CCTV INSTALLATION AND SERVICE, ELECTRONIC ACCESSORIES

Name of the shop: New Kevin Electronics
Address: 172/127 Kutchery Road (opposite Dinakaran office), Mylapore.
Owner: P. David
Phone: 48517519, 9840263732
Timings: all days 10 am to 9.30 pm.

New Kevin Electronics is a seven-year-old shop. Owned by P David, the shop deals with installation and servicing of CCTV systems.

"I have 30 years of experience in the field of electronics. There were times when installing CCTV was considered an elite affair. It is not so anymore. It has become absolutely necessary in the present times," says David. A single camera, memory card and installation costs Rs 2750. This addresses the security concerns of aged people at home, as they can be monitored on a mobile even from remote locations, he says.

Premier brands like Hikvision, Dahua, CP Plus are installed. "The package cost would go up to Rs 13000 if the house needs 4 cameras to cover the different locations. Internet connection is needed for remote access," he says.

New Kevin Electronics also sells computer accessories, assembled computers, cordless phones, cordless bells, headsets, mosquito bats, emergency lamps, TV remotes and wall mounting accessories, mini home theatres and stabilizers. "I also help in the servicing of these items but I get it done elsewhere," he adds.

Vasanthalakshmi Narasimhachari given Nritya Kalanidhi award

Classical dancer and teacher Vasanthalakshmi Narasimhachari who resides and works from Alwarpet was decorated with the prestigious Nritya Kalanidhi award on January 3 evening by The Music Academy at the Academy's auditorium located off TTK Road.

A large number of the awardee's sishyas and well-wishers attended the event and felicitated. Vasanthalakshmi informally after the event

This event launched the Academy's 17th dance festival, which is on till Jan.9. Concerts are ticketed; two recitals every evening.

Thank You, Auto Driver

Srinivas V. Iyer wants to send a public 'thank you' to a auto driver of Mylapore whose name he never got to know.

Because a purse with credit and debit cards besides IDs that he misplaced recently was restored to him by the driver.

"He managed to locate me and refused to accept a gift for his honesty," said Srinivas, a Bhaktavatsalam Salai resident for 30 years who had engaged the auto to head to a Mylapore school to attend Sai bhajans on a weekend.

" I think I left the purse in the auto when I got out in a hurry. We must appreciate such honest people, " he says.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

There are a few ideas that take me deep for our annual Mylapore Festival (www.mylaporefestival.in), now in its formal 20th year - its avatar takes it back over a few years! One of them is looking for less-known talent to perform on our stages in the open air.

This weekend, I am hoping that one little bundle we have chosen will keep its promise and the little ones will enjoy themselves.

This bundle is made up of students from St. Lazarus Middle School based in R. A. Puram in our neighbourhood; a school we have supported through the Mylapore Times Charitable Trust for over two decades.

The nun-HM here called me to share her joy in early December - students of the school had won the top place in a city-level, state-run cultural show and had been invited to compete at the state level. Their teachers had curated a medley of folk music and dance of Tamil Nadu, squeezed it into some seven minutes and trained the middle-schoolers.

The trip for the state-level show was aborted the day the rains came down heavily.

"Can the students perform on our stage?" I asked the nun.

"Why not?"

"They are in," I said.

That week, the teachers made a shopping trip to M C Road in North Chennai, the Pondy Bazaar of that part of the city, to buy costumes the kids didn't possess. Mary, their guide-teacher, expanded the music - we wanted a 16-minute show: and rehearsals began.

This group will perform on the weekend on the main stage zone outside Sri Kapali Temple.

This Festival, we also invited two classical dance groups who are looking for a stage - one is from the west zone of the city and another one from the Ranipet zone of our state. They are excited too. They will perform only for 20-odd minutes but the stage is what excites them all.

Besides providing the stage for talents that need a break, I push for responsible use of civic open spaces. Parks, playground, street corners and beach-ends, and more.

Why must the community do this? Because it is our property, given to us for good use. The city's civic body has relaid and redesigned many parks, at great cost.

They look lovely and green.

We must get Greater Chennai Corporation to maintain it.

But we must also take charge of it.

