Chitrakulam

Did you notice ducks having a good time in the water inside the Chitrakulam? Well, the ducks have been introduced here by the Sripatham personnel of Sri Adhi Kesava Perumal Temple which owns this tank.

Trustee of the temple, N. C. Sridhar says the ducks are likely to be inside the tank till such time there is sufficient quantity of water. He said the presence of the ducks had an inherent benefit as they had the ability to clear the dirt inside the tank.

However, plastic, board, paper and vegetable waste is found floating in the tank - the pollution caused by hawkers and passers-by.

DID YOU KNOW?

Admission, education at Clarke School for the Deaf

Admission is open in all three departments - hearing impaired, intellectually challenged and deaf-blind multiple disability at Clarke School for the Deaf in Mylapore - a school for special education founded in 1970.

The community here celebrated Helen Keller's Day on June 27. This American championed the rights of the less abled, especially for the deaf-blind community. Keller suffered from this disability after a bout of illness in her childhood.

The school's secretary, S. N. Srikanth says that the occasion was also used to send the message out that guardians of children with deaf-blind and such disabilities must admit such children to schools like Clarke's so that the special educators can educate them with professional methods.

Srikanth says Clarke School is making an effort to approach Chennai Corporation to help sensitise its teachers and principals to the facilities that special children can avail of instead of them being pushed to attend local schools where there are no special educators. This way, the guardians can be directed to special schools when the need arises.

Admissions are kept open through the first part of the academic year so that parents who land up here even in July and August can admit their wards.

Teachers here also educate the children for the State Board and National Institute of Open Schooling (NIOS) stream. Students here who follow the State Board stream get exemption and can sit for only one of the language papers.

But the school says since many children here find the syllabus of State Board tough and limiting. Clarke School is seeking registration for itself to be a NIOS centre locally to improve the education in this stream here. It will also benefit slow learners.

Srikant says NIOS offers a variety of subjects and children who are not good at math can skip that subject. There are options to appear for two papers at a time and this makes things easy and removes the stress on the children.

Clarke School is at No.3, 3rd Street, Dr. Radhakrishnan Salai, Mylapore. Ph.: 2847 5422

GCC ward 126. This area covers most parts of Mandavelipakkam and some areas of San Thome.

Local councillor Amirda Varshini of the Congress party says that the work was started on Lazarus Church Road and will be done daily to cover the Ward.

This is a precautionary measure taken before the monsoon season, the councillor said. She says a jet-rodding machine-lorry sucks out the waste so nothing is left dumped by the street sides.

Metrowater workers are undertaking this work.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Sometimes, I am called to play Agony Uncle.

To lend my ears to people of the neighbourhood who are frustrated with a civic issue or bugged by a local problem. Nothing personal.

The Head of a Chennai School called last weekend. This person is very senior and has been in touch with us regularly - bouncing on us the shortcomings at the school, seeking contacts who can help, wanting support for something good. I cannot cut short such calls.

This time around, this Head needed help for a boy who was keen to join Std.12 in the school. He had lost his dad recently, his mom earned a paltry sum doing odd jobs and the family who had resided in the north end of our city could not afford continuing his education at a private school run by nuns. So they shifted to the Marina side here. The boy had a big problem - he could not get his TC (transfer certificate) because he owed the school some 20,000 rupees - balance in fees to be paid. And Chennai School could not admit him locally without that TC.

Could I talk to the nuns and find a way out, was the plea.

Schools re-opening time is crisis time in and around our campuses. And the post-pandemic times have severely affected families and their young wards. And this is showing up on campus.

There are students who have moved out of the city, gone to villages, to a less-costly life and study at local schools there. There are students whose parents, unemployed for one to two years who cannot pay the term fees even if it is under 9,000 rupees. And there are students who are sacrificing the good time they enjoyed at 'convent' schools and resigning to state-run schools to lessen the burden on expenses of the family.

Some two decades ago, we launched the Mylapore Times Charitable Trust (MTCT) to support, among a few projects, funding of students moving up from Class 10 and Class 12. Those who had excelled in academics and were keen to study further but would need some help. The funds were raised from donations Mylapore Times made annually, and from donations from readers and well-wishers.

The funding started small and the demands have grown. Fees have gone up, needs are dire. And donations can dip.

Today, we invite applications from 12 local area schools. In each school, we may be able to help 5 to 8 students. And all of them are deserving of help. Often, we cannot pay for their first term fees in toto. But we intend to give them a hand, and doing that calls for at least two lakh rupees.

