Vidya Mandir students to gift the poor for Deepavali

By Our Edit Team

Vidya Mandir school in association with Yuva Bharati and Sree Karpagavalli Vidyalaya will organise groceries distribution for a batch of residents of Mangollai area in Mylapore on the occasion of Deepavali.

This will take place on November 5 afternoon and is the second time that Vidya Mandir's senior students are engaged in a community outreach programme at Deepavali time.

Students will be contributing for the outreach. The school will prepare 80 bags.

Yuva Bharati will transport the grocery items to Sree Karpagavalli Vidyalaya. Their members have chosen the beneficiaries.

The school management feels that such events allow students to appreciate the state of people who reside around them and respond in ways they can.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

One of these days, someone is going to break my legs. Or punch me.

And in the darkness of the ill-lit streets of our backyard, doing this will be an easy punch-and-run show.

I have been complaining a lot the past four weeks. Lodging civic issues online.

On the dead streetlights. On the choked water drain that harbours crap and stinks when the sun is out. On the faded zebra lines on humps.

On the absence of temporary bus shelters on routes used by 'diverted' MTC buses due to Chennai Metro work. On the incomplete road relaying work. On the fallen signboards for traffic. On tree pruning needs.

I get the odd call from the civic staff of our area - after 9.30 pm > Saar, endha side street light illai saar.....>>> .my fuse blows but I hold myself back and sound lightly annoyed. He calls a second time, next day. My fuse blows again. But I hold myself hard. Imagine the guy asking me the same questions! >> Endha side saar!

I get the feeling that this man is going to break my legs sometime soon. And then claim a tree branch in my campus felled me and he happened to rescue me.

I have been raising local issues for decades. Save for light verbal scrapes, nobody has broken my legs or landed a punch. But if it happens now, I will have to take it. You cannot run away from your basic responsibilities.

Not many people care about local issues. The VIPs, the sort who can get things done with one call from behind tall, iron gates, care only for the lights and drains outside their compound. Most others are great grumblers.

Many of us do not even know who manages various civic issues; we do not care to save contacts and names on our phones. Many just hope things will sort themselves out. So what if the pot-holes are growing bigger around us? Try an alternate exit, they suggest.

Nobody is going to break your legs or fling a rock at your car. Our civic agencies can improve their services if we report back, share suggestions, send a smiley when a good act is done. Let your fuse blow once a while. But get involved

MYLAPORE REWIND

This column carries excerpts from Mylapore Times 1997 onwards. This week, we focus on July 1997.

Kumbhabhishekam of Vadagar Vinayakar Temple (July 12, 1997)

By A Mangala Bhavani

The kumbhabhishekam of the 300-year-old Vadagar Vinayakar Temple in Mylapore was held on July 11. According to Narayani, a nonagenarian resident of the area, the site where the temple stands now used to be a stable. The Mambakkam family bought it and constructed the temple. She claims it marked a border for Mylapore. This is the third kumbhabhishekam that Narayani is witnessing.This year's and the last one in 1983 were organised by Thiruvarul Thiruchabhai, a community of local residents and devotees. The neighbourhood residents offer their services for the temple. Sthapati V Sundaravel has done all the work on the gopurams and yagashala, even though he had received only a small advance. Veerabhadran, the owner of Laxmi Stone Works, has undertaken providing granite flooring.

Snake at this school was minor issue; toilets without doors is major one (July 19, 1997)

A big snake was spotted at the Corporation Primary School near Nageswara Rao Park last fortnight. Councillor Karunakaran rushed to the school on hearing the news. The reptile was not located easily - it was probably hiding under one of the many bushes in the school. The search was called off around noon. The school has bigger issues - toilets have been built for the children but they are not fitted with doors and there is no water in the pipes.

New restaurant for Goan food (July 26, 1997)

Panjim restaurant on TTK Road

Panjim restaurant at 35, TTK Road, is Savera Hotel's new venture. It brings Goan cuisine to Chennaites for the first time. Chef Joseph Sardar holds a management degree from London. He has served at the Goan Heritage and the Resort de Goa. To ensure it is Goan all the way, customers are welcomed with sole kadi, a chilled drink with cocum, lemon, ginger, water and coriander leaves.

Story of Madras through photos and sketches (July 19, 1997)

The C P Ramaswamy Environmental Education Centre (CPREEC) in Alwarpet has organised an exhibition of old and new photos and sketches that tell the story of Madras.

Themed "Sustainable Chennai", the exhibition retraces the stories of Thiruvalluvar, local legends, St. Thomas, and the later history of Madras under British rule. Interesting facts and figures are also on display too.

Nageswara Rao Park looks ragged. Waste uncleared, plants fading, rainwater stagnates

Reported by Madhan Kumar

Some spots are stinking, some patches of the lawn have decayed. Food and drink waste lies at corners of the walkways.