First, we are its gate-keepers. Ensure maintenance is good, that hoodlums don't misuse the space and others don't pollute it.

Then, curate small local events that align with the nature of the space and its surroundings.

A mike-less concert. Quiet readings and conversations. Low-profile workshops - held in various spaces in the park.

Yes, allow people to walk and exercise and breathe and stretch and have their time in the sun and shade.

Incorporate events in the shade, and do not be loud.

This way, the talents of the park / playground neighbourhood find a stage and an audience. This way, people come up, gather and converse.

This way, the space is alive in the quiet.

Mess created inside Sri Kapali Temple mantap

This photo here shows the scene inside the 16-pillar mantap outside Sri Kapali Temple in Mylapore at about 12.30 p.m. on January 2.

It was very distressing to see. We do not know who messed up the place.

How do we act against such misuse?

- Kanmani T.

'Loosely-planted' signboards pose danger

Temporary 'No Parking' sign boards have been placed near Rani Meyyammai Girls Higher Secondary School on R K Mutt Road. The boards are planted loosely in mud-filled containers and are tilted posing a risk to commuters. Similar sign boards have been placed on Srinivasa Avenue Road as well.

Traffic Police should take corrective action immediately as schoolchildren use both the roads.

- C. Balarajan

A suggestion to decongest Luz

The passage alongside and inside MRTS Thirumylai Railway Station campus can be cleared and used to reach Sai Baba Koil junction, once Luz Circle is completely shut for Chennai Metro work.

All small vehicles except four wheelers can be allowed to use this path to reach the western side. The passage, if re-laid and made encroachment-free, can be used to reach Canal Bank Road, near Dr Ranga Road.

I wish Railways, Metro and Traffic Police officials would take up this idea.

- Baskar Seshadri

Changing Luz Circle must be documented

Is anybody documenting all the changes that are taking place in and around Luz Circle?

Old buildings are being brought down, old and favourite stores like Millions and Millions have shut down, old food joints may see really bad business, popular hawkers will be cleared up for next two years.

This large-scale change needs to be documented well.

- Geetha Priya

Nomination; useful info

Customers having joint accounts in banks should opt for - Either or Survivor - option and use nomination facility also additionally.

This is applicable to fixed deposits as well.

Single account holders should ensure that nomination is given. Otherwise, it is difficult to close and get the balance amount after the lifetime of the account holder.

Some banks insist on a legal heir certificate and also authorisation from Notary Public after getting consent from siblings. It is a long-drawn and time-consuming process.

- C. R. Balaji

Mylapore Nooks; bring out booklet

The Nooks series that is run on page 2 of Mylapore Times has been very useful. The variety, the zones covered and the efforts of people running the businesses are well documented.

I hope Mylapore Times can find sponsors to bring out a handy booklet on say 100 Nooks this year.

MY STORY

An Ode to R. A. Puram

By N. RAMA RAO

As one who settled down in R.A.Puram as early as 1954 when I was a student, I recall with pleasure the genesis and growth of this locality.

This was a neighbourhood in a spacious agricultural land located off St.Mary's Road on the southern side, which was part of a huge area once owned by S. Rm. M. Annamalai Chettiar, renowned banker and philanthropist of an earlier era.

The present R.A. Puram, with its main roads and cross roads, emerged in the1950s as a well designed neighbourhood, thanks to the Madras Cooperative House Construction Society.

I had witnessed the roads being laid robustly. Those who built houses through the Society, which were mostly single storeyed houses– belonged to the educated middle-class like government officials, executives, journalista, lawyers and teachers.

Among the early settlers here were senior journalists J. B. Appasamy of The Hindu and A. S. Kumaraswami of The Mail, the now defunct once popular evening newspaper, veena artiste Kalpagam Swaminathan, Tamil writer P. Sri and cine artiste K.A.Thangavelu, to mention a few.

In the course of time, many VIPs moved to R. A. Puram. In the initial years, most residents used public transport.

Buses on the routes No. 5 (Adyar - Parry's), No.5A (shuttle service to Parry's) and No.23 (Adyar - Egmore) plied with a frequency each of twenty to thirty minutes.

