Summertime Rain

Cyclonic weather brought rain on Tuesday morning (May 10) and the greens - the trees, shrubs and plants - in Nageswara Rao Park in Luz seemed refreshed. And the morning walkers at this popular park enjoyed the best of the cool morning as they went about their walks.

The recycling space on Sringeri Mutt Road, Mandaveli

Civic body recycles waste locally and sells the manure

By Our Staff Reporter

If you need manure for your garden or potted plants on the terrace you may want to buy it from the stalls of Chennai Corporation, locally. It costs little.

The civic body has teams that source vegetable waste from the civic workers of Urbaser Sumeet company who work in each ward and then recycle this waste into manure.

This work goes on locally; there are said to be three such places in the Mylapore zone where workers recycle vegetable waste.

One place is located outside and close to the entrance of the Mandaveli MRTS rail station. The other is located off Kutchery Road, alongside the Buckingham Canal, near the bridge.

A kilo of manure was sold at Rs.20 but recently, the GCC decided to sell it at Rs.10 per packet. One manure sales stall was recently seen on Kamaraj Salai in R. A. Puram, at the Srinivasa Avenue junction. The civic body is keen to recycle kitchen waste locally, recycle it and sell the byproduct to the neighbourhood.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Summer holidays are with us. And this is the time to plan a few fun things. Outdoors.

For those of you who may have to stay in the city, there are places to explore. Perhaps, plan a short picnic outside - like spending three hours of fun in a place that could interest you. A place you have not been before.

Let me jot down a few suggestions here. Even if they do not appeal to you and your folks at home, they may set off other ideas.

On top of my mind is St. Thomas Mount. I was in that area on work recently and I guess this is why this interesting city zone popped up here.

Once you get to this area, you should first slow drive or even get out and walk around in the spaces at the base of this mount. This was once the colonial military offices and barracks zone and a slow walk around will give you a sense of the city's heritage. And if heritage appeals to you, you could pop into one or two old churches in this neighbourhood. After you have done that walk, you can then drive up to the top of the mount.

Or if you are up to it, you can take the steps, some 120-plus to the top.

There is an old, old church here, part of the saint Thomas legend. And the views from the top are really good; you can watch the aeroplanes land and take-off from the airport. If you are carrying a picnic basket, then you may well open the tiffin boxes here and enjoy the food in the open.

The Madras Museum campus is a 'must visit' destination of our city, and makes for a picnic spot too. There was a time when this museum was on the study-tour list of every school in the city, not that the tour was hugely exciting for kids who would rather have a free run in the outdoors!

But this Museum is an exciting space, and can be made very interesting if a parent or elder turns into a story-telling guide! The many galleries and sections here on different themes and the classic Chola Bronzes section will make the tour an interesting one. Do carry your picnic snacks basket along - there are open spaces here where you can have a leisurely bite. And this unwinding is far better than rushing off to a restaurant or a fast-food joint.

My final suggestion, of the three I share here (I have dozens more!) is a trip to explore the East Coast Road. No, I am not suggesting a 80-kmph drive to Mahabalipuram and back road trip. Take a slow drive, at around 45-kmph and once you have left behind the densely inhabited colonies on either side of the ECR, turn into the seaside pathways on a whim. This must turn out to be a Nature Picnic Trip.

If you head here at dawn and drive into one of the fishing villages, you will get to watch the boats coming ashore, the fishers sorting their catch, the fish auction and all that... On the coast, you can also explore the large sand dunes, walk over and below them. You can explore the casuarina or cashew or palm groves and the unique vegetation of this area and if you are there as the sun dips in the west, sight a whole variety of birds too!

This city and its environs offer much. Holidays are just the time when you can explore some of them.

Needed: bus services to Egmore rail station

● A regular bus service with more frequencies in the mornings and evenings from Mylapore to Egmore railway station is very much needed. The buses can start from Mandaveli terminus and may be routed through Royapettah, Spencers, Pantheon Road and Egmore rail station.

- G. Santhanam

● Recently, MTC has introduced a mini bus service from Mylapore to Central railway station. I understand the collection this far has not been good at all.

I presume the following reasons are contributing to the poor patronage - 1. Already, there are direct buses to Central station via Mylapore and they ply frequently and it takes less than 20 minutes to reach the station. So these services are sufficient. 2.

The new minibus service takes more time to reach Central station and the frequency is unpredictable.

Our suggestion to MTC is that since there is no direct bus to Egmore rail station from Mylapore it is advisable to ply this mini bus to Egmore instead of Central station. Many people will appreciate that change and use the service.

