfies here. Janal Bajji is still a big draw but there are many pretenders minus the 'janal'. And the person who packs warm string hoppers ( idiyappams) from a cycle pad holds much fascination.

St. Marys Road building demolition affects residents

The demolition of a building opposite Alphabet School on St. Mary's Road has been done since Nov./Dec., 2025, with complete apathy to the neighbourhood residents. The corrugated sheets are not high enough to block the dust and the green netted cloth covering is tattered. Complaints to GCC and requests to the construction team by neighbouring residents next door - have not helped. The demolition shows utter disregard for the health and safety of neighbours. Heavy dust and light particulate matter and debris on a daily basis falls outside and inside residences. Norms to reduce dust pollution such as water sprinkling, effective high barricades and netting have not been followed.

GCC and local police must take action

- Sindhuja S.

Street corner benches not a good idea

Refer Vincent's Jottings column in Mylapore Times dated Feb.21. The suggestion for benches at street corners for people to take breaks is somewhat a conflict of opinion.

When we look around in Mandavelipakkam, it is a common sight to see groups of people, during the day, gathered at ironing carts on pavements outside houses or at mobile food stalls outside parks, gossiping. At night, often autos are parked outside our street junctions and serve as bars. Can this be called inclusivity?

- Saroj Satyanarayan

Need for speed-breakers in Mandavelipakkam

There is always heavy traffic at all times in Second Trust Main Road, Mandavelipakkam - between Madha Church Road (Round Tana ) and the pillar near 5th Trust Cross Street junction. There are no speed breakers on this road to slow down the traffic. Speed breakers are needed at two places - near the intersections of 2nd Trust Main Road and 11th Trust Cross Street & 14th Trust Cross Streets.

- S. Rajasekar

Slack service at Ratna Cafe

I have been a customer of Ratna Cafe since 1960 (Triplicane) when 2 idlis cost 14 paise and there was no extra charge for sambar. Later, the service was great at Shanthi Vihar in Luz which was maintained by Ratna Cafe. But we had a different experience at the Cafe in Mylapore recently. We ordered for idlis to be eaten there and also ordered for take-away items. Both were done at the same time. We paid the bills for both bills. But the parcel was not ready even after half an hour.

I asked for the suggestion book but the staff just blinked and said that they didn't know such a book existed. But there is a signboard here that says complaint / suggestion book exists.

- K. R. Jambunathan

PWD to build the banks along Canal (August 10, 1996)

By S. Janaky

The Public Works Department is to begin building the banks of the Buckingham Canal in Mylapore soon. Work on this project is expected to commence within five days of opening tenders, which has been scheduled for August 9. Officials said that they need not wait for government approval as the state PWD minister, Durai Murugan, has already sanctioned the plans and confirmed it in the Assembly.

Club in Luz raided (August 3, 1996)

Police raided Ganapathy Cultural Association in Karpagambal Avenue at midnight on July 30. The club reportedly functioned beyond permitted hours, in violation of rules. Eighteen persons were arrested. Although the club is open for all sports activities, it was apparently being used mainly for playing cards, to gamble. Rs. 5 lakh was seized from the premises. Some foreign currency was also found. The club's secretary has claimed that the cash was a personal loan that he had taken and not gambling money, the police added.

Fashion shows dominate social of Rani Meyyammai Towers community

Residents of Rani Meyyammai Towers in MRC Nagar enjoyed a socio-cultural event titled RMT Extravaganza which was held over two nights at the campus. The event blended fashion with community shows.

In the fashion show, children strutted with confidence, women shimmered in Indo-Western fusion – conceptualised and trained by Iris Events and men owned the catwalk, wearing Indian Terrain outfits.

Residents — young and senior — volunteered, practiced, designed, danced, sang, and walked on the ramp. Cultural shows spanned folk dances, mod choreography, musical medleys, and dramatic skits.

The evenings hosted some eminent people too as dignitaries: writer Sivashankari, Sivashankaran, founder of Aircel & AIWO and Anu Alex, cultural ambassador.

Anupama Ramachandran is World Snooker Champion

This sportsperson is a resident of Mandaveli. She started out playing at The Mylapore Club

By Kanaka Cadambi

Mylaporean Anupama Ramachandran became the first Indian woman to win the IBSF World Women's Snooker Championship held in November 2025 in Doha, Qatar. A seasoned international snooker player, Anupama is a student of the M.O.P. Vaishnav College for Women, Chennai, where she is enrolled for her second master's degree.

The year before, in 2024, she won the Asian Women Snooker Championship.

The story of Anupama's blazing success began at a summer camp she attended at The Mylapore Club. Every year, the club organises summer camps in badminton, chess, snooker and other games. Anupama would choose a different sport each year. Once she casually opted for snooker, got hooked on it and has never looked back. This decision was the starting point for the history that she is scripting now.

In January 2017, Anupama tasted big success, winning her first national title in the Sub-Junior Snooker (under-18) Championship. The same year, she got her first international title, winning the gold medal at the IBSF World Open under-16 Championship in Russia. Five gold medals, five silvers and five bronzes at the global level are a clear reflection of the youngster's grit and determination.