The cycle was the most favoured vehicle of many for domestic use though there were some who cycled to offices located in places like Mount Road and even Perambur.

While there were a few people who owned two-wheelers, owning a car then was a luxury to most of us here. Autorickshaws in the area were few and far between. Hand -pulled rickshaw and cycle-rickshaws were the popular modes of transport for shopping and ferrying children to schools and back.

Much later, Second Main Road and Third Cross Road were connected to Mandaveli and Adyar by newly-built bridges over the Canal.

Only a few households had a landline phone. They would graciously allow their neighbours to use their phones.

Today, R.A.Puram is considered one of the best maintained localities thanks to the efforts of different departments of Chennai Corporation and the unstinted co-operation of the second and third generation residents in implementing welfare measures under the banners of RAPRA and earlier resident welfare associations

Panchapakesa Iyer's books on Carnatic music: his family seeks to reach them afar

By Preetha K.

Sudha Bhasker talks in awe about her grandfather - vidwan A. S. Panchapakesa Iyer. The love and respect she has for her grandfather and for his contribution to the Carnatic music world reflects in every word she utters.

Her family is on a mission to carry forward the legacy left behind by the vidwan.

Knowing Iyer

A. S. Panchapakesa Iyer is the younger brother of Alathur Srinivasa Iyer, of the famous Alathur Brothers (gshot of vocalist duo): he learnt music from his brother and from Mayavaram Rajam Iyer.

Iyer is best known for his books on Carnatic music which are, to this day, used by students all over the world. His works include Ganamrutha Bodhini, Ganamrutha Varnamalika and Ganamrutha Keerthanamalika.

Ganamrutha Bodhini is the book used by beginners in Carnatic music. His books are available in different languages – Tamil, English, Kannada, Telugu and Malayalam.

Iyer's touch

Sudha says that the books are not translations.

"They were personally created by my grandfather, in all languages. He learnt Telugu, Kannada and Malayalam, only to write these books in each language. The books are his invaluable contribution to Carnatic music. The order of the varnams and keerthanas are set according to the difficulty level of a learner. They are perfect guides for Carnatic music," she says.

Other works

Panchapakesa Iyer has authored close to 40 books in four languages including the one in theoretical music – Karnataka Sangeetha Shastra.

Apart from teaching in the Rasika Ranjani Sabha, Mylapore for over three decades, Iyer was also associated with Kalashetra in Chennai for about four years, served as Principal of Bharatiya Music and Arts Society, Mumbai for 17 years and Sivan Arts Academy, Chennai for three years.

Ganamrutha Prachuram

Ganamrutha Prachuram, the publishing firm, was established by late Panchapakesa Iyer in the 1950s. All of Iyer's works are published, year on year, as the demand keeps increasing.