And so, I make this personal call to you all. To support this effort for our students. Donations of any amount are welcome. Surprise us. I am often thankful to this anonymous donor, who some years ago, slipped in a cheque for one lakh rupees. You may want to donate one thousand or two. We appreciate all this. Luz Church Road junction in bad shape

The Luz Church Road junction near Nageswara Rao Park has been left in damaged state for the past 3 - 4 months. It is a critical junction as vehicles plying from Luz Circle and those joining the junction from Abhiramapuram and proceeding towards Alwarpet or P. S. Sivaswamy Salai (Vivekananda College side) all pass through this junction.

The dug up road which has been temporarily relaid causes congestion and poses a risk to two-wheeler riders. Adding to their woes, P. S. Sivaswamy Salai has been dug up for 3 weeks with the debris dumped on the Luz Church Road corner near this junction.

Photo: Harish

Civic officials should fix the main road near the park junction and also remove the debris to ensure smooth traffic.

Karpagambal Kalyana Mandapam is dirty, badly maintained

On June 25, I had been to Karpagambal Kalyana Mandapam opposite Saibaba Temple in Mylapore to attend a Sahasranama Parayanam event - we are senior citizens and almost all the persons present there were of our age.

The hall and the surroundings and also the toilets were in a messy condition as was the stage. There was rubbish on the staircase. The parking area also was not in a good condition.

Minister Sekar Babu must look into the management of this property.

Unused Metrowater pipes lie on sidewalk

On Thiruvengadam Street, near L & T Ragamalakia apartments, Metrowater had laid pipes. This work extended to School View Road and Srinivasa Avenue junction. Many unused pipes have been left on the sidewalk near the school. Metrowater has not cleared them.

Hanging cables pose danger to pedestrians

Hanging overhead cables on footpaths cause a lot of inconvenience to pedestrians. These cables belong to either Cable TV operators or Internet Service Providers. Pedestrians face the risk of getting entangled with the cables at night times that could lead to their fall.

Greater Chennai Corporation could instruct the agencies to remove such hazardous cables.

Cables are seen hanging on the footpaths on Pasumpon Muthuramalinga Road, R. A. Puram (between the cuttings of Second Main Road and Fourth Main Road)

MY STORY

Football on the Marina

By S. NIRMAL KUMAR

I reside in Srinivasapuram by the sea. I took to serious football when I was in Std.9. I played for a small club and then for my college team. I went on to play as a guest player for many city clubs till tragedy struck.

My back bone was seriously affected and I had to rest for nearly one year. I couldn't play after that and that is when I began thinking about coaching children; football provides many job opportunities and I wanted to create the avenues for youths.

In 1998, a few of us had launched Suresh Memorial Football Club in memory of my uncle who played for Reserve Bank and died in service. Our coaching began in 2005 under this banner. Today, our coaches are Vimal, Jagan, Lawrance, Sebastian and Robinson.

We trained at the playground behind the then quarters of state government staff in Pattinapakkam and this ground has remained our coaching spot all along. Children in the 8 to 16 years age group train under us, both boys and girls. Post-Covid, we have got more girls signing up; we have some 40 girls now. Their parents want them to be fit and to make new friends through sport. And some of them are serious about football.

Many boys are from the seaside areas and they hope to land a job via the sport. Their parents are happy they are at play, for this saves them from being addicted to the smart phone or wasting their time. At the end of the day's training and a game, the boys are hungry and tired so they go home, eat, study and fall asleep.

Today, since the launch of the national football league like the ISL, the sport has changed much like the IPL. And there are employment avenues for men and women. They can play at the local, district, state and national level and for private clubs and the talented ones get good job offers even today.

But we coach with lots of handicaps here. The playground is uneven and dusty and there are no washrooms; we requested the local area police inspector for help and she has promised to get a mobile toilet from some agency. We also need sports equipment like cones and balls and we also provide healthy snacks like eggs and groundnuts to our wards so that their fitness and energy levels are high.

If we can also sign up a licensed football coach, then we can train the boys specially, to get a place in the under 14 and under 16 teams. Of course, this costs money. At least 12,000 rupees a month.

We have had some great supporters. Police officer Goutham (who was ACP, Mylapore zone) got us medals and cups for a tournament. D. Rajesh of iSolutions has given educational scholarships to many kids who train with us.

What keeps us going is the faith that the parents of our wards have in our team. They realise that something good is happening on this playground.

Organic food store now into catering

By Our Staff Reporter

V. Geetha, the person behind Diya Organic N Natural branched off into an allied business recently - to cater home-made food made from the foodstuff she sources for and sells at her store on P. S. Sivasamy Salai in Mylapore.

This HR consultant who chose to launch her own business, after time to day's end," she says.

With stocks of a variety of rice and vegetables, Geetha launched her catering wing - using the space at the rear of the store as the kitchen.

