SIR of electoral rolls: some confusion remains in data listed, sought

By Our Edit Team

The Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls which is now going on across Tamil Nadu, has also been covering the Mylapore zone. In recent days, booth-level officers (called BLOs) have been covering all the residences in streets and roads that fall under the booth which is where you cast your ballot in an election; they have been distributing forms to all those whose names are found in the electoral rolls.

Booth level officers in Kapali Thotam

Three sections in the form must be filled up and handed back to the BLOs who are asked to visit each house thrice. (in cases where a house is locked, the officer gets back in days).

Data on each registered voter is available on the master list which is on the Election Commission's website; if you access that data first it helps the BLO to easily fish out the SIR form that is meant for you (each BLO handles a thousand plus forms). The data also helps you to fill in the SIR form.

Residents can use this link - https://erolls.tn.gov.in/rollpdf/FINALROLL_EN_06012025.aspx - to download the updated list of voters at each polling booth in their respective constituency and use the data.

Hiccups and headaches remain. Some BLOs are telling people that only the first section information in the form is needed now; rest is optional (but the form does not say so).

Some people are unsure how they will access data required to fill the latter sections in the form (which seek data of voting in past elections, etc).

People are wondering what format the ECI uses while listing 'house number' when it comes to apartments. In some cases, only the flat number that is personally followed - example > T1 - is entered as house number. In another case, it is > 16-5 (16 being door number and 5 being the flat number).

Preparing for kumbhabishekam

Artists are enriching existing paintings and creating new ones. This temple is one of the 'Sapta Sthana Shiva' temples in Mylapore area. VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Why must you spend 80 lakhs on building a temple, I asked a fisher friend of mine on a recent tour of fishing villages some 100 kms away from our city.

There were two temples, one small, one a bit bigger, in the kuppam, and recently, the panchayat decided to build a third.

These communities have their own ways of raising funds for a church or a temple. The elders arrive at a certain percentage of their daily earnings at fish auctions be set aside for a new project. And it works.

I remembered a trip to the Tuticorin coast last year where I spent time at a church built in the shape of a fishing vessel; inside, the paintings, stained glass panels and altars were top quality and all this must have cost a lot of money.

Why are you not raising funds for more pressing needs, I argued with my fisher friend. He remained silent.

Why not raise money to give scholarships to your kuppam students, I asked. I did not get a firm answer.

Earlier this week, a school principal in the city brought me some great news. She said that her team had discussed an idea I had shared and wanted to execute it.

I had made a simple suggestion - invite students of local area private schools who educate not-so-privileged children, to their annual Project Day or Science Day or Hobbies Day. Open the doors to those who could learn from their brothers next door. Allow for interaction. 'We intend to host a small group from one school when we have our own Project Day', the principal assured me.

Neighbourhood Connect is a simple, valuable practice. One start can be made for our school children. And it can and must work both ways. Or in many ways.

I know of two retired women, one was a teacher and the other, a creative professional, who devote a few days now and then, to handle spoken English classes and to encourage craftwork among middle-school students in a school that educates the less privileged.

I know of schools in the city who would be happy to host a resource person who can encourage teens to exercise and play some games and someone who can teach history and geography. I suggest to them that they should reach out in the neighbourhood to get volunteers. Look for a retired accountant down the road who can teach the commerce stream girls the basics of Tally and Taxes.

Sometimes, we have to knock, knock.

Appreciation for photograph

● Mylapore Times (in its issue dated Nov.8) published a photo by K. Venkateswaran, a resident of Viswakamal Apartments, Mylapore of the rising sun above the temple gopuram. He has taken an absolutely excellent shot. The angle of the sun rising, with the gopuram of Sri Kapali Temple in the foreground, creates a crown for the temple.

- Sri Valli Sitaraman

● Beautiful click. If Venkateswaran had captured the scene a few minutes earlier, he would have got another wonderful photo. The sun's rays would have pierced through the open spaces in the top tiers of the gopuram of Sri Kapali Temple.

- Nagendra Setu Rao

● I was a Mylaporean once and lived near Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple. The visuals of the temple and the area around which are published in this newspaper / online, makes me relive those days.

- Vijaya Narasimhan

Appreciation for Abiramapuram police

I visited the Abiramapuram Police Station recently to lodge a complaint of a cell phone I lost. The staff here were very friendly and polite - the reception area staff, the writer and the police inspector were very helpful. I got the complaint registered and an acknowledgment within 15 minutes. I wish to record my appreciation.

