Boozers drink in the open in Kalvi Varu St.

By Our Edit Team

Residents living in apartments and houses off Kalvi Varu Street, which runs alongside the Buckingham Canal, want Mylapore police to act against people who have been consuming liquor late at night in the park and leisure area off this road.

They say that late in the night, men meet here and drink; empty liquor bottles and leftover snacks are found lying around the trees in this zone.

This place, developed by GCC when R. Nataraj was the Mylapore MLA, has a wide sidewalk and a sand pit zone fitted with children's play equipment. It also has decent street lighting.

Said one resident who shared photos of the used liquor bottles dumped in the play zone and wanted to remain anonymous, "We have not formally complained to Mylapore police yet. One never knows how the violators can react."

VINCENT'S JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

I was on a visit to Thirukazhukundram the past week. To visit the polytechnic college that the Salesian priests run here. A bunch of us are exploring ways in which we can create simple networks that profit small schools with post-classroom projects and activities.

Having heard stories of the great work that the Salesians have done with a pioneering polytechnic in Basin Bridge, I had made contact with a priest who was the head there for many years and used his experience to start simple hands-on courses at some Salesian schools.

That priest had also pointed me to the Thirukazhukundram campus. I had visited it briefly some years ago, soon after the pandemic years and could not take in much of its campus. But what I saw last week impressed me.

Father John told me how his small team travels to all the habitations in this part of the district to make people aware of the college, the courses and the job placements.

The priests have tied up with major industries to host their engineers and shop-floor leaders to lecture to the teachers of the polytechnic in current trends and skill-needs. These lessons are then streamed into the classroom and workshops, which are also upgraded now and then.

What this happy arrangement does is that it provides industries with smart and skilled youths who are snapped up on the day they get their exam results. Father John says that sometimes he cannot meet the demands for new hands from industries.

With this college offering great training and jobs to many, word travels far and wide and the campus has students from as far as Erode and Tiruchi. Girls too.

Our simple schools that educate First Gen learners who hail from families who struggle to lead a decent life can design and implement a few courses that trigger ideas in students that lead them to go to a polytechnic or opt for other diploma courses; not take loans and feed UG courses that have little to promise on graduation day.

Weaving, sewing and embroidery is one stream. Automobile skilling is another. Cookery and baking is one more. Plumbing and electrical servicing is yet another. Accounting and bill-keeping is another.

Why cannot Rotary and Lions Clubs, community bodies and private Trusts or retired engineers / designers / creative souls meet the heads of schools in their backyards, schools who will appreciate extra-curricular projects that hugely benefit youths and also create a fun and engaging world for them at no cost?

Stray dogs in Chitrakulam zone

There is a pack of stray dogs roaming around Chitrakulam North Street and Solaippan Street. They pose a threat to the children who are training in basketball in the nearby playground in the mornings and also for passersby. I urge GCC authorities to take immediate action before any harm is caused.

Contamination of Metrowater

The drinking water we are supplied has been contaminated - the issue affects residents around Bhaktavatsalam Road. We are told that the civil work for Chennai Metro has caused breakage of sewage lines - this is as per information obtained from CMWSSB helpline. We have informed the CMWSSB office on Dr Ranga Road and staff have promised to address the issue.

- Murali D.

Trans people pose problems

Trans people harassing shoppers in Mylapore is not a recent thing. I faced a similar situation two years ago. I was coming out from Kapali Temple and walking towards Rasi store when a trans person blocked my way. I was afraid and called out for help. Nobody around us was concerned. We managed to walk away quickly.

- Lalitha

● Trangenders are now often seen stopping people and demanding money in many places in Mylapore. I was stopped by some of them once on Desikachari Road outside Trinity hospital, and once outside Nilgiris store on C. P. Ramaswami Road.

- Shivani Arora

Issue of 'covering' school notebooks

● This practice of schools ordering students to wrap all notebooks in brown paper should be discontinued. Not enviro friendly. I plan to file a PIL in court.

- Sanjay Pinto

● Vidya Mandir school does not require books to be covered or bound. I have not done it for the last 12 years and there are no complaints. This is a win for parents and for the environment!

MY STORY

Living retired life, comfortably. Sensibly.

By R. V. RAO

After I retired in 1995 from Indian Oil, my first concern was to choose a good place to live. Thanks to a generous loan from Indian Oil, I purchased a flat in Abhiramapuram. I preferred a central location in the city.

My next priority was to plan how to best spend my free time. In the evenings, I started visiting The Mylapore Club to play a game of rummy. Here, I could also socialise with club members from different backgrounds and some of them became friends. The people in my group are in their 70s.

Occasionally, a group of us would plan and go on short, outstation tours - we had the time of our lives. Long conversations, good drinks and food. . . These tours relaxed and rejuvenated us.

As you advance in age, your health is important. We have identified a family physician-couple based close to our place. We also have contacts of the nearest hospital and pharmacies.