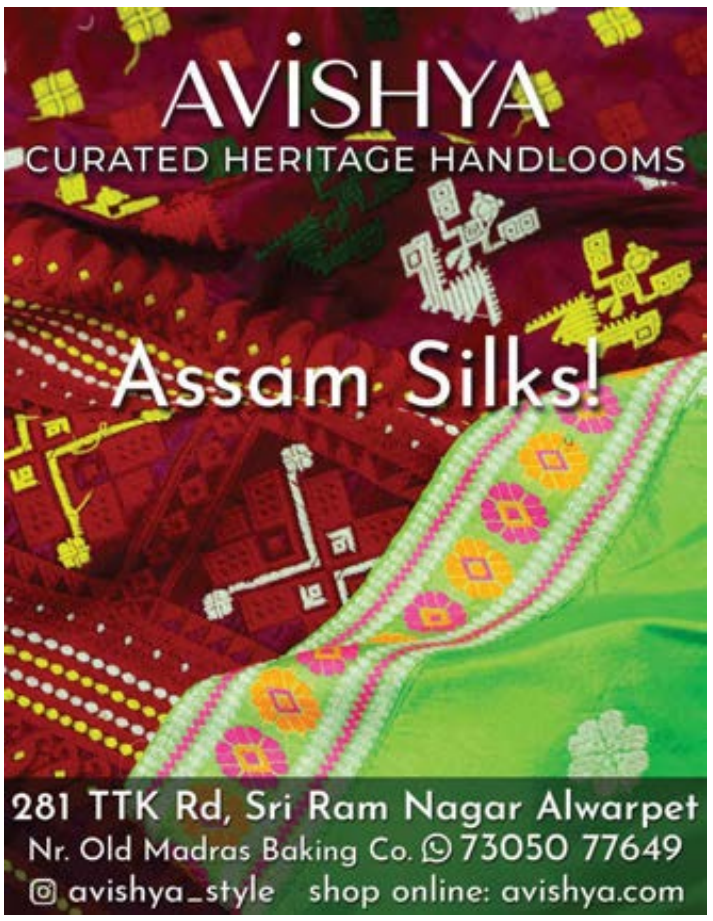

"We are publishers of these books. Many retail shops buy from us," says Sudha.

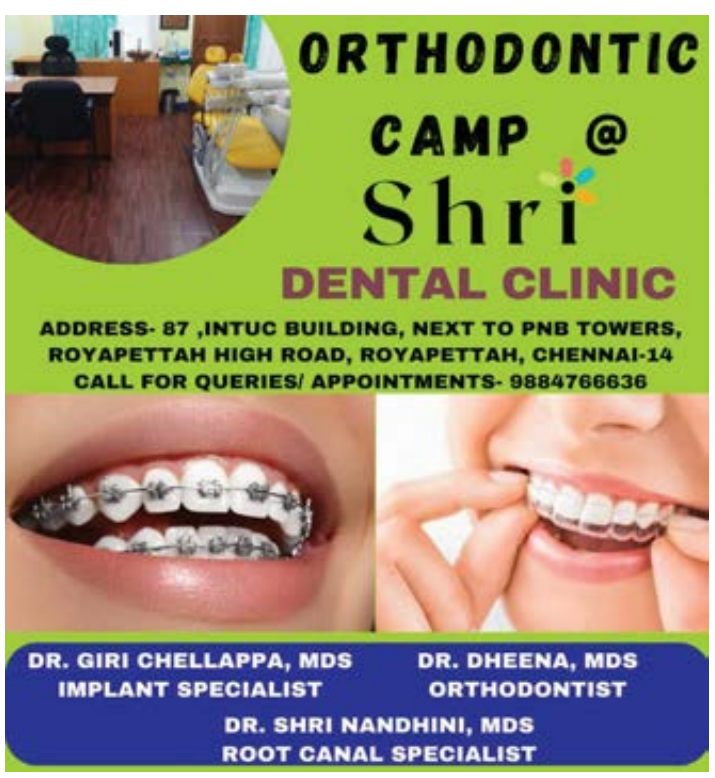

Her sister R. Sangeetha, mother Sarada Ramachandran and father S. P. Ramachandran run the publishing house now. They say they do their best in helping the books reach far and wide.

Sudha reveals that Kumaresh-Ganesh, Unnikrishnan, Bombay Jayashri and Vani Jairam were among the many illustrious disciples who got schooled under Iyer.

More details about the books can be got by messaging the family at 9841571613/ 9841571672 or by sending an email to ganamruthaprachuram.books@gmail.com or by logging on to www.ganamruthaprachuram.com

MYLAPORE FESTIVAL SNAPSHOTS

Two faces of the annual Sundaram Finance MYLAPORE FESTIVAL have stood out the past 48 hours - the fest was launched in the morning on January 4. It ends around 10pm, Sunday.

One - the delight and enthusiasm in all the teens who presented group concerts (mikeless) at Nageswara Rao Park, for an hour from 7 a.m.

Two, the joy, fascination and interest of over 900 students who sat down in their school campuses over two mornings for the puppet shows of Kalaimamani-decorated artiste, Muthu Chandran and his folks from Kanniyakumari.

This troupe had shows at six local area schools - and all were big hits. This was part of the Festival's outreach plan - to take the performing arts to local schools.

Also, the Post Card Booth (located opp. Rasi store, Sannidhi Street) has become a huge hit - over 75 teens and kiddies have written post cards to their family / friends and dropped them in the special box here.

