Lockdown
Journal
Chennai
book released

The Ranade Library in Luz, the quiet, airy space below the more well-known Srinivasa Sastri Hall, hosted the formal release of ‘Lockdown Journal Chennai’ on Saturday evening (March 11). 15 of the 30-plus contributors to this unique book were present. The book has short stories, essays, art and photos, poems and freewheeling writing, all created by Chennai-based people during the pandemic years.

The book editor, Praveena Shivram who curated the contents formally released the magazine. All the content had been posted online as and when it was ready. Now, all this has been published as a book. The weekend event was made possible by South India National Association which manages this space. The book is on sale at Mylapore Times office. Costs Rs.200 (shipping in Chennai is free). Order by calling Shanthi at 24982244 – pay online.

At Mylapore Post Office, access for seniors at one centre is painful

By Our Edit Team

Mylapore Post Office offers a variety of services to the public and adds more, now and then.

But does it have some basic facilities in place to make life easy for its clients, especially seniors?

One San Thomite says the Post Office managers must pay attention to one serious issue. Make some areas which have counters for public services, more senior citizens accessible. One place that needs attention is the Aadhar Card services section.

Sashikala Chandran says that she had a bitter experience when her 95-year-old mother had to have her mobile number linked to her Aadhar card and it could be done at the Post Office. She says since the finger prints of senior citizens get worn out, identification on documents like Aadhar cards have to be compulsorily be carried out at an E Seva office or at a post office – for iris verification.

She says that at Mylapore Post Office on Kutchery Road, the Aadhar card services counter is in the basement where access is possible only by negotiating painfully, three uneven steps followed by walking down a steep downward slope.

She asks, "What if old people slip and fall? Why can't the India Post authorities make alternate arrangements whereby the elderly need not be put to such undue hardship."

Sashikala does have a word of appreciation – for the postmen who visited their home in San Thome for fingerprint verification. "They were most obliging and kind," she says.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

I headed to a North Madras neighbourhood this week. M. R. Nagar was my destination.

We got to Basin Bridge, went past Vyasarpadi and got into Kavinagar Kannadasan Nagar. Beyond is M. R. Nagar. These nagars sit in the Kodungaiyur zone which is known for the massive waste dump yard which had polluted this part of the city for ages.

The neatly laid-out colonies in M. R. Nagar impressed me. I have not studied the plans and growth of these colonies that have done well the past three decades but I may have the opportunity to know how one Reddiar came to own such vast tracts of land, how they got plotted and how people made good of their lives here.

My guide that afternoon was veteran journalist R. Rajagopal, a man I have known possibly from the years when he was the Ramnad district correspondent for a national newspaper: I bumped into him regularly while covering, in the late 1980s, the Sri Lankan refugees influx into Tamil Nadu and later, militancy.

While going around M. R. Nagar, I noticed these community notice boards at the head of a few streets. One carried wishes for Women's Day. RR told me that local volunteers took turns to post utility as well as social messages on these boards.

In this age of WhatsApp and SnapChat, these simple boards also play a role in social, local communication.

Now, let us toss this thought - how can public service as well as civic communication get amplified well in our neighbourhoods. How can our voices be heard and respected at the proper levels?

Let us put aside our stream of complaints on potholed streets and aggressive cattle. Many people have simple, timely and practical ideas to suggest - to make life better. And they would like officials and politicians to consider them.

Today, two issues related to Sri Kapali Temple's Panguni utsavam popped up. One: how can smarter regulations for vehicle movement be planned and enforced at utsavam time so people immerse the festival on all days? Can the regulations be publicised early?

Two: how do we ensure that food/snacks donated freely to devotees, at pandals and doorsteps on the mada streets on Arubathumovar procession day is not wasted or flung across the streets? How best to streamline this practice?

If practical ideas are shared and impressed on officials, some good can come out of community action. My friend, Sanjay Pinto has amplified the traffic regulation suggestions from people, by tagging senior city police officers.

If we want local issues to be heard and bring good, there are a few smarter ways to highlight and push them. We must be at this.

Bad state of Infinity Park: invite companies to restore it

This is about the sad state of Infinity Park. Since Greater Chennai Corporation will not do anything when it is needed, GCC should give up plans at developing this park and it can be taken up as CSR initiative by a private company. Many are looking for such projects

- Mahalakshmi R. Ashok

Good read

The 'My Story' column featuring young and avid Sanskrit scholar, Naveena, made for a wonderful read. Her innovative and multi-pronged efforts to popularise the language are truly laudable. Her style of writing was lovely and made me want to pursue the language from where I left in school.