Anupama is also the reigning National Women's Billiards Champion, having clinched the gold medal at the national championship in Haryana in January this year. At this point, her kitty contains eleven gold and eleven silver medals at the national level and 36 titles across various age categories at the state level. She holds the Indian record for the highest break by a woman player in snooker.

In the early days, Anupama trained at The Mylapore Club. She later moved to the Madras Cricket Club. She was coached by S. A. Saleem, the renowned Chennai-based player and coach. In 2023, she started training abroad under the tutelage of Nigel Bond from the UK.

Being the first Indian woman to win the IBSF World Snooker Championship is something to be cherished. Said Anupama, "The world title was special because it marked a personal milestone and it was a record for the country."

She is also happy that awareness about snooker and billiards is slowly increasing. "When I started playing in 2016 and up to the time I won the under-16 world title, there was no recognition for this sport in Tamil Nadu. After 2019, recognition has come by and with it, came several benefits."

Increasing the league formats could take the game to the people and help increase awareness, she said in an interview.

A resident of Norton Street in Mandaveli, Anupama studied at Vidya Mandir, Mylapore.

Said the champion, "Although I pursued an unconventional journey, I have had the unflinching support of my family, friends and teachers."

Her father, Ramachandran, has played a pivotal part in her career. He quit his real estate business to help Anupama focus on her career. Her mother, Gayatri, is a chartered accountant.

Anupama may be reached at 9841677366 or 7299077366.

Obituary

Abiramapuram resident Vijaya Venkataramanan, 89 years, passed away on February 12.

Born on June 11, 1937, in Badagara (now called Vadakara), Kerala, Vijaya developed an affinity for fine arts early in life. After her schooling in Badagara and her study time at the Maharaja's College in Ernakulam, she married M. R. Venkataramanan, son of the renowned Carnatic maestro Palghat Rama bhagavathar.

In time, the family made their home in Chennai, where Venkataramanan began his chartered accountancy practice as a partner in the famed firm RGN Price & Co. Here, Vijaya embraced motherhood, raising her three children, Sriram, Roja, and Meena.

Though her own dreams of a degree remained unfinished, her passion for the arts did not fade. She sought out two of the era's great Bharatanatyam gurus - K. J. Sarasa and Vjyayanthimala Bali - to introduce Roja and Meena to classical dance.

She was a founding member of the Monday Charity Club, a charity group ideated and started by Savithri Vaithi and later served as a trustee of Vishranthi, an old age home, an initiative of the Monday Charity Club.

For over four decades, Vijaya was deeply involved in this project. One initiative of the Club was the popular Oondrukol project, supporting the underprivileged with their monthly provisions.

She was vice-president of Vishranthi for many years, till she retired.

She leaves behind her three children - M. V. Sriram, entrepreneur and an administrator in the sport of rowing, Roja Kannan, a senior Bharatanatyam exponent and teacher and Dr. Meena Subramanyam, oncologist.

Gentle start to Panguni fest of Sri Kapali Temple

By Our Edit Team

The lakna patrikai event of the annual Panguni festival of Sri Kapaleswarar Temple, Mylapore is a very significant event and it draws only a small number of people; these are people who are at the temple almost every day. So it was, when the ritual for this year was held at this temple on February 26 evening.

That evening, the man-tapam near the image of the genial Nandi, was where the action was. The elaborate abhishekam which ran for over 90 minutes. For the gods. Using milk and sandal paste, fruits and water and more, watched closely by the women who were the majority here.

The sight was resplendent when the sandal dripped down the images and droplets flew into the air.

Ten priests conducted the rituals.

After this was done, the gods moved to the sanctum where the patrikai was read. An invitation to the gods for the temple's brahmotsavam, detailing all the events and the dates on which these would be held. One would call this similar to a ritual at a pre-wedding event.

The brahmotsavam is scheduled to start on March 23

but the official schedule from the temple has not yet been made public.

It ends on Feb. 28 and you may want to share the news with people who stand to benefit.

All public health centres (PHC) offer this facility – provided by qualified nurses. On Friday morning, we witnessed the campaign going on at the PHC of R. K. Nagar, Mandaveli

TAMIL DRAMA ON CARNATIC MUSIC COMPOSERS. March 7

The Tamil drama - Sangeetha Mummoorthigal - based on lives and music of Carnatic music trinity composers is to be staged on March 7, 6.30 p.m. onwards at The Kalyana Nagar Association, Mandavelipakkam. Open to all.

'Bombay' Gnanam presents play themed on saint Purandaradasar

Mahalakshmi Ladies Drama Group (MLDG) is staging a Tamil musical play themed on saint Purandaradasar.

He is called sangitha pitha mahar, the father of music.

He laid down the system of musical notes for Carnatic music.

This musical play titled "Bhagavan Sri Panduranganin Purandaradasar" has been written, directed and produced by the founder of MLDG, Bombay Gnanam, a veteran artiste who is involved in Tamil theatre, films and television serials.