She says she dipped into her customer base of over 500 clients, got the word out on the catering service and began to get orders.

"Since my store had all that was needed to cook lunch and dinner it was easy to get going," says Geetha.

she was convinced of the positiveness of organic foods got feedback from her senior customers at the store who wanted 'home-made' food.

The store, which moved to this location from the heart of Mylapore started stocking 150-plus products. Geetha says it now has over 1000 products. "We have all the products that a person needs from waking up

For lunch, varieties of rice and vegetables are delivered.

For dinner, the menu is closer to North Indian dishes - phulka, paratha and rotis and vegetable side dishes.

This catering service is about three months old.

Geetha says her team is small and she personally supervises the kitchen to ensure her clients, mostly senior citizens get the right food. The store is open 8 a.m. to 8.30 p.m.

Catering order for lunch must be placed by 10 a.m. and for dinner by 5 p.m. Delivery is arranged in and around Mylapore.

Petty thieves make off with bicycles, drain covers inside apartment blocks

By Our Staff Reporter

Do not leave your bicycles or bikes unlocked inside your apartments, for there are thieves who slip in where there are no watchmen and make off with your belongings. And there are thieves who do not mind carrying away even metal drain covers which can bring them a few rupees.

Recently, CCTV footage at an apartment in East Abhiramapuram 1st Street showed a man wandering all around the campus here at about 6 a.m. and finding nothing, making off with a drain cover, which he dumped in the tricycle parked at the gate. He seemed to use the cover of being a waste-collector.

Residents here had been rewinding daily, CCTV footage since the time a bicycle was stolen by a man who was in sports shoes. That is when they spotted the drain-cover thief and reported the matter to Mylapore Police.

Sub Inspector Sanjivi Kumar and his men tracked all local men using tricycles and spotted the suspect near a TASMAL liquor shop; he was arrested.

Residents here say that petty thieves keep a watch on movements in apartments that do not have a firm security or where senior citizens alone reside and slip in to make off with things.

Mylaporean excels in National Masters Athletics Championships

By Our Staff Reporter

If you come across a medium-built woman in her 50s running at a good pace around the Alphonsa playground before the sun rises, you may have spotted a champion senior sprinter.

R. Dhanalakshmi of R. A. Puram bagged three medals in the recently-held 42nd National Masters Athletics Championships held at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium, Chennai.

The meet is held for seniors and Dhanalakshmi, who is a practicing advocate at the Madras High Court took part in the 55 years+ category and represented Tamil Nadu.

She stood 3rd in the 100 mts dash, won the silver in the 200 mts and was part of the gold-winning team in the 4x100 mts relay event.

Recalling the run in the relay which was her most exciting event, Dhanalakshmi said, "I was placed in the second lap and when I received the relay baton in the exchange we were third-placed, with the runners of Assam and Tripura way ahead but I overtook them and helped my team win the gold."

PEOPLE / R. DHANALAKSHMI

This is her first foray into competitive athletics in the Masters meet. For, she says she had heard of the meet only recently.

Dhanalakshmi was a champion athlete in her younger days – at St Anthony's Girls School and at Ethiraj College. She was in the Madras University team as a sprinter, the 100 mts dash being her favourite.

She studied law, at the under-grad and post-graduate level and started practice at the High Court, and now specialises in consumer affairs.

But she has continued her speed walking and long-distance running training, doing well in one of the half-marathons at Auroville.

For the Masters meet though, she says she trained for the sprints at the Alphonsa playground close to her residence (the GCC ground on Canal Bank Road) and then, at the Nehru Stadium.

Having excelled at the Masters, she hopes to set her sights on other national and international meets.

Battery carts ferry seniors to Sri Kapali Temple

By S. Prabhu

Here is a timely facility for senior citizens and the disabled visiting Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple. The two battery-driven carts presented by Sundaram Finance in March 2020 to transport seniors to the temple are back on the Mada Streets. The service is free.

The launch had taken place just a fortnight prior to the national lockdown when the pandemic broke out and hence, the two golf carts had remained unused. Temple authorities told Mylapore Times that a driver each has been exclusively assigned for this service and that it will shuttle between the Sri Kapali temple tank and the eastern raja gopuram during the darshan hours.

Driver Munuswamy said that devotees have begun using this service in the last few days and expects this to pick up once the word goes around. One problem these drivers face is of people hopping into the cart to do their shopping, and so asking it to be stopped at points on the street.

Special concert

Rishabh Kaushik, a 13 year old US-based music artiste who also drives support for autistic children, will perform at a double header concert at Dakshinamurthi Auditorium, P. S. School campus, Mylapore on July 2.