- N. Krishna Sarma

Why these bollards?

Bollards have sprung up all over to presumably to stop vehicles from driving over the footpath or parking them here. They have been knocked down at many places and two-wheelers are having a jolly good time using this space. One more example of money from the public exchequer going down the drain.

- Ramaswamy

Caption was 'incomplete'

On page one of Mylapore Times dated March 11, refer the heading - From one violin vidwan to two famed violinists. I wish to inform that the conferrer is also a famous violin vidwan (as famous as the father of the recipients), deserving the honour of being mentioned as such. He is the recipient of Sangita Kalanidhi (in 2005), and that should definitely have been mentioned in front of his name.

- Ganapathi S. Vibhu

Marina Beach: A walker's nightmare

I am a senior citizen and a regular walker at the Marina Beach. Of late, it has become a nightmare for senior citizens with packs of stray dogs at every junction. It is scary after reading horror stories reported in the newspapers about how these stray dogs pose a threat to life. I wonder how the population of stray dogs continues to multiply despite tall claims of being neutered.

This is not all. If you cross this obstacle successfully, then you have the cows loitering about and hundreds of pigeons being fed on the sands without understanding the health hazard it poses to humans. If you are careful enough not to step on the cow dung then the dog poop poses a challenge. Less said the better about the toilets at the beach. If you decide to sit and relax a bit, you can see rats roaming about freely and added to this is the mosquito menace. It is sad to see the landmark of Chennai in this state.

MY STORY

The Mylapore I Remember

By C. S. ANANTH

I grew up in the early fifties in a housing colony; in Karpagambal Nagar, off Luz Church Road.

Here are some old memories of Mylapore as I remember.

Near the Luz Circle, were quite a few shops. To the east, at the beginning of Kutchery Road was Universal Biscuit Stores. On the west side, were a line of stores known as fancy stores. Starting with Crores and Crores ending with India Store. India Store, I think became Trillions and Trillions.

There was a Himalaya juice shop near India Store and in the corner, was Nehru News Mart. It survives.

Then, there was Mylapore Club where I hit my first tennis ball and where men played tennis with a veshti and women in salwar kameez /sarees smashed the balls. In white colours of course.

Across the road was Kamadhenu Theatre, then Chitra Agencies which was a stationery shop. This shop had a huge photo of the late S. Anantharamakrishnan, founder of the Amalgamations group. Next door was RR Pharmacy, a one-stop shop for any medicines. They had a pharmacist as well. I don't see any pharmacy these days where there is a pharmacist.

Down Brodies Road ( now Ramakrishna Mutt Road) at the corner of the Mada Street, where Indian Bank is now, was the original campus of P. S. High School.

Down North Mada Street, was the large house of K.V. Krishnaswami Iyer, founder president of the Music Academy. Further down was the well known jeweller, D. K. Murthy. He was famous for classical dance jewellery. A few shops away were Srivati Stores. A few blocks away was a famous Kanjeevaram sarees shop, Sampurna Sastriar. Another shop nearby owned by an aged couple used to sell authentic kum-kumam.

On East Mada Street was the house of K. S. Jayaraman. At this place stands Bharata Vidya Bhavan today. In Sannidhi Street was another old Kancheepuram saree shop, Kathayee Silk Emporium. Near the temple's entrance on the left was the archanai plate seller, where we used to leave our footwear before entering the temple. He used to give kolu dolls on hire during Navaratri. I vaguely remember that Kalathi Rose Milk and Karpagambal Mess were also there.

On South Mada Street was Mylapore Benefit Fund and a few blocks away, Vijaya Stores selling stationery and text books also. On West Mada Street was a famous eye doctor, late A. V. Rajagopal.

Those were the days. My friends and I used to hire a cycle at four annas per hour and cycle around Mylapore!

Some civic projects the MLA is looking at now

By Our Edit Team

Mylapore MLA Dha Velu is on the move, most days. This week, on Wednesday morning, he was following up on some projects that are on Circular Road. Could a Food Hawkers' Street work in this area? The MLA took the idea and bounced it on residents. The feedback was negative.

Food Zones are an idea that Chennai Corporation

the planning table and civic utilities that need attention.

First, Velu went down to the road in Mandavelipakkam, the area behind the campus of St. Anthony's Girls Hr. Sec. School, off East and Chennai Metropolitan Development Aity (CMDA) are presently discussing. One assumes the MLA brought it to Mylapore.

The MLA's next stop was a GCC facility that needs urgent attention. Infinity Park, located off San Thome High Road; a park meant for children with and without disabilities. This park is in a sorry stage four-plus years after it was launched as a unique facility.