- S. Vaidyanathan

On Chennai Metro and dust pollution

This letter is in response to Raghu's letter in Mylapore Times dated Nov.8 on the dust pollution in and around Luz Circle. The tone and tenor of his letter is not in good taste - asking CMRL (Chennai Metro) to bear the medical cost of people falling ill due to dust pollution in Luz is not proper. CMRL is building a massive transport system for the entire city to handle the future traffic demands of the city. When a giant project for the benefit of a larger section of people is undertaken, some short-term inconvenience is bound to happen. Some sections of the city's people will have to put up with it.

- Rajagopalan V.

On SIR of electoral rolls

The Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls is now going on in the state. It is taking place in Mylapore too. Booth Level Officers (BLO) have been distributing the forms door to door, asking people to provide some basic information and to refer to previous data to ensure all entries are perfect and as required. We must take active interest in this exercise to ensure our names are on the final voters list which enables us to cast the ballot in elections, to help rid the rolls of names of people who have passed away or to help correct the wrong information listed against our name. We have a big role to play in what is at the root of democracy.

- T. Ramalingam

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times, 1996 onwards. This week, we focus on April & May, 1996

Senior dancer-teacher Nirmala Ramachandran honoured (April 20, 1996)

Alwarpet-based senior Bharatanatyam dancer and teacher, Nirmala Ramachandran was honoured by Russian Cultural Centre and the Tchaikovsky Music Club on International Women's Day. Nirmala has performed in India and abroad and helped set up a cultural centre for India's performing arts, in Moscow when she was based there, 1984 to '89. She is a resident of Sriram Nagar North Street, Alwarpet.

Spaces sought to hold 'Arivoli Iyakkam' classes (April 27, 1996)

Arivoli Iyakkam, a project which aims to make adults literate, is being handled by the Corporation of Chennai in the city. It is seeking spaces for its classes in the Mylapore area. An officer associated with the project said that churches and temples, schools and community bodies who have space to spare and are located close to slums can offer these spaces."While we will provide writing boards and study materials, the owners of the study spaces are asked to bear the power supply costs." Classes will be held in the evenings. The Iyakkam's office is based at Thiru Vi. Ka. Road, Mylapore.

Polling peaceful (May 4, 1996)

Polling was smooth and peaceful at booths across the Mylapore zone on May 2 when people had the opportunity to choose their representatives in the Lok Sabha and in the state Assembly. The elections were held simultaneously. However, some people returned home disappointed when they found that their names were not in the electoral lists.

Coffee-themed cookery contest (May 4, 1996)

Aparna Shekar and Malini Suresh Kumar won the top prizes in the coffee themed cookery contest hosted by the Cultural Academy, San Thome. Aparna won the prize for her Chocolate Coffee Cups. Malini won a prize in the cakes and pastries category; her entry was called Exotic Cake.

Manini has been a winner in various cookery contests held in the city. The contest was promoted by the Coffee Board to encourage the use of coffee in different food items. Narasu's Coffee sponsored the prizes.

Gallery in CIT Colony exhibits works of city's leading artists (May 4, 1996)

The biggest exhibition of the works of city-based artists and sculptors is being held at the gallery of Values Art Foundation, Bishop Wallers Avenue, CIT Colony, Mylapore. Over 72 works are on display. Senior artist S. Dhanapal, former principal of the College of Arts, is to be honoured at the closing event. This gallery is promoted by two people - Shripriya Mahesh and Srimathi Mahesh.

Cookery contest winners Aparna, Malini

Shrimathi, a R. A. Puram resident, is a lawyer but her practice has taken a backseat of late. The show is titled 'Madras, an Emotion - 1996.'

Buckingham Canal

Monsoon-preparedness operations by state agencies have restarted on the Buckingham Canal which runs through Mylapore, Mandaveli and R. A. Puram. This week, work on removing silt and waste from the floor of the canal was going on around the bridge near Sai Baba Temple, Mylapore. But huts and small shacks remain on the banks of the canal here (first photo).

The section of this canal on both sides of the bridge on Kutchery Road is full of mud, debris and waste, some of this contributed by the ongoing work on Chennai Metro (photo on left). So water on either side of the bridge stagnates and is highly polluted. Near the Mandaveli MRTS station, brick-sales units who encroached on the canal banks and deeper, continue to misuse the waterway for their own ends.

Mylapore Fund case: nidhi's director surrenders

By Our Edit Team

T. Devanathan Yadav, director of Mylapore Hindu Permanent Fund Nidhi Ltd. surrendered before a court in the city that tries cases related to depositors defrauded of investments in companies, after he failed to comply with a bail condition ordered by Madras High Court.

