Acrobats
in the Rain

Children who play in the sandy pits inside Nageswara Rao Park in Luz had some fun after a spell of rain last week, soaking in the rain and amusing themselves in the water that had filled the pits.

PLANTS NURSERY, GARDEN ACCESSORIES

Name of the shop: Mylapore Sakthi Garden
Address: 10, Subbarayan Salai, (off Dr Ranga Road), Mylapore.

Owner: S. Sakthivel

Phone: 9080230769, 8608807962

Timings: 9.30 am to 8 pm – on all days.

This is a 12-year-old shop which was earlier functioning near Saibaba temple. Shop owner Sakthivel has another such nursery in Adyar. His wife takes care of this shop.

This shop sells plants, soil, fertilizers, Grow bags and garden tools and accessories.

Herbal plants, native flower plants, indoor and outdoor ornamental plants and vegetable and keeral seeds are sold here.

Also on sale are avenue tree saplings, fruit-bearing trees, Bonsai plants, garden soil mix, organic manure and miniature plants besides pots made of plastic, ceramic, clay and cement.

Sakthivel is a physically-challenged person. He says he sources plants from ECR nurseries every day. He also undertakes landscaping and garden maintenance services; he is assisted by two staff members. "I also guide people to set up a garden on their balcony," says Sakthivel.

VINCENT'S JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Baskar passed away when I was away on a tour of Kerala. The watchman of our campus briefed me on the bad news. And showed me the wall posters on walls of local streets that announced Baskar's death.

These posters have held my attention whenever I have noticed them off a street or on the walls of houses.

I often wondered what purpose they served in the age of smart phones and WhatsApp. It needed some explanation from a senior resident of a Triplicane kuppam to make me understand the reason for this practice.

A practice that must have streamed from the one where drum-beaters went around a neighbourhood to announce all kinds of useful news.

Yes, people could be notified of a death over the phone. But it was the practice to spread the news far and wide by pasting posters on walls. Small printing presses stocked templates of these Obituary posters, for black and white as well as for colour printing, and hours after the order was given, these posters would be out and a group would get them pasted all across the colony and around.

Baskar carried on a traditional skill two generations before him practiced - washing clothes and ironing them.

And being from this community which had come to grow roots in the Sastri Nagar - Vannanthurai - Besant Nagar zone of our city, he had loads of social history stories he shared at his ironing cart on our street.

He shared stories of the time when clothes of the well-to-do were collected, washed at the small ponds of Adyar and ironed and handed over. Of coastal Adyar that was palm-fringed, with patches of rice fields and ponds, of swathes of sand where the state later built and promoted Housing Board apartments, where wild dogs roamed after dusk.

Today, while some members of this community manage ironing carts, others have small shops where they iron clothes.

These are people that have made our city and our communities. Baskar's community in the south side of our city were integral to a recent generation that chose to build a house or buy a flat in what was the less habited south seaside fringe of our city. In the 1970s.

Much as other skilled communities have been integral to us in other parts of Chennai.

How much is known of the weavers of Mylapore, who once were busy bodies in the zone south of South Mada Street? And of the small community of potters who were scattered in the north Luz zone. Or of the skilled workers who worked under traditional jewel-makers in Mylapore. . .

Baskar's generation will perhaps sign off a social heritage that will fade away. And many of us will never know how the lives of our parents and grandparents were supported by people like Baskar.

On Chennai South MP

● Vincent's Jottings column in Mylapore Times dated June 8 should serve as a timely wake-up call to all elected representatives to desist from VIP culture. The MP must go out on to the field, engage with the public and co-ordinate with local leaders and government administration to resolve key issues.

- N. Rama Rao

● Vincent's Jottings column has made a stark observation. The DMK MP, Thamizhachi Thangapandian, has not been an effective MP in her first term. Nothing constructive has been done by her. One is surprised how people vote for such candidates again and again.

Mylapore Fund fiasco:
shows foolishness of educated

The bad news around Mylapore Hindu Permanent Fund Nidhi Ltd. is showing a lot of men and women crying over unpaid interest and unpaid closure of big deposits. I am told some middle-class people have invested as much as Rs.10 lakhs in this Fund. There are people whose Rs.25 lakhs is locked up.

It is clear that these people made deposits hoping to get big returns on promises of 11/12% interest which can be very challenging for any Fund operator to pay.

I am amazed at the investment illiteracy of educated people who fall for such offers from Funds. It is people's foolish ways which make smart operators to play around with their hard-earned money.

