Kolu bommais

The first lot of hawker shops selling kolu bommais have opened on North Mada Street, Mylapore. Many are now compact stalls and there is some order in the display.

Besides the sets of traditional bommais, there are few 'theme' sets of men playing traditional games, a football team and a wedding party.

Hawkers say that the best lot of bommais should be on sale from this week-end. Prices though are stiff.

Facilities in sciences at Vivekananda College upgraded Management requests alumni to fund future projects

By Our Edit Team

The Ramakrishna Mission Vivekananda College, Mylapore has upgraded its scientific instrumentation facility.

In a media release, the college said the upgrades are in multi-channel electrochemical workstations, gel imaging system, high resolution trinocular and inverted microscopes with imaging and cell incubators to name a few.

Also, the college's conference hall and other infrastructure has been upgraded.

A new ICT-based 120-seater conference hall facility that enables students to seamlessly engage in online learning has been set up. In support of green initiatives, the college has installed a 180kW solar power generation system.

The college management said that all these were made possible with the CSR funding provided by ONGC, New Delhi.

Under-grad, post-grad and research students of chemistry, plant biology and plant biotechnology, physics and advanced zoology and of biotechnology are now benefited with the upgrades.

Said Swami Dhyanyagamyana, secretary of the college, "The study curriculum has also been adequately revised to include the study of the latest theory and practice using the latest instrumentation facilities."

The college management said that a small alumni group has 'dedicated itself to the development of the department of chemistry and has contributed Rs.25 lakhs rupees for upgrading the PG and research lab infrastructure.'

This group has more plans for the college. Swami Dhyanyagamyana requests the alumni community and the well-wishers of the college to support the institution.

VINCENT'S JOTTINGS

By VINCENT D' SOUZA

So, let us celebrate International Democracy Day. 2500 kms across Karnataka; let's create a human chain. This takes place on a recent Sunday morning.

I am in Mangalore and find myself on its sidelines, observing.

School heads send off a message on the working Saturday - to teachers (all) and students (some) - you must report on the highway end by 9 am.

Can I take off?

Church service, asks a teacher

No please.

On Sunday morning: police line up on and off the highway. Traffic gets 'redirected'.

Scores of students and teachers and nuns walk down to their allocated points on Highway 66.

At the appointed time, they all hold hands - for democracy.

There are students who haven't had breakfast. Teachers who have abandoned family meet-ups. Police who haven't a clue.

And all of them hold hands because the state decided it had to be done.

What's happening today?

Students have vague answers.

In a local park, a mela is on - artistes on stage, musicians around. The Mayor's car is there. Some police officer's car too. Many Congressmen too.

The Democracy celebration is over; past 10 a.m.

Viva.

In Chennai, for Democracy Day, activist Charu Govindan has a social media post. Her focus is on the area and ward Sabha meetings. Which are to be held regularly; an interface for the local councillors, state officials and people.

Not many meets have been held as laid out.

Councillors say others are busy, others say they are busy and residents have no clue what these meetings are all about.

Why, many do not even know who a councillor is, what his / her role is and how a citizen can play a meaningful role in grassroots democracy.

We live in cocoons, self-serving, self-sufficient and selfish.

With new tech, we are online commentators, warriors, 'like'-minded.

Maybe we would like to vote on social media and be done with it? Maybe we can have area Sabha meets on Zoom?

Bommais bought on Mada St. in 60s still good

We used to buy bommais for our Kolu in the 1960s to 1970s from Mylapore's stalls.

We still have them with me; they are in a very good condition.

- Prasuna Netrakanti

Bommais: where to buy in Bangalore?

Any idea where we can purchase kolu bommai in Bangalore apart from Giri Traders?

I have recently relocated from Chennai and am missing Mylapore kolu bommai market!

- Pragati Malligaraj

Kolu tradition is strong

Inspite of modern thinking and changing lifestyle, there is a rush to buy bommais and this seems better than what it was in my childhood days.

Same kolu sets are now available in the USA also.

- Ganesan Vaidyanathan

A slice of P. S. history

I read a news report in Mylapore Times about P S Charities and its schools. P. C. Shekar was the correspondent in the initial stages. He was a senior officer in an insurance company and father of P. C. Ramakrishna, the famous T V news reader and theatre actor-director. Shekar was instrumental in bringing insurance as a subject in P S Senior Secondary School.

