Aravind Eye Hospital's city centre opens in Mylapore's Nanjunda Rao Colony

By Our Edit Team

Aravind Eye Hospital's City Centre has opened its services in Mylapore's Nanjunda Rao Colony.

This centre, part of the famed Arvind Hospital network with headquarters in Madurai, was inaugurated on September 11.

Dr. Kumar Hariharan, MS, DNB, FRCS will head this centre where all investigations and tests related to eye ailments are done. People will have to go to the Poonamallee-based hospital only if they have to undergo surgeries.

Follow-up of the surgeries can be done here, said a staff at the Mylapore centre. Tests like Optical coherence tomography (OCT), Humphrey field analyser (HFA) and A-scan can be done here, for which there will be 'special' charges.

The Mylapore facility also houses an optical store and a medical store. High-quality spectacles can be bought here at nominal costs.

The staff said that people will be charged only Rs 100 for a complete eye check. Such people can continue their follow-up consultation here.

The centre tests people for short / long sight, sight affected by diabetes and other such complaints.

"We have opened this centre in Mylapore to save people the trouble of going all the way to our hospital in Poonamallee," said the staff.

The centre is open from 8.30 am to 5 p.m. (Monday to Saturday).

Doctors will be available throughout the working hours here.

Aravind Eye Care System has centres in 14 cities including Coimbatore, Dindigul, Salem, Tirunelveli and Tirupati.

Aravind City Centre is at No.1A, Nanjunda Rao Colony, off Venkatesa Agrahara Road (near Sai Baba Temple, behind Sri Krishna Sweets shop) Mylapore. Phones: 35356111/ 9171414085

MADE FRESH FOR YOU

VINCENT's JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

Long before the contractors of Chennai Metro took over the lawns and sections of the pavement and the service road of Marina Beach around Gandhi statue, the two restaurants below the lawns here were my refreshment space.

With some freshly-made sundal and steaming hot coffee, I would sit at one of the tables outside the food snack here and take in life around.

It was while heading to my hang-out on the Marina that I noticed this - when the sun had gone down, a group of men and women in their 60s and 70s settled down for a long chat on the lawns nearby.

The members of this group, all from the Mylapore and San Thome areas, met often on this lawn. Those who came here by car, would also transport a simple folding chair which they set on the lawns. Some of them carried tiffin boxes with light snacks or little packets of groundnuts.

I noticed that there was animated conversation and much laughter. And when darkness fell, the group members made their way home.

Recently, I read about Badai Bazaar spaces being started by the Malappuram Municipality in north Kerala. The civic body had realised that while the community of seniors was growing, they were either losing spaces where they could meet or they were looking for spaces where they could converse and make new friends.

The word badai, I am told, means bragging or boasting in the Malayalam slang. So these Badai Bazaars (the first was launched recently) are meant to be spaces for seniors to while away their time chatting and bragging! And get some fresh air. This space is open through the day and newspapers and magazines are provided. And people have begun to patronise this space.

Last week, a teacher at Queen Mary's College was sharing details of a Scrabble Contest that the college was organising in association with the American Centre. Over the year past, this college has been skilling its students in this word game, with the guidance of a professional and hundreds of girls have not only shown interest but are now, fairly good at the game.

This teacher then said that perhaps Scrabble games could be organised in neighbourhood parks and seniors invited to indulge in them so they could not only get engaged but also meet people and chat.

Clearly, with the growing and large community of seniors around us, the city's civic body, some voluntary bodies and citizens must initiate measures for seniors to just meet, chat and laugh freely in a corner of a public space, perhaps in a park.

Take the larger Mylapore zone. There are open spaces like parks in Alwarpet and R. A. Puram, in Luz and in CIT Colony and in Mandavelipakkam.

A start can be made by volunteers at these spaces - I am sure Chennai Corporation will not mind these initiatives as long as they are voluntary and open to all. Board games materials can be made available here. Perhaps, some magazines and light books too - for those who wish to read. Start with a 'every Sunday' kind of meet-up. See through the first weeks of this programme and then let some seniors manage it.

'Overflowing' sewage: Salai Street zone

Sewage keeps overflowing on to the street at the Salai Street junction, Mylapore very near Ananti Apartments. School students and the elderly passing through Salai Street and Sundareswarar Street are finding it very difficult to walk here. The sewage clearance tanker lorry visits this area once a month and removes the drainage water. This has been going on for years, with no permanent solution provided. GCC / Metrowater must look at this issue seriously.

Aavin's staff in Alwarpet not customer-friendly

On Sept. 8, our house-help went to get our milk card at Aavin office at C P Ramaswamy Road. The office staff refused to issue milk cards against cash and insisted on electronic payment. Subsequently, I went to the office at 10.30 am, to buy the cards against my credit card. This time, they refused to issue cards stating that new cards can be issued only against production of the 'live' card.

Though I showed him the existing card on my phone with serial number and other details, they refused to issue the same. Though I told them that I am 71 years old, they behaved rudely and did not issue the card. Having stood in the Q on their staircase for more than 45 minutes, I returned empty-handed. Does Aavin want us to go to private companies?

