Nuns of a city-based congregation pray for colleagues who are buried at the Quibble Island Cemetery in R. A. Puram. They did so on November 2 which is All Souls Day in the Christian calendar. On this day, Christians remember those who have passed away and many of them visit the graves of their families and pray. Burials in this cemetery are now restricted only to members of families whose graves are here due to space constraints.

ACADEMY FOR ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN: RE-LAUNCH IN MYLAPORE

Late Koothapiran, well-known theatre-person and radio broadcaster is being remembered by his son now with a new plan for the children's academy that has been run in Koothapiran's name.

The revived academy is being launched at an event to be held at a hall at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, Mylapore on November 9, 10 a m onwards.

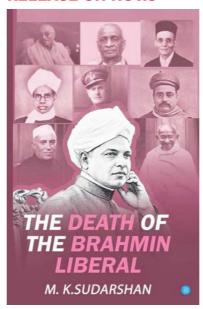

Besides his passion for theatre, Koothapiran – his name was N. V. Natarajan – produced children's programmes in Tamil for All India Radio for over 25 years and was fondly called Vanoli Anna, a name remembered even today by a generation which enjoyed these radio productions.

His son, Ratnam Koothapiran says he has broad-based the activities of the Koothapiran Children's Academy which is based in Thiruvanmiyur.

"Our aim is to engage children in music, dance, drama and other art forms by training them at our classes and also helping them perform live," said Ratnam. Contact – 9444185013

BOOK ON S. SRINIVASA SASTRI. RELEASE ON NOV.8

Abiramapuram-based M. K. Sudarshan has just published his new book which, he says, is a biographical montage of Rt Hon'ble V. S. Srinivasa Sastri (1869-1946).

Srinivasa Sastri was a prominent Indian politician, administrator, educator, orator, and a prominent India independence activist. He was a close associate of Mahatma Gandhi.

He was widely acclaimed for his mastery of the English language and his eloquent speeches; people called him the 'silver-tongued orator'.

He was conferred the British honorary title 'The Right Honourable' (Rt Hon) as a member of the Privy Council of the United Kingdom.

The book is being launched at an event supported by Chennai International Centre on Saturday, November 8 at the Tagore auditorium of NFDC, 6 p.m. The guests at the launch are former chief election commissioner, T. S. Krishnamurthy, advocate-general P. S. Raman and writer-editor S. R. Madhu.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Auto drivers are story-tellers. They are also a window to a city or a town. Their conversations can tell you and me a lot about what the mood of the people is on an election eve. Or how residents of the chief minister's city constituency react to the many projects rolled out locally. Or of the crimes that youth are engaged in today.

And they have their personal stories to share if we care to give them an ear.

This past week, which kept me busy on assignments, hopping across the greater Mylapore zone, two auto drivers had stories to tell.

The first, whom I hired as early as 5.45 a.m. requested for 'extra twenty-rupees'. "Its been a bad night," he told me. He had picked up three young men from the Marina beach side around midnight and was asked to head to a 'nagar' near the Madras Port and when the destination arrived, the youths argued about the fare, tried to flee; then a fight broke out and the auto driver sustained bruises. And lost the fare of some 150 rupees.

'I have had a bad time the past three days', he told me. He had been booked for a ride in Triplicane and when he arrived at the point, the client was not to be seen. He called and the woman asked him to hang on. 15 minutes passed. She arrived, got in and asked him to stop after they had driven for half a kilometre. She got off, saying 'I don't have money to pay'.

Auto No.2 was driven by Babu. I had booked him in MRC Nagar and he was at my point in less than three minutes. We got talking. Babu resided in Mathur, a semi-urban, semi-rural neighbourhood close to Madhavaram Milk Colony is the city's north zone. He said he attended a nursing course, for some people had told him that he could easily get a job. He got employed in a well-known hospital in the city but when he did not get a raise at the end of Year Two, and he lost his father, Babu quit and turned to auto-riding. He withdrew his small savings, got a loan, bought a second-hand auto and hit the road.

"We do not operate in the fringe areas because share autos dominate there, " he told me. 'We come to the city at dawn and we get rides through the day and night.'

I noticed a flimsy bag hung inside the auto. It had a tiffin of snacks and drinking water and a Tee, he told me.

Babu told me he earned enough to save and invest. He was putting away money in a mutual fund a neighbour had recommended. And he was also investing in a gold scheme. Stories of real life in a metro. A changing metro.

Appreciation for door delivery of ration items

I am a nonagenarian resident of R. A. Puram and I had opted for home delivery of our rations. I have been promptly receiving my ration items at my house from the Abhiramapuram rations shop, every second Saturday of the month. The service is prompt and helpful - I send my helper downstairs the moment we are intimated and the staff deliver the items after my ration card is authenticated by me - I use my fingerprint.