MY STORY

Dancers, artistes need a performing space

By PRIYA MURLE

I am a Bharatanatyam dancer, my journey intricately interwoven into the vibrant cultural tapestry of Mylapore, shaped by a family deeply ingrained in the arts. Two pillars define my identity: my immersion in the Thanjavur bani of Bharatanatyam and my active involvement with the Association of Bharatanatyam Artists of India (ABHAI).

While my dancing journey spans five decades, filled with tales of training and experiences with my revered guru Prof. Sudharani Raghupathy, that could fill many pages, let's focus this time on my enduring connection with ABHAI.

From its inception, with my guru assuming the role of its founding president, to now, 35 years later, where the Association has left an would discuss with my guru about starting an association to bring the artistes community together—where artistes look at each other, converse and help each other.

As Sudha aunty's disciples, we were all made members with an annual membership of 100 rupees then. We didn't realise the importance or the impact of the community at that time. I remember we would help serve snacks and tea to the committee in those days, all legends that we had admired from afar! Slowly the community was built... programmes, workshops, seminars....

Soon I found myself to be an integral part of ABHAI where I have shouldered various indelible mark on artistic community building—the journey has been nothing short of fascinating. I remember the initial meetings where guru Pakkirisami Pillai responsibilities.

Now, entrusted with the mantle of president, my foremost objective is to fortify the solid groundwork laid by my predecessors. The challenges posed by the Chennai floods of 2015 and the recent pandemic have emphasised our collective responsibility to support our fraternity and fellow artistes on their road to recovery.

I aspire to cultivate a community that not only thrives creatively but also exhibits resilience in the face of adversity.

However, realising these aspirations necessitates support from both governmental and corporate entities. Acquiring a dedicated space for dancers, comprising an office and a spacious hall for our Abhivridhishalas, is paramount. This infrastructure will not only facilitate our meetings and official work but also provide a platform for hosting events.

● Priya Murle is a classical dancer, teacher and now president of Association of Bharatanatyam Artists of India.

Home for adult males with intellectual and developmental disabilities

By Our Edit Team

Andhra Mahila Sabha's Mitra Mandir, a residential 'home' located in Luz is for adult males with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

This is a unit of Andhra Mahila Sabha, a renowned organisation serving the community for over seven decades.

Recently, the campus got a make-over, made possible with funds from corporates like Amazon, which made a handsome donation.

This 'home' is for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) need a space for a lifetime, primarily after their parents pass away.

The recent renovations in the building provide disabled-friendly structures so as to enhance the functional capacity and liveability of the premises, the major addition being provision of hand-wash/dishwash counters.

Dr. Janaki Balakrishnan, the vice-chairperson of this facility says, "It is a challenge to run a residential home for people with IDD because of the difficulties in staffing, their attrition and the unique behavioral and health challenges presented by these individuals. But we have managed well."

Apart from routine care, the residents are engaged in meaningful tasks and routines during the day, guided by a qualified professional and support staff.

Dr. Janaki said that this centre aims to facilitate 'open assisted employment' for residents who are capable of working.

It has placed two of the residents to work as service assistants in a restaurant - they travel in an auto independently and are supported on the job. The home is a registered service provider under the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016.

Manager VijayKumar who handles day to day operations at this 'home' said that fresh admissions are open now. Males who are independent in toilet habits and can be positively engaged will qualify for admission.

Address: 1A, Justice Sundaram Road, Mylapore. Ph: 24987172

ROOTS OF MITRA MANDIR

The young men at Mitra Mandir used to study at a 'special' school also run by Andhra Mahila Sabha. As they grew older, their parents asked the management if the youths could be accommodated too.

These queries led Akkamma Krishnamurthy, former president of AMS and a trustee to set up the residential home for male adults who have an intelligence quotient of under 70 and have limited functional and social skills.

"Parents who can no longer support their sons with intellectual disabilities, prefer our home," said Dr. Janaki.

Asuthamana Sandhu

Kallukaran Street residents of Mylapore enjoyed two neighbours in the old days. A few old and popular temples and the huge tank of Sri Madhava Perumal Temple, whose waters enriched the local area's groundwater.

But the narrow strip of no-man's land behind their houses and off the temple tank border was turned into a space to excrete and urinate, mostly by families who resided in huts in this zone.

This pathway was also used for funeral processions; the mourners could skip crossing the temple gates on the main road.

In recent years, the Kallukaran Street community joined hands to clean the pathway and create a space to sit out and chat and for children to play.