Make C. P. Ramaswamy Road 'two-way'

The stretch of C P Ramaswamy Road from Bill-roth Hospital to Winners Bakery has been designated as one-way for more than a year now. Motorists are forced to take the narrow by-lanes of Abhiramapuram or the route through 2nd Main Road, Chamiers Road and TTK Road. When the road is broad enough to accommodate two-way traffic and there is no Chennai Metro work or any other work happening on this stretch, the authorities should consider opening it for two-way traffic.

- R. Haripanth

CIT Colony: remove barricades, flower pots in public spaces

The members of CIT Colony Residents' Welfare Association have petitioned the additional commissioner of police (Traffic), DC Traffic and DC E1 Police Station to remove the illegally erected barricades, no-parking boards, flower pots, sandbags and stones in their colony on Bishop Wallers Avenue, 1st Main Road and many such places. These are compounding the problem of parking and reducing the road width considerably. There is a HC directive on this.

MY STORY

Dance lessons in the drawing room. 50 years ago

By CHITRA VISWESWARAN

I started teaching Bharatanatyam in Kolkata when I was 16. There, I had learnt from one of the last devadasis, T. A. Rajalakshmi who practiced the Thiruvaidaimarudhur stream of the Thanjavur bani.

After I finished my graduation, my mother and I relocated to Chennai in 1970. I came under the doyen guru Vazhuvoor Ramaiyya Pillai for advanced training in Bharatanatyam; this was from 1970 to '74. Amma and I relocated just for my dance.

Because I had learnt Rabindra Sangeet, Rabindra Nritya and Kathak, and also studied theatre, lighting and design, working under the great Tapas Sen, the experience made me have a multi-pronged approach.

In Chennai though, I was totally into dance as a performer. But teaching had always been a passion for me. Maybe because I come from a family

(on my father's side) of academics, professors and engineers.

I married in 1972 and my parents, Rukmini Padmanaban and N. Padmanaban motivated me to start an institution. My husband was also fully in support of that. Those days setting up a formal institution was not that common. And that was the time, we were learning from nattuvanars and from teachers who didn't belong to the community.

Was starting an institution difficult? Never in dance. You were doing what you love. It was challenging rather than being difficult. A woman from our community to take up dance full-time and then to set up an institution and aim to build a very unique repertoire . . . it was a big challenge. But I enjoyed it all.

The idea for Chidambaram Academy of Performing Arts (CAPA) was fleshed out in our drawing room. I didn't have a separate building for the institution. We couldn't use terraces - terraces are pretty hot in Chennai. Anyhow, the drawing room was my first classroom. It then shifted, subsequently, to a dance hall which was added on the first floor. It was actually added by my parents. They gave up their privacy and gave up their home for dance. And now we have very beautiful studio space on the second floor.

My first batch of students . . . I think I had 7 or 8 students in the first batch. As tiny tots, they used to come here and many of them, of course, have grown up and gone to be in various professions and some have remained in dance.

As soon as I had finished my dance training with the great Vazhuvoorar, my performance career started picking up. I was a very busy performer - often, there were as many as 20 performances in a month. I was touring a lot. But that was not as strenuous as working on a new pedagogy, finding new avenues.

I was choreographing all my pieces. The repertoire was entirely choreographed by me. So it was challenging. But I loved standing up to that challenge.

● Chitra Visweswaran is a well known classical dancer. CAPA, her academy in Alwarpet, is celebrating its 50 years now.

Silent Reading session in Park comes alive with children abuzz

By Our Edit Team

Last Sunday, (Sept.14), the regular Silent Reading Movement meet turned out to be a 'Not-So-Silent' one at Nageswara Rao Park, Luz.

Host Balaji said that the park turned into "a delightful chaos", with children enthusiastically grabbing books, flipping pages, and joining in the Onam storytelling and Pookalam sessions.

Said Balaji, who was fretting at the low attendance of children at the meets held here, "We realised that probably the secret to getting kids into books is simple—tell them a story, show them a few colorful pictures, and before you know it, they're reading!"

On Sunday, adults also joined the fun and enjoyed the storytelling session

DO YOU HAVE OLD KOLU DOLLS AT HOME?

Mylapore Times wants to do a story on Mylaporeans who have kolu bommais made in the 1950s/60s/70s. So if you possess even two or three vintage bommais which we can photograph, contact the newspaper - talk to Shanthi or Neela at 24982244.

