Bank donates battery cart to transport seniors to Kapali Temple

By Our Edit Team

Karur Vysya Bank has donated three battery-driven carts for use in temple zones, of which one will be used in the Sri Kapali Temple zone area of Mylapore.

The formal launch was held last Saturday in the presence of state minister Sekar Babu who is also in charge of HR & CE department, managing temples. Senior officers of the bank and Mylapore MLA, Dha Velu were also present. It was announced that the cart can be used by senior citizens and the handicapped to get to the temple from the Mada Streets zone.

Does the temple have dedicated staff to drive the carts? The temple's executive officer Kavenitha did not respond to these queries.

WHERE ARE THE OLDER CARTS?

Sundaram Finance (SF) had donated similar carts to the temple to transport seniors and the aged to the temple a few years ago. They were used for some time and then, they 'disappeared'. Temple officials then said there were no staff to operate them. One of the SF-donated cars is now seen abandoned inside the campus of Sri Karpagambal Kalyana Mantapam on Venkatesa Agharam Street, Mylapore. Staff here said it is not used. Where is the other cart? The temple's executive officer did not reply to this query.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

When school re-opened and I was closing the first month in Class 8, the class teacher called by Mom aside and had a chat.

That weekend, she took me to the tailor.

And a week later, I was going to school in long pants, as we called them occasionally. Trousers. Khaki trousers.

The class teacher had told my Mom that I was now a big boy and that I should discontinue wearing short pants to school.

More, because there were girls around. Ours was a co-ed school, you see.

The past week, window-shopping, I stood outside a store in Luz and looked at the mannequins inside the showcase. There were four. Each was dressed in a school uniform. Each, distinct. I realised that these were uniforms of some leading schools in the neighbourhood.

I wonder if you have preserved a set of your school uniform in your memories trunk and take it out once in a while to go back in time.

Looking back, I would have liked to preserve my school tie. Though many of us just did not like wearing ties to school. Imagine the condition of our necks which would accumulate sweat and marinate our collars. I still cannot understand why our schools, in a 'hot hot hot' city like Madras, continue to add the tie to the school uniform mandate.

I suppose small-sized things make better souvenirs.

I know of people who have preserved their badges - School Captain, Head Girl, House Captain.....those sorts. There are people who treasure their high school marks books / report cards - especially the snappy remarks made by the class teacher or HM. And then, there are junior sports stars who absolutely love the look of the certificates they earned at school sports, city sports and inter-school sports meets. And their medals, even if they were fake gold!

Today's Gen would prefer to file all the digital images they must have shot in their final years at school. But there is nothing like putting away something real and physical - like certificates, medals, badges or even ties.

I remember hinting to the HM of a city school which was celebrating its 50 years that it would be a good idea to set up a museum in the parlour or down the corridor - where uniforms, badges, ties and marks books of the five decades could be on display. This showcase would be attractive and make a better impact than a board that gave you and me a concise history of the school.

Income Tax Returns: some tips

The Central Board of Direct Taxes has announced the extension of the due date for return filing to September 15 for non-audit assesseees who were originally required to file return by July 31. However, it is recommended to complete all the planning and compilation beforehand so that the filing process is stress free.

Tax assesseees must understand their tax options. Under the new tax regime, there are no specific tax exemptions for senior citizens, and everyone is taxed at the same reduced slab rates.

Majority of senior citizens who rely on pension income, interest incomes from fixed deposits, SCSS or making eligible investments will benefit more under the old regime.

You have to exercise the option to choose the old tax regime at the time of filing the return of income. If you are filing your returns yourself, use the Income Tax website questionnaire feature to opt for old tax regime or consult a tax return preparer or a chartered accountant for assistance. It is advisable to consult a chartered accountant, if you have capital gains, business income or unfamiliar entries in 26AS or AIS/TIS.

Suggestion to MTC

Some changes can be made in MTC's route number 21V which operates from Tambaram to North Madras. An additional stop near Sringeri Mutt before the railway station can be added. The road from temple tank to Mandaveli bus stand, R K Mutt Road should be made one way and the bus can stop at Luz once the repair work is done.

Remove these lorries

The flyover near Yellow Pages connecting Mylapore and Royapettah has been closed due to ongoing Chennai Metro work. Two wheelers from Sanskrit College side have to make a U-turn just before the flyover to reach Brindavan Street or Balakrishna Street. However, many lorries are parked on the right side leading to zero visibility. Motorists also drive on the wrong side, from V M Street which is 'one way' or they come from the wrong side of Royapettah High Road. Lorries should not be allowed to park there.