This then is the condition of Nageswara Rao Park in Luz.

There are only two civic staff who say they have to clear the waste and fallen/dead leaves. Who say they can only do that much in a day.

There are no staff to take care of the recently potted plants and the lawns that were laid at great cost.

The Chennai Corporation AEE who oversaw the 'final renovation' of the park, had promised at the launch of the renovated park (budget – Rs.9 crores approx.) that staff would be appointed and that temporary staff would handle the jobs till formal assignments were made.

Due to the off and on rain, the new saplings are decaying and dying. The lawns now look ragged. They are ragged because grass and saplings were planted in quick time to enable opening of the park and to silence bitter critics.

Vagabonds and others snack in the park; they throw food waste, used food packs and drinks containers all around.

There are four used paint containers kept in the park to serve as waste bins. They do not serve a purpose.

Nageswara Rao Park is looking ragged now; just days after a grand re-opening.

Most people ignore the dark, dirty spots and are content to take their walks, play badminton or exercise.

'Missing' watch-woman of Mandaveli

By Our Edit Team

Residents of an apartment in North First Street, Mandaveli were on their toes some days ago when the woman who doubles up as watch-woman and helper went 'missing'.

Neela has been working in this apartment for over 20 years and resides closeby. She had stepped out to have a cup of tea and did not return till the late hours.

The residents were upset and quickly put out a 'Missing' note on social media. But later that day, a person brought Neela to the place where she is employed.

"She may have just blanked out," said one resident.

The residents have now given her an ID card – just to play it safe.

HR&CE Dept.-managed parking lot in Luz needs attention

Report by Baskar Seshadri

A parking lot created and managed off Luz Church Road by the Tamil Nadu HR & CE Dept that manages temples is in a poor condition and hence, discourages car owners of this area from using this paid facility.

About 30 cars can be parked here.

The space is dark at night since all the light it receives is from lighting in the neighbouring The Mylapore Club.

Shrubs and plants are growing all over the place - clearly showing that attention for maintenance is almost nil. The watchman who mans the parking lot said there could be a few snakes around.

The facility has security-men working in two shifts - the place is open to users from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m.

A leading hospital has been parking its ambulances here.

Since owners of local shops and offices use this space since it is convenient, one of them said that the facility must be improved.

The location is not visible because of the large barricades set up for Chennai Metro work.

HOW TO BOOK IN PARKING LOT

A deposit of Rs 3000/ is to be paid to Sri Kaplai Temple at its office. This apart, a sum of Rs 3540/ is collected as parking fee every month - this Includes GST @18%. The payment shall be made by way of cash or cheque.

Office staff said that since the parking lot is fully booked, fresh bookings are not made now. Contact - 24641670

Source segregate waste: This R. A. Puram community is bucking up

By Our Edit Team

How do you segregate waste at home, smartly? These are lessons that a R. A. Puram is hoping to share and see positive results.

Raja Annamalaipuram Residents Association (RAPRA) says it is very keen to encourage all its members to follow the civic rules.

Recently, this community body requested Sumeet Elko, the private agency which clears waste, to educate and guide the residents. Its team held a demo to show residents the simple steps they must follow.

Simple guidelines - wet waste like vegetable, food and such waste should go into green bins, dry waste like paper, cartons, plastics and wrappers go into blue bins, sanitary waste in red bins and hazardous waste like broken glasses, bulbs , batteries in black bins.

Residents have now asked Urbaser staff to hold a demonstration for their maids.

Two executive members of RAPRA, Shobana Krishnan and Deepa Raghunath, are leading this community campaign - they intend to cover about 1000 houses in the area.

"We intend to meet a few families every other day and encourage them to segregate their waste in their apartments and houses," said one of them.

USEFUL CONTACTS

Would you like Urbaser staff to arrange a meeting in your apartment campus where they can demonstrate simple measures you can take to deal with waste in each apartment?

Here are some contacts -

TANGEDCO team works hard to restore power in heart of Mylapore

By Baskar Seshadri

On Saturday night, a power supply cable burst near the Chitrakulam zone.

It was a localised flare. Power snapped in areas like Solaippan Street , Chitrakulam North Street and Sannithi Street. People had to endure the darkness.

A TANGEDCO team rushed to the site to tackle the issue. Workmen were seen at the 'cable burst' site at dawn on Sunday. They were at work despite a drizzle.

One engineer said they will try to set right the issue with a cable joint or they will lay a new cable that is needed to address the issue.

The ADE of TANGEDCO's San Thome zone, Paramasivam visited the site and directed the workers.

The power supply was expected to be restored later that day.

San Thome community celebrates senior priest

By Our Edit Team

Under grey skies on an October 25 evening, the community at St Thomas Cathedral in San Thome felicitated Fr. A. Anthony Swamy after he had celebrated the evening Holy Mass. It was an informal event held in the open-air space in the rear end of the campus.