KOLU DOLLS SALE IN ALWARPET

A kolu bommai show and sale is on at C. P. Art Centre hall, Eldams Road, Alwaroet now. Dolls from Chennai, Karnataka, Kolkata and AP are on display. These include the famed Chennapatna and Kondapalli dolls. Prices range from Rs.200 to Rs.400. The sale is on till Oct.9.

Himalaya's Juices

Luz Circle was known for some iconic restaurants and shops.

The one for cool drinks and fruit juices was Himalaya.

It was located near where Hotel Sukha Niwas stands today.

Pre-made juices would be stocked in fridges here. Their speciality was grape juice. I cannot describe that juice to you; rich grapes would float in the juice.

You paid 50 paise for a glass of juice.

There were a dozen chairs inside but you hardly got the chance to sit - it was so busy.

Just as how Kalathi's rose milk has been famous this far, so was Himalaya's grape juice.

Mylaporeans in the 1950s/60s surely enjoyed the juices here.

I recall the day when my sister brought me to Himalaya.

She asked me what I wanted. I said - Masala Dosa. Everybody around laughed. Since then, I had to be taken to Himalaya.

Later, the shop moved to the popular Shanti Vihar Complex in Luz and shut down some years later.

I wonder if we can reconnect with the family who ran that business.

The Onam festival decoration contest organised by Mylapore Times attracted over 25 entries. From small, compact flowers-rich pookalam to larger decor with flowers, lamps and lights, each entry was an effort made by the family.

One decoration used limited packs of fresh flowers imaginately while another used two traditional brass lamps and a third, used flowers, fruits and leaves to broaden the decoration.

Here are the winners –

1. Sudha Vetri / R A Puram
2. Sandhya K Krishnan / K B Dasan Road, Alwarpet.
3. Latha Suresh / Greenways Road Extn., R A Puram.

4. Pushpa Janardhan / Dr. Ranga Road, Mylapore.
5. Dr Harini R / R A Puram

Prizes were handed over to the winners this past week. The prizes were sponsored by Hari store, Luz; Rex Fashions, Luz; Inch Fit fitness, Alwarpet; JFA store; Deepam Sweets, R A Puram and Children's Choice, Luz.

NEW DRAINS, YES. WHAT ABOUT THE CANAL?

By Our Edit Team

New storm water drains are being constructed in some areas of Mylapore which are prone to flooding during the monsoon season.

These drains are to drain the water into the Buckingham Canal.

So what is the state of this Canal now?

Surely not a Canal that can take loads of water.

We looked at the Canal at three key points.

Off Balakrishnan Street, a street where flooding badly affected ground floor houses and flats last monsoon.

There is no muck in the dirty water here. But the water path is narrow; there is evidence that men and machines have dredged this section.

Off Kalvivaru Street. Machines are at work. But the water in the Canal is still and the pathway is narrow.

Off the bridge near Saibaba Temple. Muck and garbage floats and bloats the Canal here. Water is stagnant. This section will receive the water from the new drain that is being constructed in Justice Sundaram Road and East Abiramapuram zone.

Kolu bommais: info on Mada St. hawkers

Mylapore Times is putting out a Kolu bommai sales post on Saturday morning (Sept.21) to help people who are keen to buy dolls on Mada Streets but are not Mylapore residents.

In the first of this series, five/six hawkers and their stalls will be featured online, with their contact phone numbers and facilities they offer regarding shopping, shipping, etc.

The newspaper is not responsible for any shopping deals/transactions and is only taking the first step to connect readers and hawkers.

Not Just A Joke Book

JOKES TO BRIGHTEN YOUR DAY WITH REFRESHING LAUGHTER, INSIGHTFUL MESSAGES, AND THOUGHT-PROVOKING INFORMATION.

S RAMKUMAR

Dive into a world where every page promises a burst of laughter and a moment of joy! "Not just a joke book" is not just a book—it's your passport to endless amusement. Whether you're looking to brighten a dull day, entertain friends at a gathering, or simply find a reason to smile, this ultimate joke collection has got you covered. Remember, life is better when you're laughing!

Writing a Joke...is not a joke! Writing a Joke Book too is not a Joke, but many jokes! Ramkumar, is a Humorist who has always excelled in rendering funny anecdotes to me from real life scenarios! In this book i admire his focus on maintaining a suspense, punchline in most jokes, plus exercising care to be clean and witty in joke content, so that even oldies, kids...and even kidnappers enjoy the joke style! Read the book on your bedside, wake up with laughter, and make sure your day is funny with the Lafter Effects!

