Free coaching in commerce for Plus One students, in accountancy for B. Com students

By Our Edit Team

Raja Annamalaipuram Residents Association (RAPRA) has been conducting free coaching classes for Plus One English medium students in the commerce stream. These are held on Sundays for two hours from 10.15 am onwards at R A Puram. Admissions are now open for the new batch. The subjects taught are commerce, economics, business maths and accountancy. The classes are conducted by qualified and experienced faculty. The students who attended these classes in previous batches have not only done well in Board exams but also secured admission to degree courses in good colleges on merit basis, said RAPRA office-bearers. RAPRA is also conducting free coaching in accountancy for first year B com (finance) students. The classes are from 10 am to 1 pm at R A Puram. This year classes commence on July 19. Interested students should compulsorily register at 9841030040

Madras Day 2026: contests for school, architecture students

By Our Edit team

Two competitions have been launched for Madras Day 2026 celebrations in August. Both are promoted by Mylapore Times. The first is a project that requires school teams to study two local streets with lots of character - be it in a bazaar or shopping zone, or in a heritage area or in a residential square. The teams will then present the study at a 'live' event on August 10 at Ranade Library in Luz. The best three teams win trophies and prizes. This event has been on for some 15 years now. The second competition is open for students of architecture. Teams of these colleges have to choose 2/3 streets with character and study them from various angles that include architecture, street life, signages and all. They will then present their study at a 'live' event on August 10 evening at Ranade Library in Luz. The best three teams win prizes. This event has been introduced for the first time. A third Madras Day event will be the Madras Quiz for Tamil medium schools of the city. Planned for August 11 at Ranade Library, Luz. Details of these events and others planned by various city groups/clubs/ institutions are posted at www.themadrasday.in as and when the events are firmed up.

Mylapore Times Trust makes final funding to students

Mylapore Times Charitable Trust has made its eighth round of funding school and college students who needed support for their studies. With this, the 2026 project ends. The donations for this project came from many Mylaporeans as well as a large donation made by Mylapore Times newspaper. These were the recent funding made to students - CSI St. Ebba's Girls Hr.Sec.School / 3 students - Rs.22500. Rajah Muthiah Hr.Sec. School / 1 student - Rs.4000. Chennai High School / Alwarpet / 1 student - Rs. 15000. Lady Sivaswami Ayyar Girls School / 1 student - Rs. 6000 The Trust welcomes donations through the year; these are used to fund one-off needs requested in the Mylapore zone. Call 2498 2244 - Mylapore Times to donate.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

You may snigger at the mention of river Coovam (Coo-vam). But there was a time when it was clean, giving and sacred. And on its banks, some key temples.

Padmapriya Baskaran's book - Gods of the Holy Koovam - is a fascinating read. And a city group did a tour of the river's key landmarks.

My Coovam stories are all about it in the Pudupet - Chintadripet zone of the city. The image that has stayed with me is of boats carrying coco husk on this river, to supply coir-rope makers in sheds erected on its banks - on West Coovam River Road.

I was in Komaleeswaranpet last Sunday evening. The area has been 'pulling' me for a long time now; many school classmates used to reside here. And for Madras Day 2026 plans, a theme on this zone looked attractive.

It was pradosham evening. And though I've been at pradoshams at Sri Kapali Temple in Mylapore many times, this felt close and simple. Having the Nagaswaram-tavil artistes next to me as the lord was taken out in a procession was an experience and this, in the heart of a metro.

I spent an hour later, exploring the 'pet/pettai', ragged now and dirty on the river banks. But in the smelly, sultry dusk, I could still imagine a time when residents washed in the river and then met the gods.

This was also a zone for retail and wholesale fowl and eggs. And one shop was our family's favourite. Today, Pudupet's famed auto spare parts business has taken over the egg market.