The Catholic priest celebrated his 52nd ordination day - the day he became a priest.

Though he is retired, Fr Anthony Swamy, at 87, continues to serve at the Cathedral and keeps himself busy visiting homes and being at prayer meets. He used to drive an Enfield but now zips on a Scooty. "We often advise him to slow down but he does not," said a brother priest at the event where a cake was cut and shared with the 100-plus people around.

"I am the only one left of the four diocesan priests born in 1940," the priest told his well-wishers on Monday.

Simple, no-nonsense, prayerful and friendly, he has endeared himself well at all parishes in the city he has served including churches in Guindy and in R. A. Puram.

His most challenging posting was in Thachur, now under the Chingleput diocese which was riven by caste divisions and violence amongst the Catholics there and the vintage church locked up. Fr Swamy brokered peace and managed to open the church and bring peace on all sides, though an uneasy peace it was.

"He has endeared himself to us," said a parishioner. "He does not stand on formalities. No shawls, no grand tea, no long puff talks."

Alumni of Vivekananda College launch scholarships for students

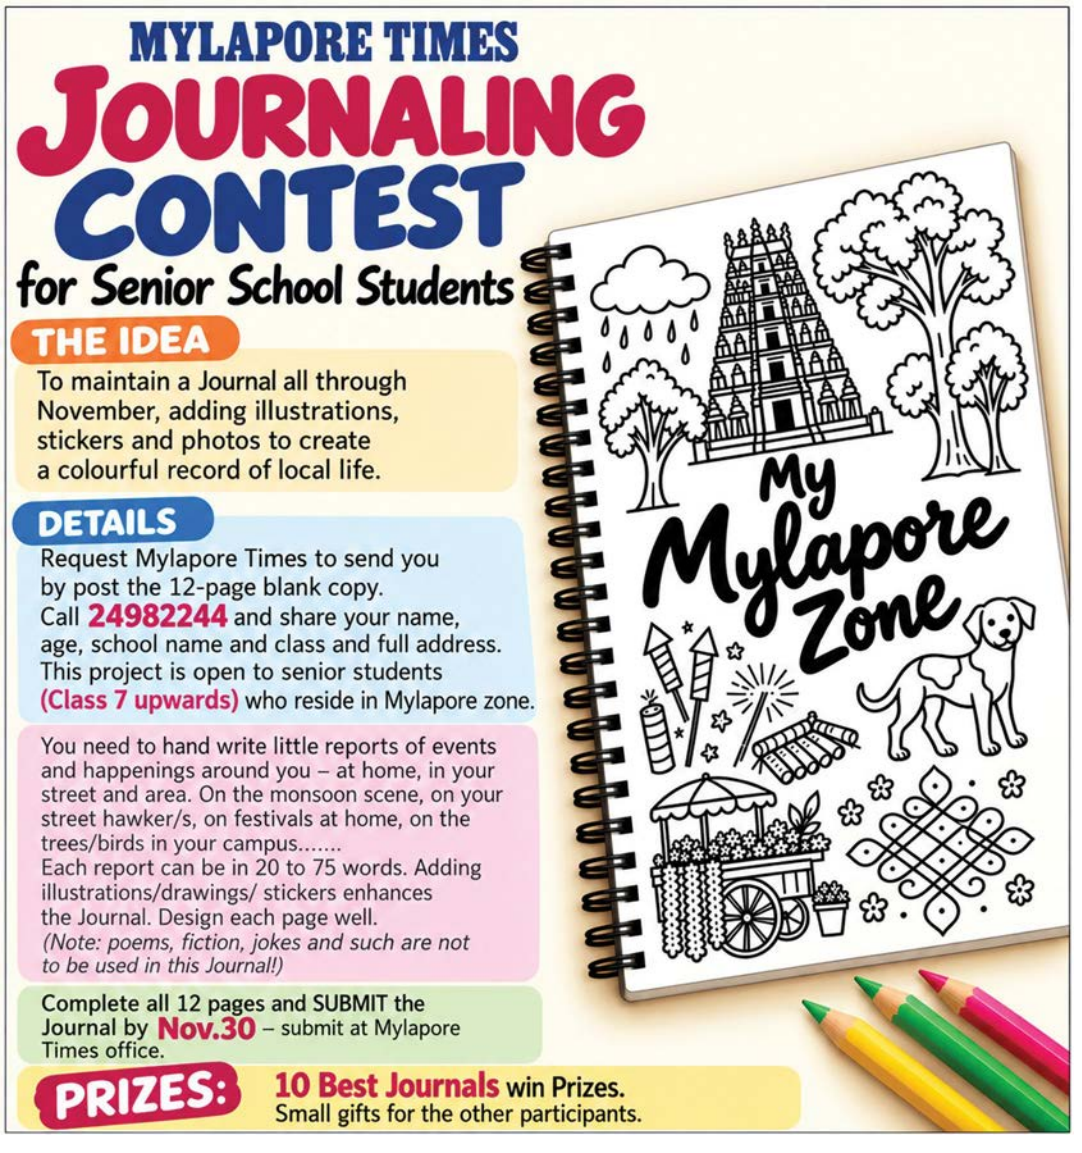
By Our Edit Team

Vidyanidhi Emerging Leadership Program is a alumni-supported scholarship scheme which has been rolled out at Ramakrishna Mission Vivekananda College, Mylapore.