– Bosskey, Stand-up comedian

Ramkumar, the world may think, is a person who's quite serious and reserved. With his calm demeanor and thoughtful expressions, he often gives the impression of a man deeply engrossed in the weighty matters of life. However, those who have had the privilege of knowing him beyond his public persona are well aware of the delightful paradox that defines him.

It is this lesser-known side of Mr. Ramkumar that you are about to discover in this wonderful compilation. With a collection of humorous instances, jokes and witty moments, he invites readers to join him in celebrating the lighter side of life. Each page is a testament to his belief that humor is not just a distraction from the seriousness of life, but an essential part of it.

– Krishnan Akhileswaran, CFO, Apollo Hospitals

Ramkumar, an electrical engineer, spent over 25 years in the turnkey interior industry for corporates and showrooms. Believing that satisfied desires do not motivate people anymore, he decided to dedicate his time and energy to social service. In 2010, he joined the Theosophical Society, Ramakrishna Mutt. His unique strength lies in helping others, with kindness being his guiding principle. He has written numerous articles on life and living for publications such as Infinithoughts, The Theosophist, and Wake Up India.

ONAM MOOD ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

The campus of Dr. MGR-Janaki College of Arts and Science for Women in R. A. Puram turned into a Onam celebration mela zone on September 13.

Some 4,000 students are said to have soaked in the Onam festivities. Students from the M.A. Natya Department and from the college's Entrepreneurial Cell organised and managed a series of dances and the Onam sadya (which was more of a street food on sale zone).

Dr. Kumar Rajendran, chairman of the college said that the college celebrates many festivals in a grand manner to expose students to various cultures.

That Friday, the campus re-sounded to the music of the chenda melam and girls got to watch kai kotti kali and Mohini Aatam dances besides acts of Puli Kali and Kerala nadanam.

A beautiful boat setting on campus added to the Onam mood. Students were encouraged to wear the Kerala style of sarees and later, sampled the special food laid out at counters.

Teen Vasudha's art gets appreciated in Busan

By Our Edit Team

Vasudha Gopinath, a Mandaveli resident and a Class 9 student at Sri Sankara Senior Secondary School, Adyar, was recently in Busan, South Korea, a trip she earned by excelling in an art contest.

She had demonstrated her artistic skills in an art competition organised by the Indo Korean Cultural Centre (InKo), based in R. A. Puram.

She won a silver medal in the competition, which saw participation from over 80 schools. She was one of 20 Indian students selected to represent India in the international art competition in Busan, South Korea.

In Busan, Vasudha earned a certificate of excellence for her art.

The Busan competition, organised by K-Art International, was a valuable experience for Vasudha.

She says she and her fellow participants got opportunities for cross-cultural interactions with students from South Korea and Japan.

Vasudha's family is thankful to her art teacher Priya Natarajan, school art teacher Usha, school principal Vidyalakshmi for honing her skills.

She lives in Thiruvengadam Street, Mandaveli.

This church community auctioned gifted articles to raise funds for projects

By Juliana Sridhar

CSI Church of the Good Shepherd in Mylapore held its annual Thanksgiving Festival on September 8.

The day began with the Thanksgiving service in the church. Members of the church put up stalls in the church campus to sell homemade eatables and handmade products.

Each family was asked to contribute one article and take one article home at the auction. Members brought in sarees, clothes, kitchen utensils, household items and fruits. These articles were auctioned.

A number of food stalls were put up by fellowship groups and families.

The proceeds of the auction as well as the proceeds from the sales from the stalls will be used for charity work and for maintenance of the church.

The event was organised by the church pastor Rev Enose Magimaidas and the pastorate committee members led by secretary K.Sudhakar Immanuel and treasurer E.Sughirson.

Send kolu bommai abroad via India Post at Mylapore

By Our Edit Team

Mylapore Post Office has begun handling shipping abroad kolu bommais.

The past week, one local store ran a bill of Rs.2.50 lakh in shipping bommais to the West.

"This shop booked 30 boxes in two days," said a postal staff.

Be it one single bommai or a set, the staff at the International Counter here can even pack the dolls for a small fee.

The counter is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A packet reaches the USA in 7 to 12 days.

200 countries are serviced by India Post.