Why this photo-news?

● Should an encroacher on pavement be appreciated and encouraged by Mylapore Times by featuring him on page 1? Can you instead ask GCC to allot space once a week in designated areas or edges of playgrounds for vendors? The Kasturi Ranga Road pavements are occupied by vendors. Where will pedestrians go?

- Sujatha Vijayaraghavan

● This refers to the photo and the report of a vendor selling home-made broom sticks on the pavement at Dr Ranga Road junction. [Mylapore Times, May 24]. While the public often petition the civic body to remove encroachments on pavements which are meant for pedestrians, how can Mylapore Times publish such a report?

- V. S. Jayaraman

On Vincent's Jottings

I have a wisecrack about the black butterfly that prefers the curry leaves tree instead of checking out the flowers. My thinking is that it prefers spicy things!

Too much or too little chlorine? Foreshore Estate residents query (Nov. 11 - 17, 1995)

Residents of Srinivasapuram and a few other areas in Foreshore Estate are complaining that there is inadequate chlorine in the water supplied by Metrowater. Some others say that the water smells too strongly of chlorine.

A local Metrowater official explained that the water is chlorinated in Kilpauk and that by the time it reaches Foreshore Road, the effect is reduced.

As a countermeasure, the officials inject liquid chlorine directly into the main line on the main road, near the traffic signal, about three times a day. He added that they were mulling hourly injections as an effective measure.

Garbage overflow outside P. S. Senior (Nov. 11 - 17, 1995)

The garbage bin outside P S Senior Secondary School in Alamelumangapuram has been left unattended for the past few days.

The overflowing bin has given rise to a stench which the school kids are unable to tolerate while parents are left feeling anxious about the health hazard it poses. So are passersby. This has brought to the core an important issue: Should garbage bins be placed outside schools?

Poompuhar sale at Sankara Hall (Nov. 11 - 17, 1995)

Brass icons, wood carvings, brass lamps, art pieces and wooden cabinets in sandalwood, teakwood and rosewood are some of the attractions at the Poompuhar sale at Sri Sankara Hall on TTK Road, which opened on November 2. It is open up to November 14. A furniture exchange exhibition is the programme slotted next, between November 17 and 28.

Mylaporean's cartoon films to be telecast on DD (Nov. 11 - 17, 1995)

Mylaporean Ranu's animated cartoon films titled Proud Lion and Flying Horse are to be telecast on November 16 and 23 on DD Channel 1. This is a maiden attempt by DD, Madras. The story, direction and animation is the work of

S. K. Ramanujam (Ranu), who has trained people in cartoon drawing. The films have been produced by SK Ranu Productions, with music by Raja Simhan. K. S. Sabarinathan and R. B. Pathy are the consultants for the production.

Sabha managed only by women celebrates silver jubilee (Nov. 11 - 17, 1995)

A Luz Avenue resident since 1955, Alamelu was well-known in the locality. A respected teacher of Thiruppugazh – she had disciples in India and abroad. Alamelu learnt Thiruppugazh from Kalyani Ramaswami, a disciple of 'guruji' Raghavan of Delhi.

Born in Kumbakonam, Alamelu studied up to SSLC in a government school. In 1955, she got married to Santhanam who worked in the AG's office and moved to Chennai.

Did Metro work affect kuppam houses?

By Our Edit Team

The sunshades / balconies of a few houses in Nochikuppam zone in San Thome collapsed recently. Residents alleged that this happened due to tremors caused by underground boring for Chennai Metro work.

But Chennai Metro says that the work was completed long ago and could not be the reason for the houses being affected.

The kuppam residents are not buying this explanation. They say an independent agency like IIT-M must study the issue

Queen Mary's College gets new hostel

By Our Edit Team

Queen Mary's College now has a new hostel on its campus. Chief minister M. K. Stalin opened it on May 21. He had promised this facility when he was the chief guest at the college's 104th convocation.

Built at a cost of Rs.42 crores, it can accommodate about 450 students, in triple-sharing rooms. Each room is fitted with basic needs. CCTV system, water dispensers and a medical aid counter are part of the facility.

Though the college had a hostel on campus, its condition deteriorated and it was closed; some girls were accommodated in the girls hostel of Presidency College in Chepauk. Many girls managed with PG accommodation in Mylapore / Triplicane.