50 students admitted to the self financed stream – evening college in 2026 are given scholarships covering the entire three-year duration of their undergraduate studies. These students are also enrolled in the 'No Cost Noon Meal Scheme' run by the college since 2004 exclusively for day college students.

The scheme was launched on October 12 on the campus – swami Raghunayakanandaji, manager of Sri Ramakrishna Math, presided.

Each beneficiary was presented with the scholarship. Parents of the students were also present.



A large, make-shift cloak room has been erected at the Pattinapakkam - Dr D. G. S. Dinakaran Road junction on a plot of the TN Housing Board for the use of police men and women. The uniformed staff can change, have a wash and use a wash-room fitted inside the facility. Police posted here said that since a big number of police staff are assigned to duty here due to the chief minister's movement, the facility has been set up for their convenience.

Mylapore side to sensational murder case

By Our Edit Team

A gang of young men from various areas of Mylapore zone have been arrested by police in connection with the murder of a young man on a road in Indira Nagar, Adyar zone on Oct.27.

The murdered man, Maithreyan, who used to reside in Mylapore was a history-sheeter, involved in some crimes. He had been last arrested in an assault case and was out on bail; his family shifted to Thiruvanmiyur. He had to sign regularly at the Mylapore police station as part of the bail condition.

Last Tuesday, a gang followed Maithreyan and his father who were going home from the Mylapore police station in an auto, cornered the duo in Indira Nagar and chased a fleeing Maithreyan and murdered him and fled.

Three men were arrested by Sastri Nagar (Adyar) police. One is from Ramakrishnapuram, off Kutchery Road, one from Mylapore and one from Dooming Kuppam. Investigation continues.

Obituary

Dr. R. V. Srinivasan, retired professor and Head, department of economics at R.K.M. Vivekananda College, Mylapore, passed away in Coimbatore on October 17, at the age of 83.

Dr. Srinivasan began his distinguished career serving the nation as a Flying Officer in the Indian Air Force.

Following his military service, he dedicated his life to academia, earning his master's degree in economics and joining the faculty at Vivekananda College. Driven by a lifelong passion for learning, he went on to complete a second master's degree and Ph.D. degrees in both economics and in history across institutions in India and Canada.

His doctoral research was celebrated for its extraordinary foresight, accurately analysing global macroeconomic and geopolitical trends long before they materialised, his son Vasudev Udhatya said.

Over an illustrious academic career spanning four decades, Dr. Srinivasan inspired generations of students at Vivekananda College to pursue their passions. Today, his former students serve as educators, researchers, and global leaders around the world, his family said.

He was a longtime resident of 15th Cross Street, Sastri Nagar, Adyar.

Family, friends, and former students wishing to share memories or offer condolences may reach out at:

vsudhatya@gmail.com

T. M. Hariharan, a senior advocate, passed away on September 30. He was a resident of Dr. Ranga Road. He was 66 years old.

He schooled in P S High School and later graduated from Vivekananda College. He then completed legal studies at Madras Law Collège and practiced in Madras High Court for more than three decades. He specialised in civil cases.

He is survived by his wife Prabha Hariharan and a daughter. His family can be reached at 98401 28718

Colouring Contest: Creativity on show

By Our Edit Team

The Navaratri Colouring Competition hosted By Mylapore Times brought out the creativity and imagination of many teens and sub-teens.

Here below is a note that the judge of this content, Shreya Suraj - artist, art-craft teacher and community activist based in Gopalapuram shared -

With just an outline of a traditional Kolu scene at home provided to them, the children transformed it into their own unique interpretations of Navaratri celebrations. Each child added personal touches, vibrant colours, creative embellishments and delightful details, making every artwork special.

From beautifully decorated kolu steps and colourful dolls to festive decorations and imaginative backgrounds, the entries reflected their individuality and originality.

The children went beyond simply colouring within the lines. They reimagined the entire scene in their own creative ways. It was heartwarming to see how one outline inspired so many different versions of the kolu, each telling its own story.

● WINNERS are featured on this page

■ NOTE: Prizes and participation gifts have been distributed to all all children who took part