It is that time of the year when we draw plans for the celebration of this city - Madras Day. Our long-running project for city schools has been floated. The theme this season is on the 'lives of streets', inviting students to choose streets with character and study them. I would be tempted to choose some off Ritchie Street in Narasingapuram, the great electronics-computer accessories market!

This year, we are launching a similar project for architecture students. The theme is 'streets' and as the curator, I will be keen to see how these students look at their city.

Madras Day is a voluntary-led movement. Everybody is invited to plan and host an event of any kind - a walk, a talk, a project, contests, workshops, seminars, runs and cycling tours, art camps and performed verses. These events can be held across August, a season dedicated to this city.

We post events on a web site - www.themadrasday.in. And if you are holding one, share the details here.

Save this Tree in Abiramapuram

Outside a newly-constructed apartments block on C P Ramaswamy Road, between SBI branch and Nilgiris store, we were surprised and shocked to observe that the builder, we assume, who beautified the pavement space, carved a nice space around an avenue tree here but his workers cemented the roots of the next tree. This tree is slowly choking to death.

We appeal to the owners of this building to undo this wrong job and save this tree - remove the cement and mortar around this tree at the earliest.

New pavement is too high for seniors

We are happy to see the new pavement alongside the east boundary of Nageswara Rao Park, Luz. But why have they raised the platform to a high level?

It will be very difficult for seniors to get up onto the platform. Access is important.

Shoddy work

Civic workers have done a shoddy job of repairs on Dr Radhakrishnan Salai opposite to Axis Bank in a bid to fill potholes / cracks.

On Manoj Bhavan closing . . .

The news of Manoj Bhavan restaurant in Mylapore closing down is sad. The group serves good food at all its restaurants.

Many businesses at this Mylapore spot have opened and closed. Wonder why this happens despite it being a busy zone.

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times 1997 onwards. This week, we focus on February 1997.

Leaked question papers sold for 10 paise: memories (Feb. 22, 1997)

By Chitra Sivakumar

The 1947 class of P S High School, the last of the school's pre-Independence batches, met on February 9 at the Mylapore Club to celebrate 50 years of completing their SSLC. Reuniting 50 years after the final exam is the school's tradition. The Reunion committee comprised S. R. Subramanian, A. G. Sekhar and N. Srinivasan. Industrialist MAM Ramaswamy and Justice Ratnam were students of this batch. Twenty-five "boys" attended the meet. They recalled how the SSLC paper had been leaked that year and was later sold as a booklet for 10 paise at the Thanneer Thurai Market! It still didn't help because "some of us didn't know where to find the answers," a student remarked. Another spoke about how they would eulogise the line and length of an affluent boy's bowling in order to win a sweet at the end of the day.

The 1947 P S High School batch

New 3-star hotel in Mylapore (Feb. 8, 1997)

By S. Janaky

Venkatesa Agraharam is the address of Hotel Shelter, a three-star facility, with 51 rooms, two restaurants and a 24-hour coffee shop. Prem Kumar of Dev Apartments is the MD, and Venugopal is the chairman of the hotel. The Madras-based West Inn Group of companies and Dev Constructions are promoting it. "All the rooms offer an excellent view of the Kapaleeswarar koil. We want to give our guests a taste of Mylapore with the view and with traditional music playing all the time," explained Sangeeta, guest relations executive. There are plans to organise city tours on demand for guests, she added. Dimsom, the restaurant for Oriental cuisine, includes Taiwanese, Malaysian, Chinese, Singaporean and Philippine food, said Verghese Mathew, the chief chef. Guests can have coffee and light snacks at Café Espresso, the coffee shop.

Theppam makes full rounds of the tank (Feb. 1, 1997)

By S. Janaky

For the first time since 1985, Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple's theppam completed full rounds of the tank on all three days of the festival. Thanks to abundant rains, the tank had ten feet of water. And the theppam completed five rounds on the first day, seven on the next and nine on the last day. Every time it turned a corner, the sounds of ekkalam filled the air. 100 young boys helped steer it. Said Kannan, a 14-year-old, "I'd sometimes catch a ride on the float but pulling it gives me tremendous joy."