Dust Pollution in Luz zone

Why are more and more elder Mylaporeans wearing a mask these days? Just head to MTC bus stops near the Chennai Metro construction site in Luz and observe what is happening there. Huge mounds of earth are seen all around and dust floats in the air all the time. The pollution grows with civil work at a massive project for apartments in this area. Will CMRL bear the costs for the increasing number of sick cases reported in the area?

How safe is Nageswara Rao Park?

These days, whenever I go past Nageswara Rao Park in Luz, I get some kind of eerie feeling – that if this place is not secured after dark, it can become a haven for anti-social activities. Officially, the gates here have to close at 7 p.m.

The watchman blows his whistle to signal that people must leave. But, recently a big TV which was installed in the park is 'live' even after 7 p.m. Who is watching the programmes on the screen? New gyms are open in the park - but is there security for women who use the gym? Are there adequate security personnel to secure a large park like this one?

TANGEDCO bill, a shocker

Our latest bill from TANGEDCO has shocked us all. As against average billing of Rs 3000 / 4000, bi monthly, I received a bill for Rs 15,000 for the period ending Oct. 25. There are 8 flats in our building and I am on the ground floor and the TANGEDCO meter-boxes are near my door.

The assessor has to call me to open the box that holds the meter boxes so as to note the reading. No one came recently. But the bill was sent to my email and it showed Rs. 15,000 approx. Earlier, the card system was prevalent and this ensured proper, formal entries in the power supply cards with the owners. But TANGEDCO has scrapped the system.

We lodged a complaint at TANGEDCO's e-Seva WhatsApp number last week but there is no response.

Parish priest of church in Luz passes away (Mar.30, 1996)

Fr. Arulappa, parish priest of Our Lady of Light Church in Luz (popularly called Luz Church) died on March 27. His funeral Mass was held at Annai Vailankanni Church in Besant Nagar; over 40 priests of the diocese attended the Mass. Fr. Arulappa dreamt of raising a shrine dedicated to Mother Mary (whose avatar in a seaside church in Nagapattinam district in Tamil Nadu draws pilgrims from all over) in Besant Nagar.

He did so against many odds. He wished that his body be buried in the shrine campus and his wish was carried out. He was 66 years old.

Hatching fish that feeds on larvae: to combat mosquitoes (April 13, 1996)

By Lourdes Kamalini

In an effort to combat the mosquito menace in Mylapore, Chennai Corporation is arranging for fish hatching in ponds, sumps and wells, private and public. The tank of Sri Kapaleeswarar Temple is also included in this project.

Dr Alphonse Selvaraj, Assistant Health Officer of Chennai Corporation for this zone said that the Kampuchea fish variety is being used in this project because this fish feeds on the larvae of mosquitoes.

He said that this strategy

Members of San Thome-based band

He said that this strategy works better than fogging at dawn.

"Fogging merely drives away full-grawn mosquitoes from one place to another while this fish cleans up all the mosquito larvae," said the office.

Champaka Ladies Club's Carnival (April 13, 1996)

Champaka Ladies Club is holding a carnival at its premises on Luz Church Road in connection with Tamil New Year. Earlier, the Club held a vegetable carving and decoration contest. Ranganayaki Seshadri won the top prize for her presentation of the India tricolour created from vegetable carvings.

San Thome-based band releases new Gospel music album ($\it May~4,~1996$)

A San Thome-based band named 'Melorythe' has released a music album for the Easter season. Titled 'Yesuve Jeevan', the album is released by Magnasound. Lyrics for all songs are written by Arul Amrithraj. The band members are

Augustine Rajashekar, Barnabas Prakash, Edwin Rajkumar, Gerard Joseph and Immanuel Rajkumar.
All of them studied at Loyola College and used to play pop and rock-n-roll music and won top prizes at college

C. R. Ravi, a resident of Norton 1st Street, Mandaveli passed away on November 3.

He was an alumni of P. S. High School (1969/ 1970 batch), having studied under the XI SSLC pattern. He did his PUC studies at Vivekananda College and joined College of Engineering-Guindy where he earned his degree in B E (mechanical engineering).

He attended a post-grad diploma course in production engineering conducted by IIT Madras in the evening while working at Simpsons' Sembium factory. After a five year stint at Simpsons, he joined Ashok Leyland Ltd., worked in various levels and retired as general manager (project planning). His tenure here was extended for two more years as consultant and he retired in 2017.