My wife, Sukanya and I, have stored a long list of useful contacts that we need for our daily life. To get groceries, medicines, cooked food and for local travel. I jocularly tell friends that besides using Debit Card and Aadhar Card, I also use my Age Card! When shop-keepers realise we are old people, they gladly service us quickly.

The kirana shop delivers our order in 10 minutes. We pay ten rupees to the delivery boy - this motivates him to be of help to us. Even the pushcart istri-wallah who is near our apartment gate, comes by to assist us. You just have to be friendly with them. Our son and daughter ( both married) stay in Chennai and look after our welfare on a daily basis.

Every week, I participate in a video-conference meet of our retired Indian Oil colleagues. The small talk boosts our spirit. For 20 years, our group of Indian Oil retirees would go on annual picnic tours.

I scrupulously avoid giving suggestions or getting into arguments. Slowly, forgetfulness is overtaking me. So I have devised my own systems. I have a checklist of 25 essentials - like medicines, healthy small snacks, toiletries . . . I colour-code my medicines - red for the morning stuff, blue for the night tablets.

I don't hesitate to seek help from youngsters to cross the road - they help.

I stopped using my car long ago. We have known a set of friendly auto-drivers whom we engage.

My little advice - plan for a comfortable retired life. You deserve a good life after a busy, tough life.

● Rao was senior sales manager at Indian Oil Corpn. He is 86 years old.

The annual feast of saint Thomas is being celebrated at St Thomas Cathedral in San Thome this week. It began with the symbolic flag hoisting ceremony and ends with a grand car procession on Sunday evening. Priests from various city churches are guest-celebrants at Holy Masses of this feast.

On June 20, the day of the star birth day of Kanchi Maha Periyaval, devotees took out a procession that evening from and to a temple dedicated to him in Mylapore's Pitchupillai Street.

Hanumath Prabhavam

Rukmini Arts and Music Trust is presenting 'Hanumath Prabhavam' pravachanam on July 1 at R R Sabha Mylapore at 6.45 pm - it is presented by Brahmashree B. Sundarkumar. Open to all.

A Hub of Goldsmiths

Not long ago, home-based goldsmiths dominated an area off Sri Mundagakanni Amman Temple, Mylapore. They employed men to work in the thinnai or in the front section of their houses.

If you walked down this main street then, you could faintly spot the goldsmiths at work in large, tiled houses. Jewels were not sold here unlike what we now see in the heart of Mylapore which has some large jewellery stores.

The acharis were proud of their generations who excelled in this craft. One man called Bhanumurthy did so well in the business that he came to own an agraharam; this colony still exists today.

These goldsmiths were famous city-wide and had a large clientele. They would visit their clients, decide on the designs, make the jewels and deliver them.

In some cases, families hosted the goldsmiths for some days, so that the jewels could be crafted at their residence.

Today, a few acharis continue with this business in Mylapore. But most members of their recent generation have opted for higher education and employment.

Workers on the Chennai Metro project have been using a portion of the space inside the campus of Dominic Savio School on San Thome High Road to undertake civil and engineering works. The school said that the campus space will be restored once Metro completes its work here.

Presently, the underground Metro line is being built to connect the Marina station/s with the Kutcheri Road station, located opposite Jumma Masjid.

Obituary

Though for them it is a merciful release from the travails of old age, I hate it when senior teachers of Vidya Mandir's early decades pass away. To me, it is like losing a parent all over again. Just the assurance of their being around meant security. Farewell Prema Raghavan Miss – This was a Facebook post by historian V. Sriram who also studied at Vidya Mandir. He is one of the many of her former students who is mourning her loss.

Prema Raghavan, was the maths teacher and vice principal of Vidya Mandir school in Luz. She passed away recently. She was 87.

Prema Raghavan was born in 1937 to Krishnamurthy and Amruthavalli. Her grandfather, C Ramanujachariar was instrumental in developing Ramakrishna Students Home on P. S. Sivaswamy Salai, Mylapore.

Prema was the first woman graduate from her family in her generation. She did B. A. in Maths from Stella Maris College and got married to Raghavan, a finance professional in 1959. She did her bachelor's degree in teachers training from Stella Matutina College, Chennai and subsequently joined Vidya Mandir.

"My mother has been in Vidya Mandir throughout her career except for a brief stint when she went to Vijayawada after my father's transfer. When she came back to Chennai, she rejoined Vidya Mandir," says Balaji, her son who runs his own business. Her other son, Ramji, is working in the USA.

"My mom was a fine lady, always smiling and ready to help everyone. The tributes that are pouring in speak volumes of her great work. She never hesitated to go the extra mile to teach students".

"She would work with them after school hours. She lived a good life except for the last two years when her health took a setback," adds Balaji.

Prema studied at St Ebba's School and her family members say that Mylapore was her lifeline as she was born and brought up in this area. She was deeply interested in music and had trained under K V Krishnan.

"She was extremely talented, could sing well and could also identify ragas. She, along with her cousins, were called Kolathur Sisters, unofficially. Till before the pandemic, she would go every Sunday to Ramakrishna Students Home and teach music to inmates," said Balaji.

