For Teacher's Day event at St. Raphael's Girls School in San Thome, headmistress Sister Mano and her team planned a fun celebration in the midst of all the students. Sweets were exchanged. And students took turns to present gifts to their class teachers. The warm hug perhaps symbolised the sentiments of the day.

OPEN HOUSE AT SPROUTS MONTESSORI. LUZ AVENUE. SEPT.19

Sprouts Montessori School, Luz Avenue is hosting an Open House on Sept.19, Saturday. The school management says this is an opportunity to step into the Montessori education environment and experience the philosophy and the actual in the premises.

The Open House is open to all; it gives parents an opportunity to understand the key areas of learning and development, explore the thoughtfully prepared environment, and see how children learn through choice, movement, practice, exploration and purposeful work.

Parents can interact with Sprouts' experienced Montessori educators, understand how the environment gradually builds independence and self-directed learning, and get a glimpse into the everyday experiences that shape a child's journey at Sprouts.

It is also an opportunity to meet other parents, ask questions and have conversations about the Montessori approach.

Open House timings - 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon. At No.10, Luz Avenue, Mylapore (near Nageswara Rao Park).

LALGUDI JAYARAMAN's DANCE OPERA, JAYA JAYA DEVI. ON SEPT.19

Jaya Jaya Devi, a dance opera production featuring the music and lyrics of maestro Lalgudi Jayaraman is to be staged on Sept.19 evening at the Narada Gana Sabha auditorium, Alwarpet.

On stage, the six manifestations of Devi unfold through this music-dance production.

Premiered in 1994 and highly praised during its 1994 tour of 24 cities in USA, the choreography was by guru Rhadha and the theme and script were by scholar Sujatha Vijayaraghavan. The production has been revived by Lalgudi Trust and now features a new set of dancers who have been guided by Rhadha during rehearsals for the Sept.19 show. Recorded music will be played for this show.

Open to all.

Nageswara Rao Park: work on at good pace

By Our Edit Team

Work has been going on at a good pace to 'renovate' Nageswara Rao Park in Luz, since it began in earnest three weeks ago. But there is still a lot to be done yet.

As of today, the rear zone of the park looks neat - areas around trees sport grass all around and paths for walking are in place. But the paths in the north zone are yet to be relaid and the 'greening' here will take time. Three pits, created to sport fancy water bodies, have been filled up with earth and flattened.

Large amounts of manure and soil are being poured over dry ground patches to prepare the areas to plant more shrubs.

The metal roof skeleton, originally meant to create a sort of interpretation / activity space is now painted white and paver blocks are being laid over the cemented circular ground space here.

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Three weeks ago I was in the Thousand Lights area. I had a small but important job to do - in one of the lanes that runs off Greaves Road. That done, I decided to walk down Mount Road, northwards.

This stretch holds many memories. In the 1990s, when I worked as the state correspondent of the 'Malayala Manorama' & 'The Week' group, out of an office near the 'Ananda Vikatan' zone, I used to go for evening strolls here. To pick up magazines, have a cup of tea or entertain a guest at a restaurant or to get away from the typewriter.

That evening I walked slowly, to take in the spots that were familiar but had changed over the decades. And when I spotted McKennett, I stopped and walked in, picked up a Green Nut Cake, walked back to the bakery's door, stood there and consumed the cake. By then, dusk had fallen and the sidewalk was packed with lots and lots of young people. They seemed like people driven out of a funnel and on to a roller band. They were all going home after work. Dozens and dozens and dozens - some graceful, some tired; animated, blank, smiling, sullen... I joined them. Some of them stopped at the two bus stops ahead, some broke away at two samosa-pani puri push-carts and many slipped into the Metro station.

I stood at a roadside spot, keen to see the city go by. Mount Road was packed with cars and autos and bikes and vans and buses. But there was some order on the road. And there was order on the sidewalk too. I should have got into the Metro and gone where the train would take me, that evening. To Alandur.

For over three months now, our street in the Adyar zone has been taking huge volumes of Thiruvannamiyur-bound traffic, diverted into quiet residential zones due to work on the Chennai Metro project. Bikers zoom down late at night, lorries hurtle at unearthly hours, yellow buses of schools and colleges hurtle later and then, the roller just doesn't stop.