CHENNAI METRO

As tunnel boring goes on in Mandaveli, problems crop up

As the TBM (tunnel boring machine) inches closer to the proposed Mandaveli station of Chennai Metro line (one line is under construction; another will be created later), problems continue to crop up in these areas.

In recent days, soil has flowed out like a spring in areas like Robertson Lane due to the underground boring work and Metro workers have resorted to grouting in many spots to stabilise the earth. Later, the loose earth was set right.

Having learnt new lessons during the tunnel boring work from the Adyar Poonga side to Raja Street side, Metro engineers are now better placed to address the issues quickly.

Some residents in the Robertson Lane we spoke to said they had not come across houses / flats affected by the tunnel boring and of Metro setting up supports in houses / apartments.

MYLAPORE TIMES welcomes field feedback from Mandaveli / Luz Church Road / Kutcheri Road on issues related to Chennai Metro.

Girish Karnad's play in Tamil

Theatre Marina and Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan presents "Anniyal", a Tamil adaptation of Girish Karnad's play 'Broken Images' in English and 'Odakkalu Bimba' in Kannada.

The premiere of this play is on June 21, 7:30 pm. Admission with donor passes.

The original play had one set – a TV studio. The play though has a multi-layered theme. It weaves in issues of the hegemony of English over Indian languages, with respect to Indian language writers and their works lying unnoticed; it also deals with psychological repression where the lives of the central character, a woman and now-successful writer and her handicapped sister interweave.

Karnad's play has been adapted by Prasanna G. R. and R. Giridharan and is directed by R. Giridharan. Latha Venkat is the sole actor.

HERE IS HELP TO GET SCHOOL BOOKS WRAPPED

Want your children's note-books to be wrapped well or laminated or old textbooks bound well?

Head to Sai Xerox in Mylapore and talk to its owner Dinesh.

He charges Rs.15 per book if you give him brown paper sheets; charges increase if you want him to buy the paper and label stickers and the rest.

The shop is located on P S Sivasamy Salai (opposite late veena Bal-achander's house). Call 99626 69388

TELL US! Some schools insist that books be wrapped and labelled. Is this a 'must do' thing? Must this rule be dropped? WhatsApp your opinion - 73056 30727

Fresh sugarcane juice

By Our Edit Team

If you enjoy fresh sugarcane juice, head to this little 'Fresh Crush' outlet on Chittrakulam North Street, at the East Mada Street end. The kiosk belongs to a chain - sugarcane juice is extracted on the spot and flavours you can choose here - lemon, mint, ginger, jal jeera or chaat masala.

The juice can also be packed in a bottle and carried home; costs Rs.25 for 250 ml upwards, depending on the number of flavours you opt for.

R. A. Puram youth, Antony R. Joshwa, ordained Catholic priest

By Juliana Sridhar

A young resident of Periyapalli Street in R. A. Puram, S. Antony Rozario Joshwa, has been ordained a Catholic priest.

He and his family are parishioners of Our Lady of Guidance Church in R. A. Puram. The unique ordination, held on April 7, featured three other brother-priests and was held at the San Thome Cathedral; Rev. Dr. George Antonysamy, archbishop of Madras-Mylapore diocese, celebrated this Mass.

Later, the new priest celebrated his first Mass at his parish church on April 11. He has now been posted as assistant parish priest at a church in Peravallur.

Fr Joshwa was born to Sebastian and Mary Caroline. His father works as a supervisor in a private hotel while his mother works at the Pastoral Centre in San Thome.

He studied at St. Bedes School in San Thome and was inclined to the religious in his pre-teen years.

He said, "I used to serve as an altar boy at Masses held in our church. I used to attend Mass daily and slowly moved closer to the religious."

He enrolled at Infant Jesus Minor Seminary in Vel-lavedu in 2012 after he completed his schooling. He says he was hugely inspired by Fr. V. Ignatius, a renowned Jesuit priest, while at the seminary.

Fr. Joshua has an elder brother who is settled in Bengaluru.

The fuss about School Uniforms

By Preetha K.

It is that time of the year when students and parents are busy buying school uniforms for the academic year. Of the many stores in Mylapore zone that are abuzz, is Sri Mohan Dress Centre in the Luz Circle zone which has been in the business for decades. So what is the buzz here all about? Badri who heads this business opens up.