There was buzz and excited chatter on the campus of St. Antony's Girls' Higher Secondary School in Mandaveli one morning in December as students of Std. XI (2023- 2024) received the cycles, given free by the state government. The symbolic presentation was made by Dha. Velu, MLA, Mylapore and by Amirda Varshini, ward 126 councillor in the presence of school Headmistress Rev. Sr. Elizabeth Rani and the school staff.

Earlier, a set of senior students at P. S. Higher Secondary School in Mylapore also got the free cycles, with the Mylapore MLA formally presenting some cycles. The school's Headmistress and staff were present.

Soaking in Mylapore on Jan.1

The Mylapore Trio - Amarnath, Surendranath, Aparna - of 'Sumukham Kalakshetram' conducted the 22nd 'Spiritual and Cultural Walk' on January 1, 2024 around the 4 Mada Streets of Mylapore.

The event began with the singing of ganesha sthuthi and ended at Vaaniyar Mandapam. The veedhi ula kuzhu was led by the Mylapore Trio - they took turns to explain the histories of iconic buildings and institutions on the Mada Streets, doing this between songs that were sung at a few stops.

The Walk ended with a visit to an old house on Nadu Street which belongs to the Bala family. Ven-pongal with chutney and sambhar were served to all.

St. Isabel's Hospital sets up 128-slice CT scan unit

By Our Edit Team

A new 128-slice CT scan unit was dedicated and launched at St. Isabel's Hospital, Mylapore on December 1.

The guest was Fr. G. J. Anthonysamy, parish priest of Our Lady of Light Church, Luz. Other guests included Sr. Fatima Dias, executive director, Dr. Stephen Mathew, COO, Sr. Philomena Joseph, medical superintendent, Dr. Mohammed Raphy, medical administrator and the senior nuns of the congregation who manage this place and senior doctors.

This CT from GE is assisted by AI technology and delivers high resolution in a short time enabling faster decision making in emergency and acute care settings.

Sr. Fatima said that this new service for patients at St. Isabel's Hospital is testimony to the commitment of the hospital to its founding mission of doing good where there is good to be done.

Ten Cribs were chosen as winners in the contest of Mylapore Times

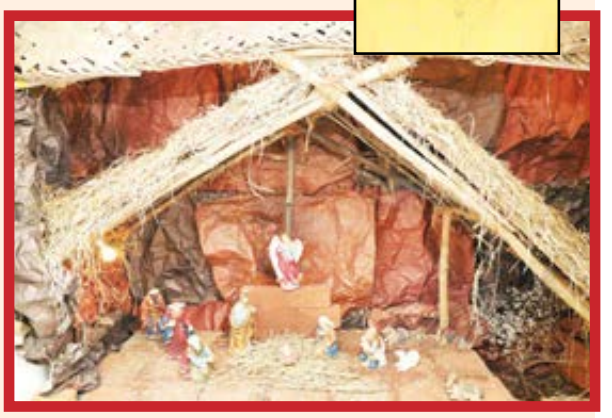

By Our Edit Team

One crib created at Christmastime and entered in the Mylapore Times Crib Contest stood out.

That of Dr. V. D. G. Chandran and Sashikala of San Thome.

It was themed on the ongoing war in Gaza and around the models of the birth of Jesus, which is what a crib symbolises were scenes showing soldiers of Israel and militants of Hamas fighting each other in a swathe of destruction and blood.

Many of the other prize-winning cribs had a creative touch to them. One team created a mid-East-like geography to set the crib, another team created a snow situation and a third had running water around the crib.

One team made good use of models of animals to create farms around the barn where Jesus was said to have been born.

Many used simple but stark illumination for the cribs and some, despite the limited space at their homes, managed to fit the crib in that space.

P. BERNARD & Family / San Thome;
INFANCIA MERITA / S. PETER's Family / St. Lazarus Church zone;
SAROJA at SEBASTIAN's house / San Thome:
VINOTH / Mandavelipakkam;
SHERLY J. MARY's Family St. Lazarus Church zone: V. PAULRAJ / St. Lazarus Church zone:
SMITHA at A M THOMAS' Family / Mandaveli;
S. THIRIBIEUSRAJ / St. Lazarus Church zone:
V. D. G.CHANDRAN & SASHIKALA / San Thome:
AMALRAJ S./ Mylapore.