In the mornings I am out in our yard to exercise and walk around, I feel stranded. Or maybe left behind. I feel out-raced, and numb. And I have to tell myself to turn away from the diverted traffic-roller, face the giant mango tree and breathe deep.

Houses sandwiched between high-rises. Houses turned into shops. Residential zones converted to 'mixed' zones. Quiet streets are now treated as bypass roads. Sidewalks turned into parking lots.

Mylapore Times: into its 33rd year. Readers' notes

● Congratulations
Mylapore Times on your milestone. It is not just a popular local newspaper but it has been behind many initiatives like the annual 'Mylapore Festival' and the annual 'Madras Day' celebrations.

- Mythili Sriram

● 32 years of a local newspaper is a great achievement. The people of Mylapore neighbourhood follow it closely; they wait for it every Saturday morning.

In Mylapore homes, by 7 a.m. people ask - inniki Mylapore Times vanthatho?

- Rekha Suresh Kumar

● Mylapore Times has grown taller than many apartments around it, not physically but in stature! I recall a time in the late 1980s - the editor called me for more information on news I had shared about my sitar guru. He always wants to better a story, however simple it is. Reason why people love to read Mylapore Times.

- T. S. Gopal

● Loved this weekly from the day I reached Chennai and Mylapore many years ago.

Have followed it while I have been in Mylapore and in France. Merci Vincent D' Souza!

- Chantal Jumel

● The impact Mylapore Times has created is invaluable. My prayers straight from heart! So so happy for you!

- Kuldeep Pai

Why does GCC ignore Thiruvudiamman Street's problems?

GCC engineers / staff must visit Thiruvudiamman Street, School Road and Thiruvengadam Street and address many problems residents here face; issues which have not been attended to for a long time.

Indiscriminate parking of cars, two-wheelers, minibuses, autorickshaws on these streets. Running illegal auto workshops that have sheds in public spaces, and travel agencies using the streets as their parking lots. We do not know why these issues have not received attention.

- O. P. Thiagarajan

Traffic Police: this Abiramapuram junction needs speed breaker

Frequent accidents take place at Abiramapuram 3rd Street and 1st Street junction. Since a section of C. P. Ramaswamy Road is One Way, motorists use this passage towards Dr.Ranga Road. Also, vehicles headed to Vruksha School and KUP restaurant add to the congestion. We request Traffic Police for a speed breaker on both sides of Abiramapuram 1st Street junction.

Seva Ratna Awards for Mylaporeans (May 10, 1997)

Prominent Mylaporeans are among those to be felicitated with the Seva Ratna awards by the Centenarian Trust.

Set up four years ago to commemorate the centenary year of the Paramacharya of Kanchi, this is the second time that the awards are being given.

The Trust will honour S. Ramaswami, retired principal of Sanskrit College; K. Alamelu, the principal of P S Sr Sec School; and orator and poet Kailasam for the year 1997. C. S. Veeraraghavan, the honorary secretary of Mylapore Academy, will receive the Ratna Seva Award for 1996.

Former president of India, R. Venkataraman, will be the guest at the Rani Seethai Hall event on May 20.

Youth's body found in Canal (May 3, 1997)

The body of a youngster from Pallaku Manyam Nagar, Mylapore was found floating in the Buckingham Canal.

The dead man's family charged that Raja, whose father is affiliated to a political party, went to Luz Corner with his friends.

There, the police are said to have detained him, beat him with a lathi and bundled him into a jeep. An eyewitness said that the boy was bleeding and crying.

As the jeep approached the Canal on Kutchery Road, the boy is said to have jumped out and escaped, said unconfirmed reports. A short time later, a watchman discovered the body. The police said that the boy had no criminal history. A one-man commission has been established to investigate the issue.

Rifle shooting champ of St. Bede's (May 10, 1997)

J. Robin, a Std. VIII student of St. Bede's School, San Thomr was the topper at the junior-level shooting competition organised by Chennai Rifle Shooting Range for members. The 13-year-old boy is a resident of West Circular Road in Mandaveli.

He joined the club last year and stood first at the sub-junior 25-metre rifle shooting competition.

Viveks shuts all its stores.
A Mylapore-rooted business comes to a halt

By Our Edit Team

The legendary Viveks store, in Luz, on Royapettah High Road has been shut now for many weeks.

The buzz has been going around that the company which was a pioneer and leader in the consumer goods market was shutting down.

What is confirmed is that the family that runs the business has chosen to shut all its stores. But it is still to chart the future course.