The family resides in R. A. Puram.

Low-profile woman arranges to feed daily over 100 street dogs

By Our Edit Team

Philomina of Appu Street has her evening routine set. She packs lots of a rice-and-meat meal she has cooked into a couple of buckets, loads them in an autorickshaw and heads to areas in San Thome which are on the seaside.

Her job is to feed street dogs.

She will not tell you the name of the animal-loving patron but as our conversation grows longer, tells us that the person who funds this feeding is a woman who resides in Custian Beach Road.

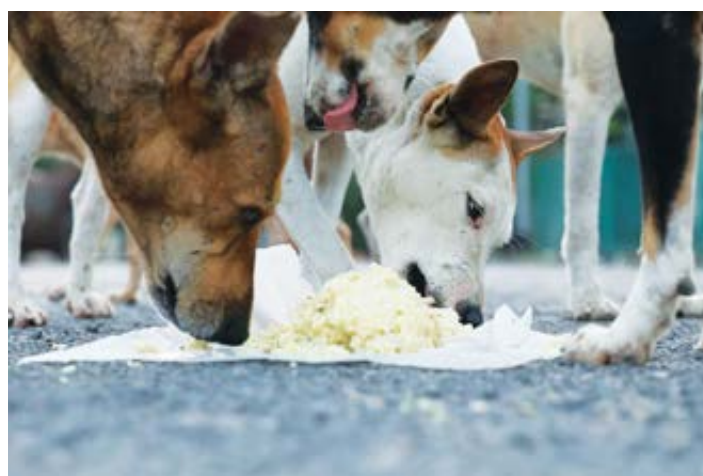

“The lady has told me not to talk about our daily feed,” says Philomina, on the evening we meet her in the lane that runs alongside St. Thomas Cathedral in San Thome.

Over a dozen dogs crowd around the auto as Philomina unloads a bucket of food and starts serving it for the dogs at the end of this lane, where steps take you down to Marina Loop Road.

“I have been doing this for some five years now,” Philomina tells us.

It is her job to cook 10 kilograms of rice and 10 kilograms of meat every day. The feeding serves about 100 dogs in the San Thome neighbourhood which is covered in the space of two hours.

“We started by feeding the dogs in the San Thome church area and now cover many surrounding streets,” says Philomina.

WHAT IS HAPPENING HERE?

So why has the statue of Thiruvalluvar on Royapettah High Road, Mylapore been kept covered for close to four months? Reader Jeyakarthis has raised this query.

Renovation.

Mylapore MLA Dha Velu says he has allotted Rs.30 lakhs from the MLA constituency development fund for renovation and adding some attractions. He says a special clock erected here will broadcast Kural couplets in Thamizh at regular intervals.

But it has been over four months since 'renovation' started; the MLA promises the new-look place will be ready inside two weeks.

STUDENTS' CREATIVE ZONE

By Preetha K.

Sir Sivaswami Kalalaya Senior Secondary School campus came alive recently when the school hosted its annual Kalpakosha festival, in which city school students showcase their talents.

This year, the festival was held on June 20 and 21.

There were 24 events including Escape Room, Jam, Lawyers Up, Shipwreck, Block and Tackle, Basketball and Futsal, Fireless Cooking, Adzap and a Fashion Parade.

27 schools participated: the fest has been held for over 25 years.

Students from Chettinad Vidyashram, SBOA, Vidya Mandir, Chinmaya Vidyalaya Anna Nagar, P. S. Senior, Hindu Senior, DAV Girls and PSBB were among those who participated.

Savyasachi Mogili, cultural secretary, says that some 500 students were at the festival. "We introduced new games like Escape Room and Expectations vs Reality which were a big hit. Usually, we invite students of Classes 11 and 12 but this time, we invited Class 10 students too."

Roshan Raj from Chettinad Vidyashram was the title winner and Surya S. from Chinmaya Vidyalaya, Anna Nagar was the runner-up as the most creative people at the fest.

Food stalls were set up on the school campus. "Snacks enliven any festival of this kind and I think our guests really enjoyed themselves," she says.

Rosary Matric school girls vote for their leaders

By Our Edit Team

A long-standing campus tradition followed at Rosary Matric Girls School in San Thome is the holding of elections of student leaders; it takes place days after the new academic year begins.

The 2024 - '25 election was held on June 22, a Saturday. That morning senior students got to vote for their leaders and later, around noontime, the winners were declared.

V. Anaa of Class XI was chosen as School Pupil Leader and Padma Yazhini P. of Class IX was chosen as Asst. School Pupil Leader, They were formally crowned on stage by the school principal, Sister Vensi Sahayarani and the event took place in the presence of the senior students and school teachers.

The elected girls made short speeches and then their well-wishers broke into a celebratory jig.

The school says that a few girls are nominated for the posts and given a few hours to campaign inside the campus, while adhering to a few rules. On polling day, students in senior classes cast their ballot.