While at CEG – Guindy he was very active in campus curricular and extra curricular activities. He was also involved in Jaycees and Lions Club activities – he was instrumental in raising funds for club activities by arranging dramas of the Crazy Mohan troupe and shows by other groups.

He was a key member of COSS – Class of Seventy Six at College of Engineering Guindy -. a group of alumni which used to conduct mock interviews for final year students at job placement time. This group also provided scholarships for needy students.

During the pandemic years, this group helped non-teaching staff of CEG with provisions, his family said.

Ravi is survived by his wife, Dr Usha Ravi and son Arrun Ravi. The family's contact – 9444012041

P. Sekar, a popular and long-standing fruit seller of Mylapore who ran his business on South Mada Street, opposite Sri Velleeswarar

Temple passed away on Oct.30

He had a large circle of customers and the prices of the fruits he sold were affordable. He opened the shop early and closed only at 10 p.m. His wife often assisted him here. He loved evergreen, popular Tamil film songs of the 50s and 60s and this music would play on his cellphone at the stall.

He was a resident of Mosque Street.

CITY SIGHTS

Enclosures of TANGEDCO transformers have got a smart, strong visual look. They are creative, for each is distinct and highlights the landmarks of Chennai. The ideas have flown from Greater Chennai Corporation (GCC).

The one on San Thome High Road in front of San Thome High School is an image of Ripon Building, the heritage headquarters of Greater Chennai Corporation.
The whiteness is stark.

There is another at the far end of Kutchery Road; the enclosure is of the legendary facade of Central Railway Station.

The smaller transformers also have painted enclosures but with simple geometric designs. And there is one alongside the walls of Lady Sivaswamy Ayyar Girls School, Mylapore.

This project has been made possible with monies from the local ward councillor's fund.

Hopefully, people will refrain from sticking wall posters on these lovely images and from dumping garbage around them or urinating here.

Which snacks are good? What is junk food? Lessons at Children's Garden

By Our Edit Team

What effect do sugary cool drinks have on your body? What is junk food and why must we avoid such snacks?

These and a few other topics on health were discussed at the The Health Warrior Project, a Children's Day activity held in mid-October at The Children's Garden School, Mylapore, under the banner of UNICEF.

The project was organised by Dr. N. Saraswathy.
The headmistress J. R. Lakshmi Kantham welcomed the chief guest, school correspondent Sakunthala Sharma and five speakers for the event – Dr. D Uthira, Bharghavi, Uma Maheswari, Priya Prasad and Dr. Radha Balachandar.

They took turns to speak to the students on themes related to healthy lifestyle, effects of junk food, artificial colours, and sugary drinks. A skit titled 'Say No to Artificial Colours and Say Yes to Healthy Snacks' by the students highlighted the harm caused by junk food and coloured soft drinks.

The programme was coordinated by the school's Health Club In-charge, Vidhya, Saraswathy and Lalitha.

This community celebrates 167th anniversary of church

By Juliana Sridhar

The community of CSI St. Thomas Tamil Church in San Thome celebrated the 167th anniversary of the church on October 18 and 19.

Rev Dr. Gnanavaram, former principal of TN Theological Seminary, Madurai presided over the celebration.

25 economically-poor people from the suburban villages including 10 visually handicapped people were presented with home utilities like sewing machines and idly cookers. Some were given drilling machines and wire bundles – handy stuff to help those with skills to earn a livelihood.

There was some fun and fellowship after the religious service. Parish groups organised these events. Lunch was served to all church members. The event was organised by the church pastor Rev. B. Devaprasad and the pastorate committee led by secretary Esther Jebaraj and treasurer Samuel Swamikkan.

Remembering a Telugu film star who resided in Pelathope

By Our Edit Team

Pelathope Urban Living Lab (PULL), founded by Shreya Krishnan, is a participatory platform in Pelathope, Mylapore, that brings together residents, local institutions, and urban experts to collaboratively address community challenges.

Supported by UCAN, this Lab organised a meeting on October 26 to celebrate a long-forgotten former resident of Pelathope (Desigar Swamy Street) who was, in his time, a hero in every sense.

Kalyanam Raghuramiah was a popular star of yesteryears on the Telugu stage and screen. He played the hero's role in over 12,000 appearances on the stage, and in over 40 movies, during a career extending over five decades from 1912 onwards. He had a large fan-following all over south India, of fans who adored him almost as a demigod for the way he played the roles of Krishna, Rama and other Hindu Gods on the stage and screen. During a period from the late 1940s

New facility at

Sri Kapali Temple

to mid-1950s, when he was at the peak of his movie career, he was a much loved and

'Pelathope Days' published in 2010) who was a resident of Pelathope at that time, made an audio-visual presentation on Raghuramaiah at the meeting held in Pelathope.