Viveks' history is rooted in Mylapore. B.A. Lakshmi Narayana Setty launched his 'white goods' sales business in a small store on R. H. Road, near the Valluvar statue park zone – in 1965. The big, multi-storeyed one, located closer to Luz Circle and now closed, came up later.

After the founder passed away, his brother B.A. Kodandaraman Setty took over the company. He led the expansion across the state and outside. He pioneered the New Year sale concept – on January 1 all goods – TVs, fridges, cookers, washing machines, fans, air-conditioners and the rest – were sold at prices far lesser than those that existed around that time of the year.

Many Mylaporeans would plan their shopping for white goods only at Vivek's sale. Even families of auto-drivers, maids and handymen saved up for this sale. They later made use of the popular hire purchase scheme of Viveks.

The sale became so popular that people would queue outside the store well before dawn. Viveks later extended the New Year Sale period. Soon, all other brands in this retail line followed Vivek's idea.

Infinity Park is ragged. Residents want GCC to maintain it

By Our Edit Team

It is called the Infinity Park. It is located in Mandavelipakkam.

A park designed with a unique plan - a space where less abled children could enjoy simple, creative installations during their visit to the park. Some fittings to feel, some to create musical sounds, some to work around with, in fun ways.

And a park open to all people.

The park served its purpose well for many years. But today, it is neglected.

Many playthings are rendered useless, the lawns are dry, plants grow wild and paint has peeled off in many spots.

Chennai Corporation's local area staff do not show much concern. The local area councillor, Amirda Varshini throws up her hands saying she is not able to source funds for repair jobs. And heads of schools who used to bring their children here for a picnic have stopped doing so.

Infinity Park, located near the Registration Department offices, behind Amma Unavagam of San Thome High Road, was managed by a real estate biggie. Some years ago, this company kept away from this project. Since then, despite one effort to give the park a fresh and neat look, this public space has become a ragged one.

The only spot that buzzes in the evening is the mini basketball court.

Residents of the area say that the watchman is in and out - not at his post as required. They say that civic workers drop by once in a while to trim the plants. But regular maintenance is not carried out.

Children pointed out to us two swings, hanging limp, because the nuts/screws had come off.

One resident said that a few of them pooled money from their purses once in a while for the upkeep of the facilities. "There is only that much people can do. Why cannot GCC work with people like us to ensure the park is smart and good?", asked a woman who resides close to the park.

Pattinapakkam site chosen for new Assembly and Secretariat

By Our Edit Team

Pattinapakkam (Foreshore Estate) has been chosen by the Tamil Nadu government to build a new Assembly and Secretariat.

25.55 acres of land which was under Chennai Corporation and TN Housing Board is to be used to build a multi-storeyed complex. It will cover about 20 lakh square feet.

The budget for this project is Rs.1,200 crores.

The Public Works Department has been asked to submit a Detailed Project Report (DPR). Committees are also to be formed to handle the process of seeking architectural designs and deal with the next stages of this massive project.

Currently, the state Assembly and Secretariat functions out of Fort St. George.

After the announcement for the new project was made by chief minister Joseph Vijay, PMK party leader Ambumani Ramadoss, Left party leaders and leaders of fisherfolk of this zone have raised objections to the plan.

Contest: Create an eco-umbrella for lord Vinayaka

MYLAPORE TIMES has a contest for Sri Vinayaka Chaturthi. It invites Mylaporeans to make an eco-umbrella (kodai) for the lord.

Here are some tips you may follow to make your kodai stand out and win the top prize. 1. Use only simple, waste materials at home - paper shopping bags, cardboard, cloth pieces, thread / beads, newspaper sheets, etc. 2. Use your creative ideas to make little bells / flowers / rings from waste and decorate the umbrella. 3. Entries will be judged for best use of recyclable materials, creativity and neatness.

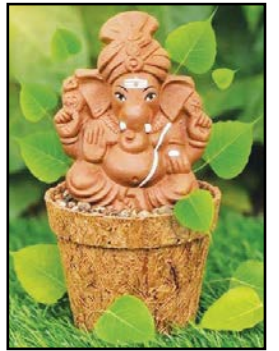

How to submit your entry: Shoot and submit two photos shot from different angles - of the umbrella - show us all its features you have created. Mail the photos and two lines explaining the materials used. Mention your name, full address and phone numbers. Mail to mytimesedit@gmail.com. (Mention 'KODAI' in the email's subject line).