Remove hawkers at junction of Mandaveli Street

Near the junction of Mandaveli Street and R. K. Math Road where the Mandaveli Street becomes narrow, there are minor accidents now and then. There are encroachments on both sides of the street by street hawkers and nothing has been done to remove these blocks. There is also a need for a policeman to regulate the traffic.

- R. Chandrasekaran

make driving and walking here smooth.

- T. R. Badri Narayanan

Choked Abhiramapuram junction

The junction of 4th Street Abhiramapuram and C. P. Ramasamy Road on the east side always poses problems for motorists and others. Entry and exit from Abhiramapuram is a challenge. This is due to the unauthorised hawker stalls as well as a auto stand in one corner besides haphazard parking of two wheelers.

We request the civic authorities to initiate proper steps to remove the encroachers and

Water supply woes

At the beginning of summer season, we do normally experience frequent power cuts and shortage of Metro water supply.

We at Mundagakanni Amman Koil Street did not get our supply of Metro water on May 1 and again, there was no water supply till 7.30 a.m. on May 2 and then, the supply stopped in two hours. We had the same experience on May 3 too.

If there are water supply and power cuts this summer, we suggest agencies inform people in advance.

MY STORY

Delightful Experience in Theatre

By KARTHIK BHATT

My interest in theatre came about at an early age thanks to my school Vidya Mandir, Mylapore. I was a part of several plays at the primary and middle school levels. These plays were in English and in Tamil and staged for our Annual Day.

A few of us who had been together in school then started 'Chennai Drama House', a production house in 2008. We staged four productions and over 75 shows. We produced clean, good comedy in these plays. But we had to discontinue our productions because many of us got busy with our professions.

Amateur theatre works in its own ways. Rehearsal spaces change all the time. Sometimes, we rehearse in the director's house or an artiste's place. Often, we make use of the small hall of Kartik Fine Arts in Mandaveli. For one recent play, we rehearsed at a kalyana mantapam.

We rehearse after 7 p.m. after we get back from our day jobs. Do this for an hour or two.

Theatre is a wonderful medium of communication. It offers several lessons in interpersonal skills, planning, coordination and innovation. It teaches mindfulness, as one always has to be aware of situations to manage in case of any slip ups on stage.

Since 2011, I have been part of Dummies Drama, a theatre group founded in 1998 by CA V Sreevathson and his friends. I have also been associated with Theatre Shrad-dha in several of their productions.

Over the course of these 15 years, I have had the great fortune of interacting with several wonderful artistes, technicians, organisers and rasikas.

Learning from watching and performing with veterans who have been in the field for several decades has been a delightful experience.

With increased use of technology (LED lights, projections, etc.) in recent times to provide an unique experience and experimentation with production aspects such as minimal set design and innovative lighting, it promises to be a fascinating journey ahead.

● Karthik Bhatt is a chartered accountant by profession, a freelance researcher and writer on Chennai heritage and also an amateur theatre artiste.

This P. S. School alumni group networks on community projects

By Our Staff Reporter

Here is a school alumni group which has kept the relationships warm by being involved in community work.

The group is made up of the 1991 batch of the Tamil medium stream of P. S. Hr. Secondary School, Mylapore. It has been functioning under the name of Ilam Vizhudhugal Trust.

One of its annual projects is a blood donation camp that it organises.

The camp for this year was organised recently at the Vaaniyar Mandapam in Mylapore in association with the Government Kasturba Gandhi Hospital more commonly known as Gosha Hospital in Triplicane.

“Getting a good number of people to donate blood is not easy,” says G. Subramani, a key member of the group. “While we get a few people who have donated at our previous camps we work hard to also get many others so that the blood collection is substantial.”

Subramani who works at a stock brokers’ firm in Mylapore and the head of the yet-to-be registered Trust, A. Sivashankar who is with Equitas Small Finance Bank are proud of the outreach work the team did during the Chennai floods of 2015.

Says Sivashankar, “We worked for many days offering relief to residents of a colony located near Jafferkanpet in the city. Besides pooling our members’ donations, we also got funds from well-wishers.”

The idea of a social work-focussed group was floated years after the batch passed out of the Mylapore school campus. The 1991 batch was made up of three sections which were from the English medium and one Tamil medium group. The group first collaborated with Mylapore-based community/ socio-religious groups in the outreach projects and then decided to chart their own course.

The recent blood donation camp was the 15th in a series. Currently, about 25 ‘old boys’ of the 1991 batch make the ‘Trust’ and a dozen of them are actively associated with its activities.

Sivashankar says that once the Trust is registered, the group intends to expand its plans. He says the focus will be on education, supporting poor students, primarily studying in their alma mater.

These are the contacts: Sivashankar - 9884655547; Subramani ; 9841034348.