Prof. Jambunathan passes away (Feb. 22, 1997)

Former HoD of the commerce department of Vivekananda College and director for continuing education, Madras University, Prof. M. Jambunathan passed away on February 8. He was involved in educational programmes and was featured in Ennum Ezhuthum on television. He is survived by his wife and three sons. The family lives on East Abhirampuram 3rd Street.

● This column is curated by Kanaka Cadambi.

The 22nd edition of the annual drama festival of Mylapore Fine Arts Club (MFAC) sabha was held from July 5 to 10 at the sabha hall.

On the opening evening, arts promoter Nalli Kuppuswami presided and theatre-per-son Bombay Chanakya conferred the Nataka Kala Nipuna title on theatre artiste Mappillai Ganesh.

Tamil plays were staged every evening.

New pavement alongside park. Pedestrians seem happy

By Baskar Seshadri

Renovation of Nageswara Rao Park is dragging on at snail's pace. But the pavement on its eastern side is getting a final touch.

Metal railings have been installed and workers are seen giving the final touch to the paver blocks of the floor.

This will allow people to walk freely on this side of the road, a welcome facility since vehicles which include large MTC buses are part of heavy traffic on this road due to traffic diversions in place due to Chennai Metro project work.

FREE THIS PAVEMENT

For long, the pavement on either side of the main gate of Nageswara Rao Park, Luz has been the hub of hawkers of snacks and tender coconuts. Hawkers of caps, sunglasses and helmets have also taken over pavement space here. While new pavements are being readied on one side of the park, pedestrians want GCC, the civic body to clear the hawkers on the other side.

Mandavelipakkam gets street side park

By Our Edit Team

A street side park developed by Chennai Corporation was formally opened recently in Mandavelipakkam by local ward councillor Amirda Varshini.

This thin strip of green lies alongside the wall of St Anthony's Girls HS School, on East Circular Road.

The walls have been thematically painted with visuals, there are many plants and some playthings too.

The park allows children to walk and play inside while people can stop by and relax. There are no tracks to walk and exercise here. St Anthony's School has agreed to maintain the park.

Residents of this area said they had been asking GCC and local police for such a facility to prevent misuse of this public space, said a resident of this street.

To Madras, with Love!❤

Invite to Men & Women who have been in the city since 1960s

- To mark Madras Day 2026, Mylapore Times plans to come out with a small book. Its contents have to be special and must come from People of Chennai who have benen living here since the 1950s/60s/70s.
- We invite people to share their stories of the areas where they lived, studied and worked. In the 1950s / 60s.
- We want them to write it all down in detail - names, places, dates/years, anecdotes. . . about the nature of their residential area, be it Vepery, Triplicane, Vadapalani or Royapuram. Of their school/college days, of their markets and popular stores; the traffic and local entertainment, the fun weekends, the temple / church festivals of note. Write it all in about 400/500 words.
- Once you send it to us, we will call you to improve on the article. And the best 20 will be published.
- To get tips and guidance on what you must write and how, you may call Vincent at 9841049155 / Meera at 9790952129.

Submissions must be made by August 2.

Selected submissions will be given a Madras souvenir.

Aadi season starts

As the season of Aadi dawned on July 17, many temple zones in Mylapore were abuzz. One was Sri Mundagakanni Amman Temple. Early this morning, women streamed into the temple, made offerings to the Amman and at shrines in this campus. and prayed Others set up bricks, shoved in twigs, set them afire and cooked 'pongal'. Some 20 of them sat alongside the temple zone. They would offer the 'pongal' to the Amman and take it home, while some shared it with people at the temple. Cooking and offering of 'pongal' would take place through this aadi velli day.

Mission Sunday at this church covered donations and sales

By Juliana Sridhar

The community at CSI St Luke's Church in Mandaveli led by pastor Rev. Samuel Rajkumar celebrated the Mission Festival on Sunday, July 12.