Remove this vehicle, GCC

A road-laying vehicle has been parked on 2nd Main Road, East Abhiramapuram for the last two years. It is hindering traffic and has also become a mosquito breeding place. I request GCC, which is on a drive to remove all such vehicles, to remove it at the earliest.

- R. Shanmugam

Battered streets of CIT Colony need to be relaid

It is heartening to note that Chennai Corporation contractors have been scraping the top layers of CIT Colony First Main Road and Sixth Cross Street and will relay these streets.

We hope all the battered streets of CIT Colony will be re-laid. The condition of 2nd Main Road and Fifth Cross Street is so bad that it has resulted in some motorists falling off their two-wheelers. Incidentally, 5th Cross Street also has a Children's Park where many parents bring their tiny tots in two wheelers and this street definitely needs to be relaid.

Teachers Day coverage

The essence of Teachers Day in some Mylapore schools was well covered in Mylapore Times recently. As a retired teacher I enjoyed the feature very much and recollected my energetic, enthusiastic days on campus.

MY STORY

A teacher. And a Headmistress now

By K. G. PUSHPAVALLI

I joined Lady Sivaswami Ayyar Girls Hr. Sec. School in Mylapore in 1999, as a post-graduate assistant in maths. After 24 years of service in this school, I was promoted as its Headmistress in July 2023.

As a maths teacher, my focus was on the subject.

Our school is 155 years old and most of our students come from lower socio-economic background and are first generation learners too. So, when I taught maths, I had to do this in a way that my students easily grasped what I was teaching them. I had to be patient and I did not get tough with them. I did not want to use force and I did not load them with homework too. So my girls did well in class tests and in the final exam.

In fact, I can proudly say that my students went on to study maths at the under-graduate and post-graduate level and many have become maths teachers.

As teachers, we have to be role models. While the girls would get attached to you, we also ensured that there was a space between us. This relationship got positive.

And though some of us may have had to deal with issues that adolescents face at this age, I found the girls in my class were happy and enjoyed classroom study.

But the pandemic left a big impact on us all. Students found maths tough and somehow managed to pass the public exam. But I feel the study of maths suffered.

Today, as the Headmistress of the school I am focussing on a few things.

I want to ensure that the school and the students continue to carry on the legacy that this school is known for. I also see the need to coach the students in the mid-school level who seem to be affected by the pandemic years disturbance.

So, we now have a few 'old students' of our school and a retired teacher taking special classes for girls of Std.6. These classes are held every morning. We will also provide similar coaching to students in Std.7 and 8.

My focus and that of our teachers is to improve the reading and writing skills in Thamizh and in English and their math skills.

I am also sharing my thoughts with our teachers on what needs to be done from time to time. Some of our students hail from poor families, broken families, disturbed families. They are children of daily-wage earners and hawkers and maids.

They face many issues at home and around them and this is also seen in their behaviour inside the school. We understand why this happens and we keep addressing such issues. Their language and their behaviour has to be addressed but our teachers handle this in a mature manner. These are sensitive issues, after all.

I communicate with our teachers all the time. I share messages on the WhatsApp group. Or I meet and brief the assistant HMs and they in turn talk to the teachers. Our teachers are the 'second mothers' for many students.

Sewage leaks off St. Mary’s Road are regular feature. Residents say Metrowater takes only ‘quick-fix’ action

By Our Edit Team

Residents of Jeth Nagar are complaining that the leaks from a mainline sewage carrying pipe on St. Mary’s Road is polluting the area. They say this has been happening for past five months.

This week, the sewage was seen flowing into the colony from the main road and over time, it dried up. Resident Vijayalakshmi says that this problem keeps repeating - the sewage water flowed into Ammani Ammal Street via Arunachalam Street this week. She says that the leak has taken place at least on four days in the past four months.

Social activist Ravi N., of Jeth Nagar says that the residents have escalated this issue right up to the MD of Metrowater but the staff at Unit 124 carry out only ‘quick-fix’ measures when the sewage overflows. He says sewage runs to full volume in the pipes in this nagar and they burst when the load is heavy.

Sri Kapali Temple has been organising music concerts after the pradosham rituals at the temple. On Sept.12 evening, after the pradosham rituals and procession, a Carnatic music concert was held - it was a unique one, for all the artistes are women.

Senior percussionist Sukanya Ramgopal who plays the ghatam and konnakol, led this group which is called Sthree Taal Tharang.

Hawkers have set up stalls on North Mada Street, Mylapore to sell images of lord Ganesha for Sri Vinayaka Chaturthi festival. Prices range from Rs.50 to Rs.3000.

Tent Kottai series . . .

The Tent Kottai series, a live event, has been curated by artiste Revathi Sankaran – she chooses to focus on one popular artiste of Thamizh cinema of the 1950s / 60s, talks about the star and screens film sequences starring the popular filmstar.