Vasant Utsav

Concerts of the Vasant Utsav Dance Festival, held in Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple, Mylapore were held from May 1 onwards, on ten evenings, with solo and group dance recitals and one Carnatic music concert.

On May 7, artistes of Kuchipudi Art Academy in R. A. Puram performed. The guru Srimayi Venkat is seen in the photo below, with the dancers, receiving a memento from the festival host, C. K. Gariyali.

On the final evening (May 10), a medley of Kathak pieces were performed by artistes of Devaniya School of Kathak of guru Jigyasa Giri. (photo above).

Saraswathy Educational Cultural and Charitable Trust conducts this festival every year.

EVICITION IN R. A. PURAM COLONY

Chief minister says families will be re-settled in Mylapore

By Our Staff Reporter

The JCBs have moved out. So have the many police posted here. And the demolition work has stopped for now,

Chief minister M. K. Stalin has said that the residents of Govindaswamy Nagar (in R. A. Puram zone) who were asked to vacate their houses as part of an eviction plan that followed a Supreme Court order, will be re-settled in Mylapore and in Mandaveli.

The residents who faced eviction (some had been moved to quarters in Perumbakkam) may be accommodated in the new residential blocks that the TN Urban Habitat Development Board is constructing in many places in the Mylapore zone.

Last Monday, the nagar's affected community staged a long, vocal protest on the main road near the Greenways Road MRTS railway station campus. One local man immolated himself and died later.

Residents have claimed that they have resided in the nagar for over three decades and paid power and water bills; that by moving them to far-off campuses, their livelihood and their children's studies would be badly affected.

The chief minister has also announced that Rs.10 lakhs will be given to the family of the man who immolated himself as a sign of protest.

125th Foundation Day of Ramakrishna Mission: event held at Math

The 125th Foundation Day of Ramakrishna Mission was celebrated at Sri Ramakrishna Math in Mylapore on May 1.

The Ramakrishna Mission was founded by swami Vivekananda on May 1, 1897 soon after his return from an eventful tour of America.

A note from the Math said that Sri Ramakrishna, during his lifetime had trained a group of young disciples to be the torch bearers of his messages, and through them laid the foundation of a new monastic order, which came to be known as Ramakrishna Math and Mission.

The main goal of these organisations is interfaith harmony, equality and holistic development of the society.

The monks, with support from lay devotees and philanthropic associations conduct varied social welfare activities such as running schools, hospitals, rural development, hold skill courses and give vocational training, with its centres across the world.

The event at the Math campus in Mylapore included a formal event, with special guests speaking on this occasion, followed by a special arati at the temple and a concert.

Sort out your ration card issues here

By Our Staff Reporter

Do you need to make changes in your ration card? Or do you need to apply for a new card?

Then you can do this and more every second Saturday of the month at the zonal office of the TN Civil Supplies Corporation located in Mylapore.

So, on May 14, this office will entertain such applications and queries.

Officials say any issue related to ration cards can be discussed and sorted out at the monthly meeting open to the public, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The office now functions at the TN Urban Habitat complex, located next to the P. S. School campus on R. K. Mutt Road, diagonally opposite the Universal Temple and R. K. Math campus. (Photo above is of the complex on R. K. Mutt Road) It used to function in Venkatesa Agraharam.

Crafts workshop at park

As part of the quarterly Weekend at the Park series, Sundaram Finance will organise a 'Dream Catcher' crafts workshop for children aged 8 -12 years on Saturday, May 28 between 3 pm and 5 pm at the Nageswara Rao Park in Luz.

Dream Catcher is a native craft hung above the beds of children. All art materials will be provided by Sundaram Finance for this free workshop

The workshop will be restricted to 25 children. To register, call 28881565 between 9.30 am and 5pm.

MYLAPORE MURDER

Smart work by police helped team to crack this case in hours

By Our Staff Reporter

The murder of a couple in Dwaraka Colony in Mylapore evoked shock, sympathy and emotional outpouring from all quarters. The crime case has also highlighted the smart work accomplished by the police based in Mylapore. The team cracked the case in less than six hours after a call went out to the police station on Kutcheri Road.

This smart work by the local police came in for appreciation even from the chief minister of the state, M. K. Stalin. Stalin appreciated the team headed by deputy commissioner of Mylapore zone, Disha Mittal.

Piecing together the information that has been shared by the police, here is how the police worked smartly to track and nab the two accused - a driver-cum-househelp of the couple and his friend.