The MLA was briefed on the park's condition. But he has reacted long after the issue was widely reported and the local councillor was well aware of.

Velu told Mylapore Times that he also intends to inspect a playground that is more of a dump ground on Marina Loop Road. He says he intends to fund the restoration of this playground, with lighting, rest rooms and basic facilities, to respond to scores of youths of this area who seek play spaces in this zone.

FOOD HAWKER ZONE IN MANDAVELIPAKKAM: IDEA DROPPED

The idea to create a Food Hawkers Zone on a street between Dhyana Ashram and St Anthony's Girls School in Mandavelipakkam has been dropped, Mylapore MLA Dha Velu said on Thursday.

He says residents of the area do not want such a project saying that will draw crowds and mess up the area.

Velu says he says an alternate idea - to have push-cart vegetable and grocery hawkers stationed here at business hours and asked to clear the place after that.

The MLA says that some people were hanging around this street and complaints of undesirable acts had come to his notice and hence, there was a need to address the issue, more so because a large community of young girls attend the school and use the space around.

Velu says he intends to ask GCC to lay a pavement and get a police patrol booth set up.

INFINITY PARK WILL GET FRESH LOOK. A PROMISE

Mylapore MLA Dha Velu says he is keen to see that Infinity Park in Mandavelipakkam is restored.

He says that he has been told that Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC) is in talks with Appaswamy Builders, who maintain this park, to collaborate with GCC in the Nammakku Namme scheme in which GCC and the private party share the payment of the bills of such a project.

Appaswamy Builders has already told Mylapore Times that it is not keen to take up the funding proposition now. The MLA says that if the collaboration does not come off he will sign out funds from his MLA's constituency development fund and ensure the park is restored. GCC's budget for this - Rs.30 lakhs.

Dr. Ezhil Malar recognised for her services

Dr. Ezhil Malar, a resident of Karpagam Avenue in R. A. Puram was recognised for her services at a recent Women's Day event held in the city.

The Sushma Swaraj awards, which remember the late national leader of the BJP, are awarded every year to women who excel in different fields. Dr. Malar is a consultant obstetrician and gynaecologist attached to Ezhil Hospital in Tondiarpet. The hospital is owned by her family.

She was decorated with the Best Doctor award from North Chennai zone for her '30 years of exemplary service to society'. The function was held on March 9 at YMCA Convention Hall in Vepery.

Vanathi Srinivasan, the national president of the women's wing of the Bharatiya Janata Party presented the awards to 75 women from different fields.

Holi and Women's Day celebrations

Holi celebrations were a grand affair this year at Jeevan Bhima Enclave, a community located off Dr. Radha Krishnan Salai in Mylapore. The celebrations, held on a Sunday lasted for an hour – the residents, young and senior, used water guns and environment friendly colours made from dried flowers to shower colours on friends and neighbours.

After a quick break, the women and children convened at the terrace to have dinner to mark Women's Day. Food and fun under the open sky which also had the full moon and bright stars made this a memorable day for community.

R. A. Puram Bhakta Jana Sabha: Thyagaraja utsavam

Raja Annamalai Puram Bhakta Jana Sabha hosted its annual Thyagaraja utsavam at Sringeri Mandiram in Mandaveli on March 10.

The Sabha honoured vidwan Neyveli Santhanagopalan, Carnatic music vocalist. He later presented a concert.

The next day at this venue, at 9 a.m; vocalist Subha Ganesan and artistes presented utsava sampradaya kritis and then, a group of artistes led by Santhanagopalan took part in the gosti singing of the pancharatna kritis of Thyagaraja.

Grove School: Annual day of juniors

The Grove School in Alwarpet celebrated its Junior School Annual Day on March 3 at R. R. Sabha, Mylapore. On stage, the performances included songs, dances and plays.

The English play "Do Your Part", carried a timely lesson on how everyone need to do their part. The Tamil play "Ennannga Nyayam" addressed the issue of over-usage of gadgets. The children's shows included singing songs, chanting the Bhagavad Gita, a yoga demonstration and a medley of classical and folk dances.

Baala Vidhya, a private initiative by V. Deepa, to inculcate culture and knowledge in children, conducted 'Holi with Krishna' workshop at a space in Karpagam Avenue, R. A. Puram.

The participating children learnt the significance of the festival through story sessions and danced to the music of Dhol, said Deepa. Various other creative activities were also held.