> He traced Raghuramiah's life, from his birth in 1901 as the son of a humble farmer in a village in Guntur district, to the extraordinary interest he showed in music right from childhood, his unique singing voice, and the special skill he developed of rendering music through whistling, with his right index finger placed in his mouth.

> The presentation included many film strips of scenes from Raghuramiah's movies, with the original sound track of his singing.

Photographs of this star being honored by Prime Ministers Jawaharlal Nehru and Indira Gandhi, India presidents Dr. Radhakrishnan and V. V. Giri were shown, as also the facsimile of the Padma Shri award conferred on him in 1975, the year he passed away.

Venkata Rao, environmentalist and YouTuber, assisted in the presentation.

A showcase of creative works of people with special needs

By Our Edit Team

TATTVA 2025, the fourth edition of an art exhibition curated by V-Excel Educational Trust. Mandaveli for and by individuals with special needs, was held at the Tamil Nadu Music and Fine Arts University, R.A. Puram on October 25

It showcased the creative expressions of 150 special artists from 25 inclusive institutions, special schools, and individual contributors, aged 7 to 35 years, from across Tamil Nadu

V-Excel hosted special guests like Dr. S. Soumya, Carnatic vocalist and the vice-chancellor of Tamil Nadu Music and Fine Arts University and state health minister Ma. Subramaniam besides others.

The host also felicitated 151 special artists and 30 trainers who supported these artists from across the state. 40% of the artworks on display got sold and the sale proceeds will go to these special artists

Corporate volunteers from Hexaware and Caterpillar supported the event throughout.

The artists were from 13 different special schools and five different centers of V-Excel along with 8 individual artists

The event provided a platform for the inclusive Sargam Choir and special children Brahmaputra and Prajval Ganesh to perform at the event.

Some special artists offered 'on the spot' art demonstrations of their creative skills. 12 select artworks were put on auction and all were sold. On the spot digital printing on coffee mugs and water bottles was done for guests; the art on display were the images printed.

Agal vilakkus on sale for Karthigai Deepam

Bv Madhan Kumar

Hawkers on Mylapore's South Mada Street are smart at responding quick to the needs of people on the eve of a festival or celebration. Even those who sell vegetables and fruits through the year, put up makeshift tables to sell bommais at Navaratri time or kolam powder during margazhi.

This week, one hawker based near Sai Baba Temple has been an early bird - the woman has displayed heaps of a variety of agal vilakkus.

A dozen of the small sized lamps cost Rs.30 while a single, big size lamp is now quoted at Rs.200. Most of the lamps appear to be machine-cast products and not hand-moulded ones.

'SUPER SENIOR' ALUMNI HAVE A QUIET PARTY

By Our Edit Team

P. S. Higher
Secondary School organised a very special event on a Sunday morning
(Nov.2). The event was to honour all its alumni who were 80 years old and plus.

This was a brainwave of an idea fleshed out by the management; going by the response on that sunny morning, the rains having taken a break, this rare meet was enjoyed and appreciated by all present at this famed Mylapore campus.

Some 100 people turned up for the event; some of them with their life-partners, some had their children alongside and some had helpers with them.

They came from Adam Street and Adyar, from Velachery and from Royapettah, to keep this date and as each one of them walked in, the reception desk, manned by school teachers and some senior P. S. students acknowledged them, and helped them to settle down to a hearty breakfast – idlis, pongal, vadas and coffee/tea.

Swaminathan, an alumni of the 1939 batch, who is 101 years old, got all the attention he deserved. He later took the mike to share his campus memories.

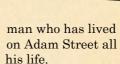

Breakfast was served – pongee and idlis and vadas, coffee and tea. A priest performed pujas at the small shrines in the far end and prayed – for the occasion.

The school band performed in the quadrangle as the guests stood around and later adjourned to the formal event which was held in what is known as Prayer Hall.

"Actually, in this hall, the school would screen educational documentary films and we all had to gather here and watch them," recalled A. Sivara-

The hall, wearing a smart look, holds up the histories of the people who led the school; portraits of the trustees and management members adorn the walls here.

The current Headmistress of the school, Dr. R. Kala and school secretary C. V. Krishnan spoke. Gift bags were personally given to each alumni present.

The hall resounded to the chatter of the guests – some recalling the old days, some sharing their life stories, some meeting alumni of the 1960s and 70s who had dropped in to soak in the event.

"We wanted to honour our Super Senior alumni", said C. V. Krishnan. "We are happy at how this event has turned out to be. All this made possible by Him up above."

Krishnan and his team expected 30 people to turn up. The large attendance is still being talked about by the hosts and the guests, the 'super seniors'.