Obituary

One of the city's passionate chess promoters and a chess champ himself at one time, R. Raghunathan, passed away on December 22, 2023. He was 75.

He was also co-founder of celebrated Tal Chess Club which founded and promoted chess in a big way in this city.

If Madras - that is now Chennai is the cradle of Indian chess - one of the persons who laid the foundations for the same was Raghunathan.

Raghunathan was one of the founders of Mikhail Tal Chess Club at the Russian Cultural Centre, Alwarpet that coached dozens of kiddies who went on to be chess masters, including the former world chess champion Grandmaster V. Anand.

He was also involved in running the Madras District Chess Association and Tamil Nadu State Chess Association.

A former National 'B' player, Raghunathan started playing serious chess at Solar House or Solar Chess Club located on South Mada Street in the Mylapore. He then got into the state and the national chess-playing circuit.

Raghunathan did his schooling at P. S. High School and B.Sc course in Vivekananda College – both in Mylapore - and went on to do M.Sc in American College in Madurai.

During his college days, he won laurels for his university chess team at the All India inter-university chess tournaments.

Raghunathan was the manager for the Indian Juniors chess team that consisted of International Master V. Ravikumar and Ramesh at the World Juniors Championship held in Norway several decades ago.

During his younger days, Raghunathan was adept in playing `blind chess' that is, playing the mental game literally in his mind with eyes blindfolded.

After his post-graduation, Raghunathan worked in Amco Batteries, Facit Asia, Eko Computers and Microsense. In between, he also dabbled in import consultancy.

About a decade ago, Raghunathan lost sight in both his eyes. Bravely accepting that fact, Raghunathan continued to do his normal activities including chess coaching.

His family members and friends who visited him at this home, saw in him, the reel character of Major Chandrakanth - a 1966 Tamil movie directed by late K. Balachander.

Raghunathan is survived by his wife Vasantha Raghunathan and two daughters – Ramya and Divya. Contact - 9962301342

P. Nurani Ananthanarayanan alias Anand, a resident of Alamelumangapuram, aged 50, passed away on December 15.

Anand studied in P S High School, Mylapore and attended the B.A (English Literature) course at Vivekananda College, Mylapore.

He was into the business of cashew processing and managed factories in Kovilambakkam and Saidapet.

"When he became a little ill, he took to helping people. He would attend to their needs of people who needed help," said his father N. A. Parasuraman.

Though Anand was not part of any social group or community association, he had his group of friends who would come together to organise and execute social welfare events.

"His main interest was to serve people. During the pandemic times, he helped many. He arranged food and medical aid for the needy," his father said.

Anand lost his mother 10 years ago. His sister lives in Oman.

His father, N. A. Parasuraman can be. reached at 16/47, Alamelumangapuram, Mylapore. Phone: 9940219056.

Annapurni Subramaniam, wife of C K S Mani, and a student of renowned veena vidwan late R Pitchumani Iyer, passed away on November 28. She was 90 years old.

Annapurni was a resident of Abiramapuram for 35 years before moving to a senior citizens' home seven years ago.

Her sister Kasthuri recalls her as a passionate veena teacher who had students of all ages – from tiny tots to elderly women – coming home to learn the art. "She used to love arranging concerts of her students in temples. She also encouraged them to participate in various stage performances in school too," said Kasthuri.

The family recalls that Annapurni was much loved by her students; they would spend long hours learning the to play the veena and then share their personal experiences with her. She used to love visiting the Anjaneyar Temple in Alwarpet and Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple.

Annapurni loved tailoring and embroidery as well.

Annapurni was a homemaker and her husband, C K S Mani worked for Indian Airlines.

"She was a strong woman and we used to admire her for her willpower," says Kasthuri, adding that Annapurni has visited many different countries.

Hailing from Kerala, Annapurni spoke Malayalam, Tamil and English. She did her schooling at St Ebbas and her college in Kerala.

Annapurni was the second child among five siblings. Her family can be reached at 9380812603 /9566056607

CHENNAI METRO: TRAFFIC CHANGES EXPECTED AFTER PONGAL

By Our Edit Team

So when will major traffic regulations and diversions come into effect in the Luz - Mylapore - Mandaveli areas in connection with Chennai Metro work?