Humour Club presents this series. Last Sunday evening (Sept.10) at the TAG-MFAC sabha hall, Revathi anchored the third show in this series, with the focus on superstar of the past, M. K. Thyagaraja Bhagavathar.

Revathi shared anecdotes and less-known snippets on the star and on his films. For seniors who grew on vintage cinema and were at the sabha hall, this show was just what they wanted on a Sunday evening.

Snacks for Vinayaka Chaturthi. Order here in R. A. Puram

By Our Edit Team

Deepam Sweet and Karam shop in R. A. Puram offers freshly made traditional food for Sri Vinayaka Chaturthi.

Shop owner R. Maniraju, who launched this shop three years ago, says he has been busy procuring the ingredients to make authentic foodstuff. Every Vinayaka Chaturthi season, Maniraju's team prepares sweet kozhukattai, kara kozhakattai, paal kozhukattai, sakkarai pongal and sundal.

He says, "Companies order in bulk and take it a day before the festival, for their puja in the office. People buy on the festival day for their puja at home."

The prasadam items will be ready by 7.30 am on the festival day (or even before, you need to call and check), he adds. The cost of a set of four sweet kozhukattai is Rs 60.

Day of Thanks

If there was one lively zone at the CSI Saint Thomas Tamil Church premises in San Thome last Sunday (Sept.10), it was the food sales section. There was a variety of food on offer, prepared by families and served by volunteers. This was part of the annual Thanksgiving Day that was celebrated by the church community.

The plans were made by pastor Rev. Dr. Y. Sailas Gnanadoss and the pastorate committee comprising secretary Esther Jebaraj and treasurer Samuel Swamikkan. That morning, after the church service, people spilled outside to check out the stalls selling stuff, to indulge in some fun games and then tucked in the snacks. Families were also asked to donate clothes, books, household articles or kitchen items, which were auctioned to raise funds for church projects.

This Krishna jayanthi was special for little Ved's big family

By Our Edit Team

The 16-month-old Ved Ram Narayan, the child of Ram and Sneha who are based in Dallas, Texas, USA took on the look of lord Krishna for Sri Krishna jayanthi and was everybody's attraction in the Mandaveli apartments where this family is residing on a visit here.

The child's great grandparents and his grandparents stay together at Manasva Apartments on Thiruvengadam Street. And the seniors were happy to have the child around at festival time.

The great grandparents are Ramachandran (98) and Meenakshi Ramachandran (93). "We performed thatha's kanakabhishekam in October 2022 at Manasva, after Ved was born (4th generation)," said his mother Sneha.

The grandparents are Chandrashekar (67) and Sowmya Chandrashekar (59).

Said Sneha, "We are here for a vacation so Ved can spend quality time with his grandparents.

We are glad we could celebrate Avani Avittam and Janmashtami during this visit."

Mylapore Sai Samiti celebrates its anniversary

Reported by Malini Kalyanam

On September 10, the Mylapore Sai Samiti unit community celebrated its 55th anniversary in Mylapore.

The day commenced at 5 a.m. with the Nagara Sankeerthan, with members singing bhajans as they walked down the Mada Streets around Sri Kapali Temple.

The other events were held at a hall at Lady Sivaswami Ayyar Girls School.

The Bal Vikas children enthralled the audience with skits, music and recitation of the Vedas.

The state president of the Sathya Sai organisation, S. R. Chandrasekaran, a Mylaporean, addressed the gathering and congratulated the children on the performance of ashta pushpangal .

After the mangala arathi, narayana seva took place .

Many senior Sai devotees, including former custodian of 'Sundaram' Sai Temple in R. A. Puram, S. V. Iyer, participated. The Samiti members meet at the school's hall, every Saturday for bhajans at 6 p.m. Those who wish to join the Samiti can attend the weekend bhajans.

The 78th birth anniversary of mridangam vidwan, late Kaaraikkudi Mani, was marked with a special concert on September 11 evening, featuring internationally-known artistes. Artistes Louis Banks, Shivamani, B. V. Balasai, Embar S. Kannan, Suresh Vaidyanathan and Bangalore Amrit performed at Narada Gana Sabha auditorium, Alwarpet. This event was hosted by Sruthi Laya Kendra, founded by the late vidwan, in association with Narada Gana Sabha.

Children soaked in Sri Krishna jayanthi spirit with stories and singing at this event

By Our Edit Team

The serene by-lane of Luz Avenue echoed with rhythmic songs and chants on lord Krishna at the recently held Janmashtami workshop, curated by Baala Vidhya and held at Sprouts Montessori School.

The little ones, attired as Krishna and Radha, and their mothers watched an interactive musical and listened to stories based on the lord, narrated by Deepa V, who runs this initiative in MRC Nagar.

Subeeksha, a mother, whose child was present said, "The narration with the use of props and dance was very expressive and catchy. My child remembered the stories after returning home as well."

Shravya, whose older daughter has attended earlier workshops on other themes, said, "I too, learnt some new stories about the greatness of Krishna along with my child." Deepa holds camps and events based on Indian culture regularly, for children. Contact 9080782535