- The police were alerted after a relative of the couple personally went to the Dwaraka Colony residence to check about their condition after the couple's daughter in the USA, whom the couple had just visited, realised that neither her father nor her mother were picking up her calls around 10 a.m. She had spoken to them twice earlier - when they landed at the Chennai airport from the USA at about 3.30 a.m., and after they got home. The daughter had also got evasive replies from the couple's driver, who lived in the outhouse. The police recorded the complaint call around 10.30 a.m. Their first suspect was the driver.

- When the police arrived at the Mylapore

Srikanth and Anuradha

house and began probing, they found out that large amounts of gold and silver and valuables had been cleaned up from the safe. They also observed the smell of a cleansing agent, noting that it had been freshly used. And they also spotted a few blood stains.

- When the police tried calling up the driver, his phone was switched off. Meanwhile, the tele-service provider was alerted, to track the user. Since the police calls to the driver drew a blank, they sent him a blank message. Much later, when the accused switched on his phone, the police got to know that the accused was moving towards Andhra state.

- The couple's car was also missing from the house. The police alerted toll plazas. One CCTV image at a ECR toll plaza showed the accused crossing the toll line at dawn. The police realised that the accused had been on the ECR. They were told the couple owned a farm house there. The police made a quick dash to that farm house; there was a freshly dug pit and some blood-stained implements around. The accused had taken the couple's bodies in the car and buried them here.

- The police then received an alert from Padi (north Chennai) toll plaza; the CCTV here had recorded the movement of the car driven by the accused and his aide. They sensed the duo, one from Nepal and one from the north-east, were fleeing north.

- Police alerted the district police in Andhra Pradesh, asking them to keep a tab at all the highway toll plazas. The accused were nabbed near Ongole.

The house in Dwaraka Colony where the couple resided

A PRE-PLANNED CRIME

Srikanth and his wife Anuradha were murdered inside their bungalow in Dwaraka Colony in Mylapore minutes after they checked into their home after landing at Chennai airport early on May 7, flying in from the USA where they spent time with their children.

They had been picked up at the airport at about 3.30a.m. and had been driven home by their Nepalese driver-house helper who had been in their employment for many years. The helper's father had been employed by Srikanth for many years and was later posted at their farm-house on the ECR (East Coast Road).

Police handling the case say that the driver (who lived in an outhouse in the bungalow's campus) and his associate struck the couple with heavy objects / implements soon after the couple had stepped into their house. The blows were fatal and the couple were killed inside.

The accused had cleaned the house of blood stains and then bundled the bodies into the couple's car, driven down the ECR to the guest house near Mamallapuram and buried the bodies in a pit which had been previously dug up, indicating that this was a pre-planned crime.

The accused then left the city and were headed north when Andhra police nabbed them near Ongole.

Police have recovered the jewels and other items the accused had stolen and have sought custody of the two, to further probe and build a water-tight case.

Two primary schools celebrate Annual Day

By Our Staff Reporter

Two schools, one Annual Day. The two schools are not hugely well-known ones. But they serve the community. Vijay Vidya Nursery and Mylapore Fine Arts Club auditorium. And applauding the children on stage were their parents and guardians. Vijayalakshmi Muthuvelu is the schools' correspondent and S. M. Natarajan is trusjust the kind that suited them and their children, when they sought nursery education. At one point, the school had close to 500 children on its rolls.

Primary School was started in 1970 in Ramakrishna Nagar in R. A. Puram. Its management later brought the Sabhesan Bala Brindavan Primary School under its umbrella; this one is located in the same locality. On April 18, the staff and students of these schools collaborated to put up a formal and colourful Annual Day at tee of the Vijay Vidya Trust. Natarajan says that his father, S. Muthuvelu launched Vijay Vidya in order to educate the children of the poor and middle-income families of this zone of the neighbourhood. The families in the sprawling colonies developed by what was then called the TN Slum Clearance Board found this school

Over time, as other nursery schools opened and families migrated, the strength came down. In recent times, the Trust took over Sabhesan Bala Brindavan Primary School located in the same area. Currently, the students at this school have been moved to the Vijay Vidya school because renovation is going on in that campus. Natarajan says that though the Sabhesan school's strength is low, he and the Trust hope to develop the schools and provide good nursery-primary level education on the lines its founder followed.

Mada Street hawker offers traditional meal in the morning

In the nooks and street corners of Mylapore, hawkers now offer thirsty folks something to beat the summer.

And as dawn breaks, there are hawkers who also offer what they claim is healthy food.

In recent days, there is this hawker on South Mada Street who is seen offering a 'meal' every morning, around 7 a.m. The koozhu that he offers is made up of a mix of ragi, chulam and kambu (millets). This koozhu is offered in a container placed on a banana leaf and to go with it, is a chutney, mor milagai and pickle.

This serving costs Rs 25. The hawker says he prepares the koozhu at home every morning.