Yadav is accused of defrauding hundreds of depositors of about Rs.600 cores.

Justice Jayachandran had given interim bail to Devanathan to enable him to raise Rs.100 crores and deposit in the special court that is trying this case (a court that tries cases filed under the TANPID Act).

Devanathan's lawyer had argued that since most documents of the properties in his client's name were in the custody of the police of the EOW of TN police (Economic Offences Wing), arranging for their sale and raising the required Rs.100 crores was not possible.

The judge had said that Devanathan would have to surrender to the trial court or must be secured by the police since Devanathan's interim bail period ended on Nov.9.

The judge said this on Nov.10 when a lawyer representing a set of depositors made a mention of the interim bail issue and its lapse as on Nov.9. Police said they were preparing to arrest Devanathan but he surrendered on Friday morning.

Obituary

Mannargudi S. Rajaraman, vice-president of Sri Thyagaraja Sangeetha Vidwath Samajam in Mylapore passed away on November 8. He was 78 years old.

His family said that ‘his demise marks the end of a lifetime of selfless service to the cause of music, spanning decades, following the footsteps of his father, the legendary Harikatha exponent, Mannargudi Sambasiva Bhagavathar.’ Rajaraman was dedicated in planning and organising the Samajam’s core festivals with meticulous care.

Under his stewardship, the Samajam conducted over 5000 programmes. He was the driving force behind the seamless organisation of revered annual events such as Sri Thiagaraja aradhana, Sri Muthuswami Dikshithar jayanthi, Sri Syama Sastrigal jayanthi, Sri Purandaradasar jayanthi and the monthly panchami concerts.

Rajaraman served the Samajam in various capacities from his youth years and held the position of vice president for the last 25 years. In recognition of his service, he was awarded ‘Kala Sevak’ by Maharajapuram Viswanatha Iyer Trust and ‘Nallorukku Vanakkam’ by Sri Krishna Sweets besides other recognitions.

He upheld the legacy established by his father, Mannargudi Sambasiva Bhagavathar, who served the Vidwath Samajam for six decades and who was instrumental in installing the panchaloha vigraha of Sri Thiagarajaswamy as per the instructions of the late Kanchi Mahaperiyava.

He worked as HR manager in the Shriram group of companies and after retirement, was the HR director in Vivardhana Microfinance Ltd. He also helped many individuals through the magalir suya-udhavi kuzhu. He was an alumni of P. S. Higher Secondary School, Mylapore

Rajaraman is survived by his wife, Kalyani Rajaraman, and his daughter, Harikatha artiste Vijayalakshmi Rajaraman. The family’s contact – 8939320088

The 1975 batch of P. S. High School, Mylapore made its golden jubilee meet-up on November 2 a unique one - it put the spotlight on all the schooltime sportspeople who brought laurels to themselves and to the school.

It was an evening when 'old boys' who had won cups and certificates in table tennis and football, in cricket and in chess were the heroes of the evening.

High tea was served to the alumni of the batch who had decided to wear only white / off-white shirts for this occasion, held on a Sunday evening. The formal event was held at the TAG-Dakshinamurthy Auditorium.

Two retired teachers, K. R. Krishnamurthy and P. V. Balasubramaniam who had taught this batch were honoured. 'Old' boys V. R. Sekar and M. Sadasivam entertained the audience.

Then followed, the spotlight on sports heroes of the school in the years gone by. The trio of V. Kumar, Ramkumar and Chandra who were table tennis champs of their time were honoured. Next up were the chess champions - C. S. Sridhar, V. Kameshwaran and Vijayaraghvan. Volleyball star R. T. Chari, whose TAG company had redesigned the school hall, was recognised too.

Footballers Sivaramakrishnan, R. Mohan, Gunasekaran and Ravichandran were called on to the stage and honoured. M. S. Sridharan, who had won the gold in the 100 mts in a national 'open' athletics meet was also recognised.

Cricketers who studied at P. S. School and shone have been many over the years - some studied here for a few years and moved on. Those who were on stage for the honours were Thyagarajan and Natarajan, brothers, 'Kitta' Gopalakrishnan who played at the state and zone level and D. K. Rajagopal.

Stars from the 1975 batch whose names were highlighted included late V. K Pandian (best schoolboy cricketer of TN), R. Hari - international table tennis player (currently in USA), B. Prakash - state football player (currently in Canada), T. V. Ramachandran, Murali and T. S. Gopal - senior cricketers, and B. Raghavan who currently is coach of TN under-14 players.

A special souvenir on the sports stars whose data could be traced was released by M. S. Shanmugham, secretary to the TN chief minister and a