This play, with many shows, is open to the public for free and will be staged in Mylapore Fine Arts Club (MFAC) sabha hall, Mylapore from March 2 to 7, daily, starting at 6.45 pm and on March 8 at 10am.

Mylapore Times Trust seeks funds to help students

Mylapore Times Charitable Trust (MTCT) has launched its campaign to seek donations from Mylaporeans and well wishers to fund studies of students in local schools for 2026 - '27. Every year, some 30-40 students who pass out from Class 10 and Class 12 with good marks and wish to move up and need some funds, apply to the Trust.

Donations enjoy IT exemption too. Just call Mylapore Times / Shanthi or Neela / at 2498 2244 and they will facilitate easy-to-make donations.

This is how Adam Street, Mylapore looked last weekend. Gravel and sand dumped here and there for a storm water drain work. This condition affects motorists and pedestrians, more when the work drags on and on. Mylapore's inner streets are narrow and busy and so, residents say, when civic work is carried out it must be executed smartly.

Kumbabishekam of new temple of Thiruvalluvar

By Our Edit Team

A few hundred people gathered inside the new-look, completely re-constructed, all-granite temple dedicated to Thiruvalluvar located in a small street of Mylapore on February 27 morning to participate in the temple's kumbabishekam.

A group of priests followed the rituals prescribed for this event, carrying holy water to the top of the vimanas for Valluvar, Vasuki, Shiva, Muruga and Vinakaya, using the temporary staircases set up for this occasion.

The Mylapore MLA and HR & CE department officials participated in this two-hour long event. On Thursday, the homams that must be followed for a kumbabishekam were conducted here throughout the day.

The place looks so different now but we are told there is still work to be done.

■ ACCESSING THE TEMPLE

From Royapettah High Road, head to Kalvi Varu Street, cross the bridge of M. K. Amman Koil St., take Nattu Subbaraya Street and turn into Thiruvalluvar Koil Street. From the Kutchery Road side, get into M. K. Amman Koil St. and head to its far end.

Fancy fete at cathedral

By Our Edit Team

The campus of St. Thomas Cathedral in San Thome came alive on Sunday, February 8 as the congregation hosted its annual fancy fete for a cause. Funds raised at this event went to the Mission Sunday offering of the parish.

18 teams from the cathedral's 'anbiyams' (small Christian communities) took charge of stalls set up in the campus for the fete which was on from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. There were nooks for fun games and sales but the counters which buzzed all day were the ones that offered snacks and food, with biryani selling out at the lunch hour.

A host of one stall said that the stalls that sold Kerala and Chettinad food were the big attraction. "A group from Kerala visiting the Cathedral was impressed with the kappa and fish curry sold at one stall," he said.

The fete was planned by parish priest Fr. Vincent Chinnadurai and his team of priests and executed by 'anbiyams'.

Supermarket opens on East Mada Street

By Baskar Seshadri

Retail stores and supermarkets keep popping up across Mylapore and a recent one is called PAARR Ever, part of Kaleesuware Retail Pvt. Ltd.

PAARR Ever, located on East Mada Street, north of the theradi, offers a wide range of products including groceries, stationery, pooja items, toys, cosmetics, dairy products, and ice creams — all under one roof. This is the group's ninth outlet in the city.

Spacious, air-conditioned and well designed, PAARR staff say their product prices are below market rates — and in many cases, even below online prices and MRP.

The store is open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. without a lunch break. Contact 96005 20373.

Mayana Kollai in Mylapore

By Madhan Kumar

The Mayana Kollai festival is said to be a pre-Vedic festival and is still practiced in a temple in Mylapore. At Sri Angala Parameswari Amman Temple located in Sri Mundagakanni Amman Koil Street.

People here say that this festival has been celebrated for centuries.

Elaborate rituals take place days before the grand finale.

On February 17, the Amman was taken out in a grand procession through the main street. Some devotees sacrificed fowl for the occasion and danced. A few were seen dancing with goats on their shoulders. Besides hundreds of people from this area, many families from across the city take part.

The procession ended in the graveyard of Mylapore, behind the offices of the DG of Police of TN, where a final ritual, symbolic of Mayana Kollai was held.

The two gopurams and all the vimanas of Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple have been illuminated. The lighting gives the temple a great look at night, when seen from afar. About Rs.2 crores was spent on this project. Tamil Nadu's HRCE department minister P. K. Sekar Babu inaugurated the new lighting system on February 15.

YOUR OPINION PLEASE

Some temple-goers suggest that the 16-pillar mantapam on the eastern side of this temple, in Sannidhi Street, must also be illuminated. This will add to the visual scene of this temple precinct. What are your thoughts? WhatsApp 2 lines to - 7305630727

Special lighting in sections of Alwarpet flyover

By Madhan Kumar

Traffic Police recently arranged for special lighting on a section of the borders on the flyover in Alwarpet which links TTK Road with C. P. Ramaswamy Road.

The blue and white lighting is strapped on either edges of the road on the section off Narada Gana Sabha and also where the flyover curves at its topmost point.

Police said the lights burning at night alert motorists; there have been cases where drivers have had a narrow escape while negotiating the curve on the flyover.