Prizes for 5 best entries. Gifts for all others.

Mail your entry by Sept.14, 12 noon. Contest is open only for Mylapore families. Prizes and gifts will be delivered.

It was only on Friday morning that hawkers began to display their stock of images of lord Vinayaka at stalls set up on the Mada Streets, Mylapore. There were many clay images, prices starting from Rs.100.

Fire destroys section of State Bank premises in Luz Church Road

By Our Edit Team

Staff of the fire-affected State Bank of India branch on Luz Church Road have been quick to address the fallout of the development in which the ground floor was consumed by fire last Sunday.

A few staff have been manning desks set up under shamianas set up on the pavement on Luz Church Road to address the queries of customers who come by. A mobile ATM was parked here since the ATMs attached to the branch are not operational.

Customers have been advised to use the services at SBI branches in Kutchery Road and in Mandaveli: where staff from Luz Church Road are now assigned.

We are told the fire-affected premises will be restored quickly and open for business after Vinayaka Chathurthi.

Some questions remain about this fire - from the nature / extent of damage on the premises, it appears an electrical short circuit may have caused the start of the fire; but it would have taken a few hours for the fire to spread and consume computers, furniture and files. Wasn't an alarm sounded early? No fire alarms in the bank? Did not the guard on duty 'smell' a fire?

Staff at Maami Mess on Pitchupillai Street, Mylapore have been working round the clock to prepare kolukattai to meet bulk orders for the festival season. Sweet and karam varieties are on offer. Costs Rs.15 a piece. Call 9840052562 if you wish to order.

Male artistes star at this dance fest

This dance festival showcases male artistes. The Nartana Festival presented by Natyanjali Trust is on Sept.17 and 18 at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, Mylapore.

On Sept.17, K P Rakesh and Atul perform at 5.30pm, and at 6.30 pm, senior dancer M. V. N Murthy will be presented with the Nartana Award. Later, dancers Advait Shashidhar, Kedar Gaurav and Sarath Naik, students of Indira Kadambi perform.

On Sept.18, at 5.30 p.m. Shreejith Satyan and Arun Velayudhan dance, followed by a concert by Unnath, Pavan Kumar and Bhuvan Kumar and at 7.30 p.m., by Parshwanath Upadhyay and P V Adithya.

Getting Children involved in Krishna jayanthi

By Our Edit Team

How do we get children involved in religious events?

For the recent Sri Krishna jayanthi, members of the Nandalala Religious Trust which manages the temple on Dr Ranga Road this was one of the points of discussion as they made plans for this festival.

This particular effort seemed to have worked as parents brought their children to the temple and initiated them to the simple steps of doing a padha puja. "It was a very subtle and simple exercise," said B. Ramanakumar, a trustee. "Our senior members were at hand to sit with each child who wanted to participate."

Ramanakumar says that such efforts are needed to introduce children to the spiritual side of life.

The festival was an occasion for many residents of this area to dress up their sons or daughters as Krishna and bring them to Nandalala.

The thottil utsavam drew the largest audience; children were encouraged to stand around the symbolic cradle with baby Krishna and gently rock it even as music floated around the hall from the end where artistes hosted a concert.

Ramanakumar said 3,000 ladoos were shared with people on Krishna jayanthi day. Also, Trust volunteers gave guests 'vardhanam' packets with some grains of paddy and a coin, symbolising goodness and prosperity.

Basketball team of Lady Sivaswami Ayyar wins tourney school has launched

By Our Edit Team

The basketball team of Lady Sivaswami Ayyar Girls School, Mylapore were winners in the first basketball tourney that this school hosted at its courts for city school teams.

The final was held on September 9. Fifteen school teams participated.

The hosts beat the team of Chengalpattu Govt Higher Secondary School in an exciting match. The team of St. Kevins Anglo Indian Higher Secondary School, Royapuram was placed third, Rani Sampath, the school's physical director and coach Sampath have been coaching the Lady Sivaswami School team.

The school's Sumithra Devi was part of India's basketball team which played in a tourney for schools held in Serbia some months ago.

Said Janaki Gururajan, school headmistress: "We launched this tourney to give opportunities to our girls to compete with other teams to improve their skills and standing. We also want to encourage our other students to play basketball and be involved in sport."