It began with Mass at 8 am followed by an auction of articles contributed by members of this church – fruits, clothes and jewellery.

Fellowship groups of the parish set up stalls to sell eatables, toys and home needs. Games stalls were put up.

Raffle tickets were sold. The proceeds from the auction, stalls' sales and raffle will go to the Board of Mission of the CSI diocese.

C. P. Koil Street is 'one way'. But motorists flout the rule and create chaos

By Amirtha Varshini V.

Motorists and auto-drivers who continue to flout the 'one-way' traffic rule on C.P. Koil Street in Mylapore not only inconvenience commuters, pedestrians and local businesses but are not being penalised by the police.

The issue became acute after the closure of the Luz Circle stretch due to the Chennai Metro rail project. Motorists increasingly using C.P. Koil Street as an alternative route.

Despite the presence of a 'No Entry' board, motorists and auto-rickshaws continue to enter the narrow stretch from the restricted side, leading to congestion and inconvenience.

Venugopal, proprietor of Venugopal Krishnan Jewellers said the situation has worsened in recent months. "Our customers and we find it difficult to use the space here. When a police officer is on duty here traffic is under control. But after he leaves, it is chaotic," he said.

Venugopal said that often arguments between motorists and shopkeepers or pedestrians take place.

Shopkeepers and pedestrians want stricter enforcement of traffic rules by the police.

Mahesh Kale's Abhangs concert in Alwarpet

Mahesh Kale's "Abhangwari" concert in Chennai is to be held on Sunday, July 19 evening at the Narada Gana Sabha auditorium, TTK Road, Alwarpet. The 2.5-hour devotional and semi-classical Marathi and Hindi musical experience starts at 5 p.m.

Known for his soulful renditions, Kale transports listeners to the spiritual grounds of Pandharpur through timeless Abhangs. (He won the national award in cinema for best playback singing).

Tickets and seating for the event can be secured directly via www.bookmyshow.com. As of now, the website says tickets are sold out.

This Cemetery archives Missionary lives

By Our Edit Team

There is a quiet plot few people notice inside the campus of Our Lady of Light Church in Luz. A couple of trees form a canopy for what is the cemetery for Catholic priests of the diocese of Madras-Mylapore.

In recent times, this graveyard has been tended to - with trimmed grass bordering each grave and some shrubs left to grow in spots.

When a priest passes away, the funeral Mass is generally celebrated in St Thomas Cathedral in San Thome and the coffin is transported to this cemetery, prayers said and the burial is carried out. When the archbishop is in station, he too attends the burial ceremony.

The graveyard was first used by the Franciscan Hospitaller Sisters of the Immaculate Conception (FHIC) congregation. This religious order was founded in Portugal in 1871 and began offering medicare in the 1940s in this zone. They manage

The graveyard was first used by the Franciscan Hospitaller Sisters of the Immaculate Conception (FHIC) congregation.

St Isabel's Hospital. Many of the nuns' grave stones remain here, among these are of nuns who hailed from the west coast of India.

Later, the archbishop of the diocese ordered that the cemetery be used only for priests.

Recently, Fr. Paul Moozariett, a retired priest who passed away, was buried here. His passing signals what is the tail-end of a long line of priests from Kerala who served churches and institutions of Madras-Mylapore over a century. Today, only four Kerala priests are around, all retired.

Fr. C. M. Joseph, retired and spiritual director of the Sacred Heart Seminary who hails from Pala in Kerala says that a number of youths from Kerala came to Madras to become priests and serve here. "They were keen to carry out missionary work in new places. That is why they came east," he said. Fr Joseph was encouraged by his uncle to study for priesthood in Madras.

Besides priests from Kerala, there were others from south Kanara who came on a mission. Today, almost all the diocesan priests are from Tamil Nadu.

The cemetery in Luz, the gravestones here, record the missions of nuns and priests in this city and around.