QMC faculty said that since many students are from rural areas, the new hostel will be a big boon for them.

Senior robbed of jewels. Maid arrested

By Baskar Seshadri

On Tuesday, May 27, in a daring incident in Kesava Perumal Koil South Street, a woman who worked as a maid, Indira assaulted an elderly woman and tried to make off with her jewels. Indira got to realise that Rajeswari, in her 80s, was by herself and wore jewels and she assaulted the senior.

Hearing her screams, Vaishnavi, who resides nearby, rushed into the house and reacted. She called her brother and they detained the maid and informed Mylapore police station. Police officials quickly arrived at the spot, sent Rajeswari to Isabel's Hospital and detained the maid. Police later said that the maid confessed to her act and jewels were recovered.

THE SAVIOUR DUO

Prasanna and his sister Vaishnavi were the duo who came to the aid of the senior woman who was robbed in the Chitrakulam zone of Mylapore. Prasanna is a writer who has authored several books which are available on Amazon Kindle. He says he has been writing for several years. His books, 'Kurithikkaadu' and 'Ithu oru Pei Kathai alla' are the popular ones. He writes under the pen-name Raaga.

Vaishnavi is a MCA graduate and she works for a private firm. She had shifted from Mylapore last week but due to some hiccups, there was a delay in moving out: it so happened that she was visiting her 'old' house when she heard the screams from a neighbour's house and reacted.

Organically-grown mangoes sold at Abiramapuram store

By Preetha K.

The shop – Uyir – next to East Abiramapuram ration shop – is now selling organically-grown mangoes sourced directly from farmers.

Imam Pasand, Alphonso, Kesari, Senthooora, Malliga, Panchavarnam and Banganapalli are some of the varieties that are available.

“This is a five-year-old shop and our organic mangoes come from our main branch in Erode. We have partnerships with mango farmers and we deliver fresh mangoes every day,” says Tirupathi, who takes care of the store along with Ajith Kumar and Shiva.

Uyir, which stocks and sells a variety of organically-grown veggies/fruits and foodstuff, is owned by Sathish Kumar.

Free delivery is available for orders above Rs 1000 and within 5 kilometres radius.

The cost of mangoes ranges from Rs 50 to Rs 450 per kilogram.

“Mangoes must be covered with hay to preserve them,” says Ajith Kumar.

Uyir is at No 4, 3rd Street, East Abiramapuram. Phone: 8754781144.

Sashwat of Harishree Vidyalayam completes IronKid Triathlon in Vietnam

By Preetha K.

Sashwat Suraj, student of Grade V of Chettinad Harishree Vidyalayam, R. A. Puram, has successfully completed the IronKid Triathlon in Da Nang, Vietnam, held on May 10.

This international youth event challenged participants in the 5-10 years age category with 80mts sea swimming, 3km cycling and 1km running, fostering perseverance, discipline, and a spirit of healthy competition.

“Sashwat trained diligently for three months leading up to the event, balancing schoolwork and preparation. He participated alongside more than 500 international participants in his age category and completed the triathlon within 32 mins and 52 seconds. We’re incredibly proud of his commitment and would love for this accomplishment to inspire his peers,” says Sneha Vijayan, his mother, a banker.

His father, Suraj Paramasivam, is an IT professional.

Sashwat says it was tough, but he thoroughly enjoyed participating in the event and crossing the finish line “felt amazing”. This has been a wonderful lesson in goal-setting, he adds.

Sashwat is into multi sports – he is a competitive swimmer, does sea swimming as well, practices football and is a Kalari practitioner. He is also a keyboard and a guitar player.

“I enjoy exploring many fields. Out of the many things I do, I specifically like football and coding,” says the young athlete who wants to become an App developer or an actor.

The family lives in Kottivakkam.

MTC to fit key bus stops with digital info boards

By Baskar Seshadri

Metropolitan Transport Corporation (MTC) is in the process of installing GPS systems, surveillance management modules and installation of digital info boards at key bus stops. This will update commuters on the arrival time of buses and provide additional details.

As a pilot project, a few hundred bus stops had been chosen to have this facility incorporated. One such is on 2nd Main Road, R. A. Puram. There are a few other bus stops in the Mylapore zone which are to be fitted with this facility. You will spot a blue-painted box fitted near the chosen bus stop.

Since MTC buses had stopped plying in the heart of Mylapore due to Chennai Metro work, bus stops in other areas have been chosen.