A note from Kaushik's family says 'this double header musical harmony will feature abled and differently abled artists and is dedicated to support autistic children through 'Vidya Sagar'.

This is hosted by non-profit organisation SciArtsRUs as part of its 'Artabilities 4 All initiative'. The vocal performance will be followed by a keyboard performance where two senior visually impaired artistes will accompany Rishabh in addition to other artistes. The youth has been supported by his mother Dr Ranjini Kaushik, and by his teachers, K. N. Shashikiran and Srivaralakshmi.

Feast of saint Thomas

The annual feast of saint Thomas began on June 30 and will be a four-day celebration at St Thomas Cathedral in San Thome. On Saturday, archbishop Rev. George Antonysamy will celebrate Mass after the colourful car procession that will be taken out in the Cathedral zone at 6.15 p.m. The feast will be celebrated at Masses on Sunday, said Fr. Arulraj, parish priest.

Vidya Mandir alumni group marks 50 years since admission here with campus visit

By Our Staff Reporter

Recently, when a few friends realised that it was 50 years since some of them had entered the portals of Vidya Mandir school in Luz, they quickly planned a short visit to the campus. Nostalgia doubled that effort and on a Sunday morning, about 25 members of the 1986 batch were at Vidya Mandir to soak in; one of them who is in the USA was visiting the city.

They walked around the playground, which, for some was THE place while in school, walked down the corridors and even sat inside a classroom that they had once occupied as students.

“The school now locks up all classrooms because of the ‘smart’ equipment that is fitted in there but the school arranged for one room to be opened for us,” said T. M. Karthik, professional actor and corporate trainer who was part of the group. He joined the LKG here in June 1972.

The 1972 batch of LKG children at Vidya Mandir

Karthik and a few others studied from the LKG level; others joined them in junior school.

One of them was Sumitha Vibhu, now a lawyer. She joined the batch in Class 5. “My mom was a teacher and the year the school turned co-educational I got admitted here,” says Sumitha who is also an active member of the school’s alumni association.

So what is her best memory of the school? “The amazing teachers we had....they told us that academics alone wasn’t the purpose of life and encouraged even the back-benchers to do better,” says Sumitha.

Adds Karthik who had some fun on Sunday on the concrete slide in the playground. “In our time, the playground was vast with spaces for cricket nets and basketball court. I loved that space.”

Karthik says some classroom windows faced the hugely popular Shanthi Vihar restaurant next door (that property made way for apartments) and all those yummy flavours from the kitchen made many in the room hungry.

“We would jump over the wall after school time and snack at the restaurant,” he recalls. “We often joked that Shanthi Vihar made all its money from Vidya Mandir students!”

Sumitha says that either the school’s alumni association or the school will help ‘old students’ to visit the school at short notice.

The contact – M. Kannuswamy, president, Alumni Association, 1969 batch.

Gandhi Peace Foundation offers short courses for students, teachers

By Our Staff Reporter

Gandhi Peace Foundation (GPF) based on Ambujammal Street, Alwarpet conducts short term training courses for students/teachers on "Peace Education based on Gandhian Values" as an initiative to introduce alternatives to the present growing culture of violence and terrorism.

GPF is an independent 'not for profit' registered trust trying to promote Gandhian values and communal harmony in the past fifty years. R.Venkataraman, former president of India was its chief patron and Gandhian T. D. Tirumalai was its founder-secretary.

In this course, students can get orientation on self-empowerment in micro actions for macro peace based on Gandhian values, says S. Kulandaisamy, secretary of GPF.

Interested teachers and students may apply through their schools and colleges by email: info@gandhipeace.foundation or in WhatsApp number: 89 39 21 50 45.

For students, this course will be conducted for two days – five hours duration on each day – and for teachers, one day of five hours duration, either in schools or in colleges or in the GPF office. There are no online classes. Only twenty five students/teachers will be admitted in a session. All those who complete the course will get a participation certificate. The course fee is Rs. 500/- for students and Rs.1000/- for teachers. A copy of the book 'Gandhian Way to Peace' will be gifted to teachers.

Water sprinkled into tank of Sri Kapali Temple daily. Why?

By S. Prabhu

Every morning, between 5 and 7 a.m., Sri Kapali Temple authorities have organised the sprinkling of water in the middle of the temple tank. It is done by using a motorised system and re-cycling the water that the tank holds.

The water level here is appreciable even as summer passes.

Srikanth, who has been maintaining the nanda-vanam (garden) around the tank told Mylapore Times that the sprinkling of the water helps in creating oxygen for the fish in the tank. He says a large number of fish thrive in the tank now.

The water sprinkling is carried out again in the evening as well – between 5 and 7 p.m.