Family of 136 celebrate centenarian's 100th birthday

started with Amma’s royal entry followed by Charan Poojan (worshipping her feet with milk), songs, dances, speeches, and an audio-visual presentation which highlighted interesting events of her life including her skill at playing chaupad (game of dice) and love for reading to this day.

An entry stamp of #100yearsyoung and a 2D family tree at the entrance made a lovely photo booth. It was a beautiful event, with a magical touch.

The highlight of the evening was a short talk by the centenarian which was based on the Jain principles of seeking forgiveness from her family for any hurt caused to them knowingly or unknowingly, blessing them, and expressing her gratitude to them.

Over 300 people attended the event, including Amma’s family, extended families and friends. Apart from guests, 100 members of Amma’s family were present.

< Pratibha Jain is Amma’s sixth son’s wife

By Pratibha Jain

Very rarely have we heard of or attended a hundredth birthday.

But for a family of 136 members, it was the perfect opportunity to celebrate the centenary birthday of their eldest member - whom they all affectionately call Amma - Ratni Bai Chordia.

Beautiful as a gem, as her name suggests, Ratni Bai is the mother of eight sons and five daughters. Married to S. Manicklal Chordia, who was a popular social worker from Mylapore, an honorary presidency magistrate figure in their circles, and connected with various educational and social organizations in Chennai.

On February 18, the event was showcased at the hall of Hotel Annalakshmi.

Amma and her family of five generations were dressed in a white-gold-copper theme, and looked regal. The programme

New Cath Lab at St. Isabel's Hospital

This facility will enable 24x7 cardiac-emergency services

By Our Edit Team

St. Isabel's Hospital in Mylapore soft-launched its cath lab on March 8. The new facility will offer patients 24/7 interventional cardiology services and cater to cardiac emergencies, says a note from the hospital.

The hospital says it will also use the cath lab to perform interventional neurology and interventional radiology procedures soon.

The 73-year-old hospital is presently expanding the new facility, and will launch full-fledged services from it later this year.

The soft launch of the cath lab was held on the birth anniversary of Fr Raimundo dos Anjos Beirao, who was born in Lisbon in 1810. Along with Sister Maria Clara, he founded the Congregation of the Franciscan Hospitaller Sisters of the Immaculate Conception (FHIC), whose nuns manage Isabel's.

The FHIC nuns founded St. Isabel's Hospital in Mylapore on March 19, 1949.

The catheterization lab is a facility where minimally-invasive tests and procedures are conducted to diagnose and treat cardiovascular diseases. Flexible tubes, called catheters, are used along with imaging equipment to assess blood vessels and the heart.

For parents of children with disabilities / special needs. This event is for you

Ekadaksha Learning Center (ELC), was established on March 4, 2010 by four qualified women. They had one goal – provide education to children with special needs.

ELC is completing 13 years of what the founders – Bharathi, Archana, Bindu, Kanaka – say has been 'exploring, expressing, experiencing and empowering.' At their centre in Jeth Nagar.

To mark this occasion, the Ekadaksha Trust is conducting an awareness programme for parents of children with disabilities/special needs.

It is to be held on March 26 at Vidya Sagar, Kotturpuram. A few professionals will share their thoughts.

These talks, say the organisers, will help parents to understand their present situation better and get ideas about how they can go about the future for themselves and their child.

The event is for parents of children with disabilities/special needs.

If you are a parent who wishes to take part, fill in the registration form (<https://forms.gle/RnUhcYEh4dQWtPnu9>) or drop in at the event.

Ekadaksha Trust is at No.3, Jeth Nagar 1st Main Road, R. A. Puram. Phone: 24950831

NEWS FROM TEMPLES

By S. Prabhu

● The Panguni Brah-motsavam at Venkatesa Perumal Temple on Mari Chetty Street will commence this Saturday; flag hoisting starts at 7 am. Garuda Sevai procession will start at 8pm on Wednesday with Perumal also providing darshan in V C Garden 1st and 2nd Streets. The chariot procession starts at 7 am on March 24.

● The annual kumbab-hisekam day of Sri Ka-paleeswarar Temple will be celebrated this Saturday at the temple on the occasion of Panguni Shravanam. As part of the uchi kaala pooja, there will be a 1008 sanga abhisekam for the pancha moorthy idols. In the evening, there will be a mada street procession of the pancha moorthies.

● Police and HR & CE officials will discuss this weekend some key issues related to the Panguni utsavam at Sri Kapali Temple. People are concerned mainly with two issues - better management of vehicular traffic on all fest days. Smarter arrangement of devotees' stalls donating food / snacks on Arabathumooovar day, better hygiene and food waste clearance.