On Sri Mohan Dress Centre roots

We are a pre-Independent India retail business. It was started in 1945 by my father, Ranga Rao. Initially, we were only selling khadi. I joined the business in 1985 and from then on, we started concentrating on school uniforms. My son, Vignesh has now joined the business.

Catering to Mylapore school students

We have uniforms for students from over 60 city schools including P S Senior, Vidya Mandir and Chettinad. We sell uniforms for all schools in and around Mylapore. For a majority of them, we have ready-made uniforms and for a few, we have fabrics. We supply to all the Indian Army schools in Chennai.

On uniforms for all sizes

We have school uniforms in all sizes and there are customers who come to us the day before the reopening because they know we will have sizes that suit their kids. Though we don't have a tailoring facility, we suggest tailors to parents who need one. By October, we start procuring the fabric from leading mills. We have our own manufacturing units and we produce the uniforms as per the requirement of city schools.

We are very conscious about the fabric and quality we provide to customers. The quality of uniforms from Mohan Dresses is not available elsewhere. We dye the fabric with a special chemical so that the colour does not run. All the fabrics are from leading Indian mills. We have uniforms in all varieties of fabrics – cotton, terricot and the blends. We also sell sports uniforms like track pants and T-shirts for schoolchildren.

Trends in school uniform buying . . .

Almost 85% of customers prefer ready-made uniforms as they can try them out and buy them after they are sure of the size and comfort. In the old days, most of them preferred to buy fabric and get it stitched.

Undoubtedly, readymade garments are cheaper comparatively.

A trouser for a Std.10 boy costs about Rs 490 / 530 at our store. Outside, the stitching cost alone would be Rs 450. Sri Mohan Dress Centre is at 167, Royapettah High Road, Luz. Ph: 9840344833

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN

The buzz around all schools in the Mylapore zone came back to life on Monday, June 10 last when most schools re-opened for the new academic year.

Outside the school gates and in the inner yards, there were some emotional moments before the bell rang for classes on Day One.

Classmates hugged each other or exchanged pleasantries, parents had some warm words or kisses for the little ones and autos which ferry children from school zones to campuses re-started their morning duty.

In some schools, the juniors were welcomed with flowers and wishes.

In others, a special Assembly was held.

On the weekend, the buzz of last-minute shopping rose. Buying readymade school uniforms and affordable footwear, picking up notebooks and stationery, bags and water bottles; in Luz, off the Mada Streets and in Mandaveli stores.

DISPOSING WASTE DIFFERENTLY. A MANDAVELI COMMUNITY'S EXPERIENCE

By Aparna Natarajan

Bintix is a private agency which collects dry waste to recycle - including paper, plastics, E-waste, glass and metal - from community campuses.

Residents in the Hamsadhwani and Saranga blocks in Ragamalika Apartments have been availing of Bintix's services for over a year now. And they say it has worked well.

Bintix provides six plastic bags per month (each bag costs Rs 3 to process), which comes with a QR code and a zip tie to identify which households the bags are from.

Once the bag is full of waste, the residents place it outside their house. The housekeeping staff collect the bags and place them in the designated common room in the campus.

Once a week, Bintix agents visit the place and collect the bags from the room and take them to a processing centre, where they are checked and weighed.

For every kilo of waste collected from a resident, Bintix pays Rs 4.

It makes this payment through UPI / Paytm or it can be transferred directly to a bank account using NEFT.

The waste is then segregated and sent for recycling. Residents say there are some positives in choosing this private agency. As Hetal, who organised this initiative inside Ragamalika Apartments explains.

"The issue with regular trash collectors is that they are keen to collect high value plastic such as Harpic bottles and send all this for recycling. The low value plastics - like wrappers - are discarded in a landfill. Bintix ensures that all the waste is recycled."

If a community wants to arrange for this service, contact Bintix through its website: <https://www.bintix.com/>

TN Dr. J. JAYALALITHAA MUSIC & FINE ARTS UNIV

Admissions are on. Weekend, new courses on offer

By Our Edit Team

Admissions are open for all courses conducted by the Tamil Nadu Dr. J Jayalalithaa Music and Fine Arts University which has its campus in south R. A. Puram.

Apart from the regular MA courses in music and in dance and the MFA course in art, there are other interesting courses for all. They are – the MA weekend only course in vocal, mridangam and dance. A course in fine arts and visual communication.

A course in Indian theatre arts for holistic development. A course that allows a student to learn folk music and vilupattu. And a six months course in music therapy.

There is also a unique bridge course for those who want to do a masters in music/dance but do not have an under-graduate degree in either of these subjects.