The buzz is that this will happen after Pongal.

Street hawkers at Luz Circle say they will remain tight till Pongal; pre festival sales are big for them. They say they have conveyed this to Chennai Metro officials.

Meanwhile, barricading, traffic signals installation, traffic guides deployment work is on daily basis. Roads like Mandaveli Street, besides those around Sri Kapali Temple zone are being relaid - they will take the heavy traffic flow.

Areas like Royapettah High Road, R. K. Mutt Road, R. K. Nagar, R. A. Puram, Mandaveli, Abiramapuram and Alwarpet will be affected long-term by these changes.

MYLAPORE FESTIVAL

Weekend of Heritage Walks, Cul-Shows, Shopping and Snacking

By Our Edit Team

Is this a dancing Kali? How did this image find a place in Sri Kolavizhi Amman Temple?

These could be some questions that Padmapriya Bhaskaran, a heritage and temples scholar and activist will try to answer as she leads people on her 'Goddesses of Mylapore' Walk on January 7, Sunday.

This is one of three Walks (all are free and open to all) which are part of the annual Sundaram Finance Mylapore Festival (Jan. 4 to 7, 2024); it starts at 7 am at Sri Madhava Perumal Temple, Mylapore.

The other two Walks - Mylapore's Snacks Joints (Jan 6 evening) and Mylapore's Vintage Houses (Jan 7 morning) - promise to be engaging.

Walk leaders Sridhar Venkataraman and Tahaer Zoyab promise a few small surprises on the way - a snack you have never tasted and a house whose owner may let us in a bit!

The weekend of this Festival promises to be packed and interesting.

There is the Mylapore Quiz at Ranade Library, below the famed Sastri Hall in Luz. Sunday, 3 pm.
For teams of two. In English and in Tamil.
All questions are based on Mylapore and some will be tricky, some easy, says quiz master Sundararaman Chintamani.

File photo

On Sunday, at the far end of North Mada Street, after the Kolam and Rangoli contests, around 4 p.m., a group of specialist kolam designers will take over the same road space and intend to design very large kolams - to create a Kolam Art Gallery.
In one hour and if all goes well.

Three T-shirts have been released for the Festival - in white, Navy blue and black.

File photo

Sundaram Finance MD, Rajiv Lochan and his colleague Mohan Ananda Venkatesan, Sr. VP & Head, releasing the T-shirt and cloth bag for the Festival.

With the 'MYLAPORE' legend designed in kolam type design in sleek type.
These and more - Mylapore illustrations, Mylapore post cards set and tote bags - are souvenirs on sale at the stall near the 'ther' shed, opposite Rasi store.

In the same area will be the Post Card Podu stall - youth will encourage children to buy a card, write or draw on it and post it at the spot to their parents / grand-parents / friends.

The Main Stage Shows start at about 5.30pm and end around 10 pm. Sannidhi Street area.

Do walk down to the temple tank side to check out 20 stalls for Self Help Group women who will run their sales; shopping her will boost their confidence too.

All details are at www.mylaporefestival.in

"I have two important people to thank and I do this all the time," said classical dancer and arts promoter, discourses speaker and student of Vaishnavism, Zakit Hussain.

" They are dance guru Chitra Visveswaran and artiste Revathi Sankkaran. They cared and moulded me when I was thrown out of home and came to Madras."

Zakir and Narthaki Nataraj were honoured with awards by Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, on day one of Bhavan's Natyotsav 2024 - one till January 15 at its main auditorium.

Narthaki also spoke on the trials she had to face and the love that some people gave her at that time.

The dance fest follows the music festival of the Bhavan.

The festival was inaugurated by Nandini Ramani, senior Bharatanatyam exponent and teacher-scholar. Bhavan's head, N. Ravi was present at this event. The awards were instituted by Mohan Narayanan. The dance festival presents 45 performances (Bharatanatyam, Kuchipudi, Kathak, Odissi & Mohiniattam) by various artistes and groups.

The programme is non-ticketed and open to all.
